YOUNG LIBERAL CONVENTION.

Apart from the general election, which may be expected immediately after the completion of the voters' lists, one of the most important events of 1895, politically, will be the convention of young liberals, to be held in Toronto in January. Heretofore general party conventions have been held at irregular intervals, and, as in the case of the great Ottawa convention of 1893, at the call of the party leaders, who have been required to assume too much responsibility in connection with the management of the forces fighting under their leadership. The intention of the promoters of the present convention is that it shall be the means of forming a permanent organization, operating upon the principle of the national liberal federation of Great Britain, and like it holding annual conferences for the discussion of the position of public business and the relation of the party thereto. The conventions of the national liberal federation are held in various cities, where the presence of a large number of leaders of political thought is calculated to and often does promote a sort of political revival. The discussions at these conventions are the best evidence of the popular feeling, not in a few centres of population only, but all over the country. That it is a federation fashioned on this principle the young men expect to organize, is shewn by the call sent out by the young liberals of Toronto, to clubs throughout the country. The best interests of the country would be served by enlisting the young men on the side of good government and in support of a policy determined upon in open convention after full discussion.

As a central organizing body, a medium for the diffusion of political literature and a headquarters for liberal speakers during a campaign, the proposed federation would be valuable.

APPEAL TO THE PEOPLE.

The council, at its meeting last evening, wisely referred the report of the joint committee, in regard to work for the unemployed, to the board of works for its consideration; and if the recommendations contained therein are approved they will be sent to the people, in the form of by-laws, and be voted on by them.

There is the danger of so many schemes being projected that the electors will reject them all. The idea, originally, was to look up some public work which, being a necessity and done in winter, would help out of their distress a great many of the unemployed. But the original idea has been lost sight of, and the bad example set by some persons in Frontenac ward, by their meeting and their talk, has had its effect upon others, in other wards, until now so many things have been suggested that public opinion is disturbed.

The board of works has a plain duty to discharge. It has to select one, and certainly not more than two, of the proposed drains, and having before them the evidence that they are demanded in the public interests and cannot be built on the local improvement plan, submit a by-law, authorizing them, to the vote by the people. Some of the proposed drains and streets may not be urgently needed, and work on some of them may not be practicable in the winter season, and certainly the whole of them should not be undertaken at an expense at forty per cent. above what they can be constructed for in the summer season. There is such a thing as spoiling a movement by the excesses in connection with it; and an apparent desire to aid the unemployed men will be defeated by local jealousies and local competitions for public favor.

Assuredly there will be a general slaughter of the by-laws suggested, one for each piece of work, as such a proceeding will invite an outbreak of the pent-up feelings of district against district, so that the unemployed will be the sufferers in place of the benefited eventually.

Such is the conviction of men who know something of the public pulse, and who, in predicting a rejection of confusing measures, have no interests to serve but those of the whole people.

RELIGION IN THE SCHOOLS.

Several prominent clergymen, in Ontario, of different denominations, have been giving, of late, expression to the thought that religion should be taught in the public schools. The bible is read there, and there are devotional exercises every day, but these are not thought to be sufficient. So one authority goes on to remark:

"The Lord's prayer is universal; the words of the creed, which is put up in the Church of England, Roman Catholic and Presbyterian churches are exactly the same; the ten commandments are universal and are taught in all the Sabbath schools. Why could not these be added to by extracts from bible history; for instance, the story of the creation, the history of the Jews, the lives of the great men of the bible, and the daily history of Christ as contained in the gospels. Surely the christian denominations could join and agree upon certain verses which might be learned by heart in the schools, which would form a basis of christian knowledge taught the children in early days which would set a basis of right and wrong, honor and justice in the minds of the children. It would afterwards form a framework upon which the various colorings of thought might be added in the Sunday schools of particular denominational faith. It is not that religion should be put in the public schools, but that christian history, as contained in the common christian bible should be made as familiar to the children as the history of the characters of Britain, France or Canada."

The proposition seems to be a reasonable one, but it will be difficult of accomplishment. The Protestant churches cannot, it seems, unite upon a line of study for children. A great feat was accomplished when the scheme of international Sunday school lessons were adopted—a scheme that has grown until it is meeting the desires of millions—and still there are sections, of the Protestant church not in harmony with the other sections, and so not using and not reading the international lessons. Nothing more undenominational can be desired.

Then the Ross bible is called to remembrance. It represented an honest effort on the part of the minister of education to have select readings for the public schools, and it was made a ground on which the people were asked to declare a want of confidence in the government. The education of the children is one of the most important issues of the day, and one of the touchiest. The clergy who are preaching about it have not had Hon. Mr. Ross' experience to guide them, or perhaps they would have a different idea about text books. What they suggest is not unreasonable, but everything depends upon unity. And the Protestant churches are not united.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

If the medical council has to go—and the patrons demand it—what is to be done about regulating the medical profession? Who's going to test the qualifications of the embryo physicians? No patron, surely, wants an unlicensed artist to operate upon him.

* * *

The bishop-elect for New Westminster and the chosen provost for Trinity college having declined to accept the tendered positions, the question again arises, Is not Canada demeaning itself to beg men to come over from England and help us? Canadians trained in the ministry are greater successes than imported Englishmen. This will prove true in higher lines. Canada can supply bishops fully as well as statesmen and scientists.

WILLIAMS' CASE

All Good Pennsylvanians Rejoice Exceedingly Over It.

BRADFORD, Pa., Nov. 27.—The Buffalo alien labor crank, DeBarry, thinks that nothing good comes from Canada. He should have a talk with Mary E. Williams, of this city. Then he will make an exception in favor of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Her case was considered by local practitioners as incurable, and yet three boxes of this wonderful remedy effected a perfect and permanent cure. She suffered from diabetes for many months and could get no relief, much less a cure, until she used Dodd's Kidney Pills, and these made her well.

A Fight With a Deer.

Renfrew Mercury.

A correspondent writing from Restoule, under date of Nov. 10th, says: Allow me to occupy a small space in your valuable columns. The occurrence took place in the lumber woods where James McConnell is taking out sawlogs. This being the hunting season, it may be a caution or rather advice to huntsmen not to be too venturesome when their game is in a tight corner. I myself am in Mr. McConnell's employ. On the morning of the 7th Nov. we went to our work in the woods. At this season of the year Winchester rifles are in active service, especially for killing deer. But until November 7th. I never heard of or saw a person fighting and killing a deer with an axe. On the morning of the date mentioned, our head logmaker was going through the woods when he discovered that the top of a red pine tree was in his way. Crawling underneath the tree top, he found he had come onto a large deer. To his great surprise the animal gave a furious snort and looked around. It made a jump at the intruder; and then a fight for life followed. The animal struck at him with its front feet and tore his waist sash and then tried to gore him with its horns. But the logmaker being in a bad corner, and thinking he might be overpowered, called for help. James McConnell and Thomas Apted, who were working near the spot, heard the call for help and ran to see what was the matter. But when they got to the place of the fight, their assistance was not needed, for the conflict was finished. The logmaker had buried his axe in the animal's throat. He received no injury, excepting a bruise on the leg, where the deer struck him with its foot. Hoping this will find a place in your columns, I remain, yours truly—A SUBSCRIBER.

All competitors have been compelled to give way to Dr. Price's Baking Powder. All rivals have been forced to yield the palm.

The King Of The Forest.

One of the largest pine trees that has perhaps been cut for very many years in Ontario was that which succumbed to the woodman's axe the other day near Lowry's shanty on the Grimsthorpe limits in connection with T. Butler's Moira river operations of the Rathbun company. This mighty monarch of the forest grew in the shape of a crotch, and yielded fifteen logs. The butt log, the finest of the lot, scaled over fifty-three inches at the top, and measured over 1,200 feet of lumber. The first log of the crotch scaled thirty five inches, and the other thirty-three inches. The smallest log in the tree scaled eleven inches. The total contents of the tree in board measure are 6,000, thus making nearly twenty-nine standards.

A Great Battle.

Is continually going on in the human system. The demon of impure blood strives to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health, to drag victims to the grave. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the weapon with which to defend one's self. Drive the desperate enemy from the field, and restore bodily health for many years.

Hood's Pills cures nausea, sickness, indigestion and biliousness. 25c.

What Should Be Done.

At the annual meeting of the Ontario rugby union schemes will be brought forward to do away with the penalty kick within the twenty-five yard line. This is a good idea as it is too big a snap for a team to be given a free kick in front of the goal because of the opposing team happening to go off-side. Footballers would rather see the punishment changed to the forfeiting of so many yards. The distance could be left to the option of the referee as at times the off-side might occur very near the goal line.

The report of the finance committee was adopted.

Ald. Elliott submitted the report of the water works committee, and Ald. Gaskin the report of the committee on city property and markets, the particulars of both have been published. The reports were adopted.

The report of the special committee to consider work for the unemployed during the winter was presented by Ald. McKelvey and was referred to the board of works to prepare by-laws setting forth the works contained in the report. The by-laws will be considered at a special meeting of the council and will be submitted to the people for approval at the next municipal elections.

MOTIONS CONSIDERED.

Moved by Ald. Gaskin, seconded by Ald. Meek, that the board of works consider the matter of opening up Sydenham street from Brock to Princess streets, and submit a by-law at the next meeting of the council. This by law will also be voted upon by the electors.

Moved by Ald. McIntyre, seconded by Ald. Curtis, that the board of works be instructed to prepare a by-law for the opening up of a street from Victoria to Nelson street, between Princess and Johnston streets, and prepare a by law to be submitted to the people on Jan. 1st. Carried.

Moved by Ald. Meek, seconded by Ald Curtis, that the percentage on uncollected taxes be advertised three times in the WHIG and "News," and once in the "Canadian Freeman" and Kingston "Sun."

By-laws granting $2,400 to the collegiate institute board, authorizing the building of a walk opposite the Stanley House, and granting $1,200 to the public school board, were carried.

Ald. McKelvey objected to the passage of a debenture by-law for $1,200 to be given to the school board, while they had a valuable asset in the shape of the Gordon street school property. This property ought to be sold, so that the council might be prevented from running into debt. If the property were sold they would besides getting a price from it get a revenue from the land in the shape of taxes. His views were endorsed by Alds. W. Robinson and H. Richardson.

Ald. McKelvey moved a motion for the committee on the whole to rise. It was lost and the motion carried.

Ald. W. Carson pointed out that the carriage manufacturers, Messrs. McDermott, Laturney and Robinson, who applied for exemption and were granted it on conditions they could not meet, could apply for exemption from taxes before the county judge and get it on reasonable conditions. The aldermen said that the locomotive works company was granted exemption without conditions being specified, and the carriage manufacturers should be treated in the same way.

Ald. Wright asked Ald. Carson to tell the council how he voted on the locomotive works exemption by law. He charged Ald. Carson with leaving the chamber while the by-law was being passed.

Ald. McIntyre—"Probably Ald. Wright would like to see Ald. Carson's canvassing book?"

A discussion took place in reference to the settlement of suits with Messrs. Boyd and Grimshaw, market lessees who claimed damages for violation of the contracts on the part of the city.

Alds. Elliott, Behan, G. W. Robinson and McKelvey spoke against settling with Boyd.

The division on the matter was:

Yeas—Mayor Herald; Alds. Gaskin, Harvey, Horn, Meek, Mundell, McKelvey, McMahon, W. Robinson, Ryan, Skinner, Walkem and Wright, 13.

Nays—Alds. Allen, Behan, Carson, Curtis, Elliott, Martin, Richardson and G. Robinson, 8.

Mr. Boyd will get $100 and Mr. Grimshaw $20. The former's claim was $170 and latter's $50.

A LONG SIEGE.

How a Sufferer for Twenty Years Regained Health and Strength.

John A. Stewart, of Napinka, Man., a former well known resident of Stratford, Ont., writes:

"It gives me pleasure to give you a plain statement of what your Pink Pills have done for me. I have been troubled with a lame back for the past twenty years, caused by a strain while cradling wheat, and once or twice a year for four or five weeks at a time I would be completely laid up with it. I tried plasters and medicine, with such little benefit that at last I gave up all hope of ever getting better. In May, 1891, I first heard of Pink Pills. At that time I was laid up with a particularly severe attack which left me perfectly useless, as I could neither stand nor walk. All I could do was to be on my back, and it was in this condition I was when I was advised to try Pink Pills, by a man working for me. He had about half a box and at his urgent solicitation I began their use. Having began them I decided to give them a fair trial and procured more from Dr. Snider, and kept on taking them all summer. My recovery was slow, but after the first few weeks I could feel that I was getting better every week. By the fall I was perfectly well, and yet I feared that the cure might not be permanent as the trouble was of such long standing, but I am pleased to be able to say that after the lapse of so much time I have not had the slightest recurrence of the trouble, and am feeling in perfect health. I still use Pink Pills in the fall and spring as a tonic medicine, and find much benefit from them. I may say that there are number of others here who have been benefited by the use of your pills.

You are at full liberty to use this letter in any manner you choose for the benefit of suffering ones."

PALE PEOPLE MADE PINK

ROSY CHEEKS, BRIGHT EYES AND CLEAR COMPLEXION.

These Are the Indications of Health and Without Them You Do Not Know What May Come—The Babies First, Then the Children and Finally the Grown Persons—Know All Persons by Their Color.

When you look at a baby the first thing you notice is whether it has the glow of health in its cheeks. Without the rosy color on either cheek the baby shows signs of poor blood.

This same rule applies to everybody. Where is the man who does not admire rosy cheeks in a woman? Where is the woman who does not herself take pride in her heightened color when she comes in from a brisk walk in the crisp air? The flush of health cannot be duplicated by the use of complexion powders or any cosmetic.

Thousands and hundreds of thousands of rosy cheeks are due to Scott's Emulsion, the cream of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. The rich blood and the vital strength supplied by Scott's Emulsion, carry the message of health all over the world. The only trouble is that all pale faced people do not avail themselves of its nourishing properties. If they did they would not be pale and thin and listless. The proof of impoverished blood and disabled digestive organs is in the pale face or sallow complexion and lack of solid flesh. The proof of the effectiveness of Scott's Emulsion is in the rosy cheeks and return of vigor.

The babies who are benefited by Scott's Emulsion cannot always tell their story, but the beauty of it all is that they do not have to. Their fat, pink cheeks tell it for them, and when they put out their little hands to reach the Scott's Emulsion bottle their life, good nature and animation speak eloquently enough.

Were you ever in a sick room when the doctor came on his regular visit? What does he do first? He gives a searching glance at the face. He studies its expression and watches closely the look in the eyes. He takes this all in at a glance and then feels for the pulse beat. He knows well that the color and expression of the face will tell him much. And so it is with all people, whether ill or well. The pale face tells a story of depleted blood, and his condition is the very fountain-head of all the wasting diseases, like anæmia, scrofula, chronic rheumatism and consumption.

You can never tell just what form of disease depleted blood will result in. This depends upon the person. But you can always be certain that some serious ill will come when you cut off all the supply of the body's nourishment. The body is nourished through the blood. If the nourishing properties of food are not assimilated the body cannot be nourished and the whole machinery is crippled. Scott's Emulsion is the very essence of nourishment. It is effective when no other food is assimilated. It is the easiest, most palatable form of Cod Liver Oil and the Hypophosphites, which it also contains are a great aid to digestion and tonic for the nervous system. Scott's Emulsion is sold by all druggists.

Deseronto Despatches.

DESERONTO, Nov. 27.—The match factory is to have another new splitting machine. A couple of boys were caught stealing lumber from the west end of the yard and were promptly taken to the lock up. During the examination one of the boys gave the names of a number of persons living in that part of the town who were in the habit of keeping warm at the company's expense. One lad was given a number of years in the reformatory. It always did seem funny to me how some people could keep warm and do their cooking all winter with one load of wood.

While a young man named Oliver was "seeing her home" Friday night, three fellows overtook them, and having chased "Casey" across the field returned and insulted the girl. There will be law used to atone for her injured feelings. Wall, Covert has returned to Bath after visiting a week in town. At the Stuart house: Mrs. Milloy and son, Miss Inman, F. W. Choat, Montreal; A. M. Thompson, Geo. W. Ross, Toronto. At the O'Connor house: J. R. Smith, Montreal; Edward Perry, St. Catharines; Wm. White, Hamilton.

Will Gladstone come to America? It he comes he will find two-thirds of the people using Dr. Price's Baking Powder.
