ARCHDEACONS OR DEANS.

In the synod of Ontario last week discussion took place as to the position regarding missionary work of the rural deans of the diocese, and though these are, as a rule, doing a deal of valuable work without reward here below, it was apparent that members of the synod were not at all satisfied with this system of church government. The rural deans are officers of the bishop, without pay and without allowance for expenses, and the result is, they cannot fully cover the work assigned to them, while the archdeacons are not able to make themselves as useful as they were designed to be, owing to the allotment of work to the deans. Long Island, N.Y., diocese has been in session, and has resolved on changes in canons by which the three deans of convocation are legislated out of office and three archdeacons are to be placed at the head of these convocations without parochial charge. They thus give their full services to the diocese for the benefit of missionary and other funds and purposes. This will some day be the resolve of the diocese of Ontario, even though division of diocese should soon occur.

BLACK KNOT.

The WHIG, in former years, has called attention to the spread in the neighborhood of Kingston of this fungus to plum and cherry trees. An act passed in the late session of the Ontario legislature authorizes municipalities to appoint inspectors for the extermination of this pest. Civic municipalities may be successfully urged to remove a plague at the cost of the necessary machinery, but to rural communities the greatest plague is a tax. The law will therefore be inoperative except where plum orchards add substantially to farm incomes. This might be the case in the vicinity of Kingston if attention had been timely directed to the riddance of black knots. The remainders of old plum and cherry orchards may be seen in many places in the form of scrubby thickets, so infested with black knot as to supply germs in sufficient quantity for the injury of a whole county. It is matter for lament that there is not a sufficient sense of the injury of this plague to those who desire to cultivate the fruits it destroys as to lead to the voluntary removal of every infected tree. There are weeds as well as fungus-bearing plum trees within the city limits, and it might be well to put the act in force here by having an inspector appointed. A petition from fifty ratepayers will make it the duty of the corporation to enforce the law.

THE "GUARDIAN'S" POSITION.

The "Christian Guardian" is the organ of Methodism in Canada, and therefore its position on the Dr. Douglass demand for the representation of his church in the government of Ontario is significant. It does not believe that Methodism is suffering by the exclusion of adherents from high office. On the contrary it says that "in many cases the political and official prominence of churches has been attended by a decline of spiritual power," and that it is not "a desirable thing for governments to try and secure the support of denominations by favoring them with appointments of office." It is thus in accord with the opinions of other journals on this subject. There is no one, not even Dr. Douglass, who will say that Sir Oliver Mowat should dismiss any of his colleagues to make way for Mr. Cox or Mr. Massey, who have been named as men of great financial skill and as representatives of the Methodist church. Mr. Cox and Mr. Massey may be regarded as phenomenally successful in business, but that business has not been of the political kind, and for it they may have no ambition or aptitude. Admitting that they were willing to serve the people in the government, have they given any evidence of administrative ability superior to that evinced by members of the government? Ontario is a great and well-governed province, and it has no desire that experiments should be made in the interests of any church and of the development of its political prowess. The WHIG is for a complete divorcement of church from state, for the obliteration of all religious lines in regard to the government of the country. To favor the Douglass movement is to give impulse to that which will add to the worries of the people without any compensating advantage.

JAMES STREET DRAIN.

A great deal of fault has been found with the corporation because the James street drain has not been built. The portion in connection with which a petition was presented for a local improvement drain runs from Patrick to Montreal street, and the difficulty about constructing a tile sewer lies in the fact that there is no outlet for the Montreal street drain. It was proposed to secure an escape for the sewage across the land belonging to Mrs. Allen, but she objected, and quite reasonably so. The only thing remaining to be done is to buy the right of way for a street all the way from Montreal to Rideau streets, crossing the land owned by Branigan and Nash, and calling for the removal of the houses belonging to the late John Holmes. The land can be obtained cheaply, but the houses cannot be removed intact and so the cost of the work (including the right of way and building of sewer) will be about $3,000. Such a sum is too large to be taken out of the general appropriations of the year and for the benefit of one small district, and it is a question of financing that is engaging the attention of the streets committee. The House of Industry property has drained into Montreal street and the sewage stagnating there has become such a nuisance that the city commissioner has had to direct its course and have it deposited for the time being in a pit upon the grounds. So far as this institution is concerned it is felt that it should have good drainage, but it was folly of the rankest kind to tap a drain which had not an outlet and which could therefore not be expected to drain the premises. With all reforms the WHIG is in sympathy, it wants to see good drainage, but at an expense which the city is able to carry conveniently. It is pretty well loaded with debt now.

THE CHICAGO FAIR.

Some of the Remarkable Things Noted by Our Correspondent.

(Special Correspondence.)

CHICAGO, June 26.—In the extreme southern one of the grounds is Prof. Putnam's anthropological show. Here is a heterogeneous collection of ethnological and archeological exhibits that will give the savants food for study. The glory of Greek arts is set forth in a valuable exhibit sent by the government of Greece. Curious phases of Roman, Russian, Austrian and early German art are shown. The hieroglyphics of Egypt and the cuneiform inscriptions of Assyria are shown. But from the states of South and Central America and from Mexico come the richest and most interesting collection of potteries, implements. Tlinket art is set forth by a showing from Alaska. The North American aborigines is not forgotten. There is a fine assemblage of grinning skulls and clean white skeletons. A showing of all forms of life from the protoplastic to the finished product man. The exhibit is not yet ready.

English exhibitors and visitors are in a pretty wrangle with Sir Henry Wood, secretary of the commission, because of his excluding everyone from Victoria house except on a pass issued by himself. The home government has been appealed to.

The Cingalese section in agricultural building has been thrown open and there all summer royal and enjoyable tea parties have begun, and this reminds us that any one so disposed can establish a free lunch site without trouble. Delicious biscuit, baked by baking powder exhibitors, are gratis, pickles and preserves by canners, fruit from the Pacific coast in abundance and tea in Ceylon and Japan.

Buffalo Bill's Wild West show, while it can hardly be regarded as a part of the exposition, is certainly one of the finest of its kind and does infinite credit to the master spirit. The full representation of the cavalry arms of Germany, France, England and the United States is a very attractive feature. The vaqueros of Mexico, the wild cossacks of the Don and our own wild inimitable cowboys do many marvellous things on their spirited horses and bronchos. The Indians are the best lot by odds that Col. Cody has ever brought together. The action throughout is spirited, but the grand marshalling of the entire force is a scene never to be forgotten and carries with it a suggestion of the pathetic. In a few years such shows will be impossible; the red man will have become a tradition, the cowboy's occupation will be gone. The "taint" of civilization is apparent in the cossack while long range and magazine guns have already rendered cavalry an ornamental rather than an essential arm of military service.

Of all the exhibits in the art palace that of Italy presents to the great mass of visitors the greatest attraction, while to the critic and connoisseur it is the least satisfying and invites his serious attention because of a painfully apparent lack of simplicity and force. Everything is sacrificed to the decorative prettiness in everything. There is finish to the last degree. In many of the smaller marbles and bronzes there is a touch of impressionism in the modelling, a promise of good, but never more than a promise. A large marble by Apolloni, called "American Mythology," is a nude female figure with a telephone ear phone at her ear, a pretty conceit, but if the figure is a modern telephone girl, the classic standard is not there. Literalness is to the fore. The life, the spirit, is brushed or chisseled or hammered out of everything. The ideal of the Italian school, if this is fairly representative, is of the earth earthy. But there is glitter and sjarkle, beautiful (pretty) coquettish faces, half hidden under transparent veils, and black houris, in white draperies, catching fleas; cherubs asleep in pretty shells done in marble. Flowers and vines and butterflies in iron; griffins, fawns, mermaids, shepherdesses, brigands and what not in bronze—a bright company enough, but all overgroomed. A large canvas, by Cabrini, of the landing of Columbus, while it possesses merit sufficient to warrant hanging, falls unmeasurably short of the dignity and loftiness of the theme. Without a title the canvas would suggest nothing but a fairly respectable burgher, of unknown age or lineage disembarking from a boat load of pirates, whether willingly or unwillingly is undiscoverable. Among the smaller bronzes, and in water colors, there are many real gems, things to look at the second time. But upon the whole the conviction is forced upon us that the spirit of the old masters no longer dwells in the clay of Italy.

A section of the "Blarney Stone" has been installed on the wall of the castle in the Irish village. It was unveiled by Mayor Harrison, who got the first kiss. It is open now for short, osculatory engagements. Over the stone is this inscription:

"This is the stone that whoever kisses
He never misses to grow eloquent,
A clever spouter he'll turn out,
Or an out-and-outer in parliament."

THE LITTLE ONES SAFE.

Science Has Solved the Problem.

For many years our best physicians have looked for an infant food that would contain all the nutritive properties sufficient to develop the child's bone, muscle and fat, and which would be digestible from the time of birth until the milk set of teeth were completed. Science has given such a food to the profession for the benefit of infants. Lactated Food combines all the wished-for properties to the highest extent. It has also the very valuable quality of overcoming irritability of the stomach and bowels, and overcoming constipation. It surpasses every other known food in these important points. Lactated Food fully meets every requirement of the young and tender infant, and very often is the agent that preserves life. The mother that neglects to use Lactated Food for her young babe, runs a fearful risk of losing it during the heated term. Thousands of little ones are now being consigned to the grave, owing to ignorance and carelessness in feeding. The best doctors are now urging mothers to use Lactated Food, as they are fully aware of its wonderful life-saving properties.

KEEPING THE STORES OPEN UNTIL ABOUT MIDNIGHT.

The News About Norwood—The Football Club Looking to Kingston For a Contest—The Officers of the Christian Endeavor Society—Movements of People.

NORWOOD, June 27.—County police magistrate Edminson held court here on Friday. A number of cases were brought up. John Hill, drunk and disorderly, was fined $1 and costs. Mrs. Bone was charged with having a house of ill-repute, and a man as being a frequenter, but neither parties appeared, there having been no summonses issued. They have evidently disappeared to parts unknown. Wm. H. Tucker and A. S. Harrison, bakers and confectioners, were charged by Chief Scriver with an infraction of the early closing by-law. The evidence was taken and judgment reserved to consider the by-law and the law affecting the case. Miss Jessie Munro, well-known in this vicinity, and laboring as missionary in Japan for the W.M.S. of the Methodist church, sailed for home last week. The journey will be about five weeks in duration.

One of the most injurious business habits known of is that of keeping stores open so late on Saturday night. Some stores in this town are often kept open till the late hour of midnight and it has the effect of very greatly decreasing the attendance at the services on Sunday of clerks and merchants. If the townspeople would only do their business before Saturday and allow the farmers to have the whole of Saturday for business it would be far more human-like. It is hoped the moral and upright citizens of our thriving borough will take action in the matter.

If the way in which the policy of the reform party, as laid down at the recent convention, is received in this locality has anything to do with the coming elections we are certain East Peterboro will return a liberal to parliament and there is no reason why they should not do so for the policy is one that every loyal Canadian should support. John Herring, about leaving this place for western Ontario, was presented with a nicely worded address by the Orangemen one evening last week. Mr. Herring has been one of Norwood's most prominent young citizens, having occupied the important position of councillor for a number of years. His removal will also be a great loss to the Methodist church of which he was a valued member.

Rev. Wm. Buchanan was confined to the house through illness last week. His pulpit on Sunday was occupied by Rev. Mr. Mahaffy, a student of the Presbyterian college, Montreal. The following resolution is published by request of the Norwood F.B.C.: "That whereas the Norwood football team is decidedly too strong for other teams in this district, it is not advisable in the interests of football to play the first eleven against teams in the county of Peterborough, but that the captain of the team be recommended to put on at least three-quarters of the number from the second eleven, and to play in all cases a team as nearly equal as possible to neighboring teams, reserving the first eleven to play only against crack teams from a distance." Secretary, D. M. Hunter. He would be pleased to hear from the Kingston team.

The Norwood team has the honor of defeating Varsity, Victoria, Trinity medical and other college teams. Robert Scott spent Saturday in Peterborough. He was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Ellie M. Scott. Rev. W. H. Stevens attended the meeting of the Peterboro association of the Baptist church at Lakefield last week. Mr. Stevens was appointed to the important position of clerk. The village council met last week. A number of accounts were ordered to be paid. An early closing by-law was passed. A rebate of $15 on pool table license was granted Messrs. Doherty and McGregor on the ground that "business has been very dull of late."

Rev. J. Gibson occupied the pulpit of St. John's church, Peterboro, a week ago Sunday. Rev. Canon Davidson occupied Mr. Gibson's pulpit. A junior society of christian endeavor has been organized in connection with the senior christian endeavor of the Methodist church, Norwood. The officers are: President, Eliza Fraser; vice-president, Frank Cox; secretary, Nellie Pearce; assistant-secretary, Fred Buck; treasurer, Willie Hampton; superintendants, Miss Lily M. Scott and Miss L. Carter.

ODESSA OCCURRENCES.

The News of the Week—A Marriage In the Village—Other Notes.

ODESSA, June 27.—The farmers come up smiling every time now. The rains of Sunday and Monday nights were just what they were wishing for; crop prospects now are good. The township council held a regular session on Monday, 26th, engaged principally in routine business; Ogden Hinch, of Napanee, appeared before them with a grievance. A portion of the road between Ernesttown and the Fredericksburgs, under the control of this township, is in a very bad condition, being almost impassable. People are forced in wet weather to drive through the fields to avoid it, and great inconvenience as well as damage is occasioned in driving milk to Mr. Hinch's butter factory. The council needed but the statement of Mr. Hinch, to remedy such a state of affairs, and appointed a committee to see that the road is put in a passable condition. Mr. Carscallen, reeve of North Fredericksburg, was also before the council to procure a settlement between his township and Ernesttown in regard to the maintenance of the town line between the two municipalities. An equalization was effected satisfactorily.

The news of the sudden death of Dr. Dupuis, of Kingston, occasioned great surprise and deep regret among the many friends of the late doctor in this place. Dr. Dupuis was the best known here of Kingston's physicians and was very popular. He practiced here for a short time previous to settling in Kingston. At the invitation of Noble Bond about forty of our young people attended a picnic at Loughboro lake, on Saturday last. The day was most enjoyably spent on the grounds of Mr. Horning, adjoining this beautiful lake. Boating and fishing were the chief attractions and all enjoyed themselves to their heart's content in this direction. One of the gentlemen was so unfortunate as to lose a valuable fishing rod. Frank Lee met with a painful accident the other night while playing ball. One of our rising young twirlers dropped one on Mr. Lee's eye, causing a severe cut. The ocular is gradually resuming normal conditions.

Charlie Lee left last week for Syracuse; still the exodus grows. Odessa has a lot of sons in the domains of Uncle Sam. Simon Babcock has sold his hennery to Charles Emmons, jr. Simon retained a relic of it, however, in the shape of a mammoth egg measuring just 4 in. by 3½ in. In taking in our town on an evening's stroll one cannot but notice the beauty of Furgeson avenue. It is certainly the prettiest street we have, thanks to the tastiness and public spirit of Mr. Furgeson. H. S. Davy has returned from the liberal convention at Ottawa.

T. Burley has returned from a few weeks' visit at Brockville. Visitors: Miss Smeall, Nebraska, at her grandfather's, S. Schermerhorn; Mrs. F. McGuin, Napanee, at J. W. Denyes's; W. Quayle, Kingston, at H. S. Davy's; James Tinlin at Dr. J. C. Mabee's. A quiet wedding took place at the Methodist parsonage here on Wednesday, the 21st. Wilbur Lowe and Miss Etta Walker were there joined for life by the Rev. Mr. Limbert. Mrs. S. Mabee, who has been so ill for some time, is now thought to be gaining somewhat.

Wood Yard Removed.

James Campbell has removed to the corner of Wellington and Barrack streets. Always on hand a good stock of best maple, cut and uncut, dry slabs, pine and cedar blocks. All cheap for cash. Telephone No. 116.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,

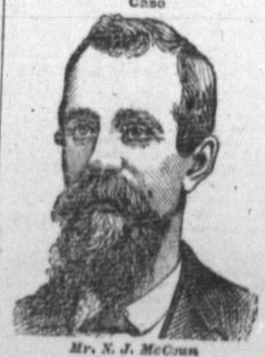
Cured When Others Failed

Salt Rheum or Psoriasis—Severe Case



Mr. N. J. McCoun
Kingsley, Iowa.

"In 1879 I had an eruption appear on my left leg and arm. Sometimes it would ulcerate and on account of it I was unable to work a great deal of the time. I had seven doctors examine and treat me without success. Some called it psoriasis, some eczema, some salt rheum and one knowing one called it prairie itch. All the doctors in the county had a trial but none did me a particle of good. I spent all my spare money trying to get relief. Finally I was persuaded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. After using one and a half bottles I saw the benefit. I have now used the third bottle and am completely cured.

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla CURES

I received, more benefit from three dollars' worth of Hood's Sarsaparilla than from the hundreds of dollars paid for advice and other medicine. Any one suffering from skin trouble will surely get relief in Hood's Sarsaparilla." N. J. McCOUN, Kingsley, Iowa.
