MR. RONEY IS ANNOYED.

He Will Sue For Buttinges Because His Business is Interfered With, The work of pulling down the building used by Richmond & Co., as a dry-goods store on Princess street, has proved detrimental to Mr. Roney, alothier, who fore business close by. Owing to the dust he has been unable to open his store and the boardwalk and street near him are blocked with debris so that enstomers and others are kept away. Before the work was begun Mr. Roney suggested that the front of the building be faced with boards and the walls could be pulled down inside. This was the way buildngs were tern down in large cities, but the suggestion was not acted upon. Mr. Roney got legal advice this morning and will sue the city for damages if his interests are not protected. Mr. Marneo, who owns the building, said he
