The heavy down pour of rain made it impossible for very heavy scores to be put on, but privates Hora and Cunningham succeeded in doing some good shooting in spite of bad weather. The next match will come off on Monday.

Sporting Notes.

Port Hope has booked the Kingston lacrosse club for July 29th.

W. Marshall plays with Perth against Carleton Place at lacrosse to-morrow.

James Gunn sold his running horse, Alma, to Mr. Watson, Toronto, for about $100 the other day.

The junior teams of the Maple Leaf and Victoria lacrosse clubs will play an exhibition game on the cricket field.

Messrs. R. Sutherland and Sears, will take their boats out to Mississippi sometime before the end of the month, and sail down the Ottawa river to Montreal.

Kenny Cameron has completed a new racing canoe, made by himself, which for model is a dandy, and will probably make the other boats in this vicinity hustle this summer.

The Kingston cricket club will play at Deseronto to-morrow afternoon, and this is the composition of the team: Messrs. Dr. Clark, Ellis, Pearson, Rooney, Glidden, Paine, White, F. Ireland, Rev. Mr. Lowe, Sutherland and Jones. The Kingstonians look for a victory.

The members of the 14th batt. band have organized a football team and want a match with the Kingston club. The bandsmen practice kicking the pigskin every evening. C. Beale, J. Robinson, Jackson and G. Robinson are among the most expert. Several of the players have been injured. Jackson had a finger dislocated and J. Robinson's ear was damaged in a scuffle.

W. S. Ellis, rector of collegiate institute, arrived to-day from Cobourg with his family, and will occupy Miss Rose's residence on Barrie street.

Rev. T. G. Smith will not occupy the pulpit of St. Andrew's church every Sunday during the absence of the pastor. Mr. Smith will officiate only one Sunday.

Dr. Harriette O. McCalmont, a young lady of fortune, and a graduate of the Pennsylvania medical college, is assistant at the State hospital for insane, Warren, Pa.

Yesterday Dr. Chamberlain, inspector of jails and prisons, visited Rockwood asylum and was the guest of Dr. Clark. He had a friendly conference with Col. Clark who is visiting the doctor.

W. R. Givens, late of Kingston, has resumed the associate editorship of the "Daily Cataract," Niagara Falls, N.Y. Mr. Givens though admitted to the Canadian bar prefers journalism as a vocation.

Mr. Ferguson, studying medicine in McGill college, is in the city. He has been a student for two years and is trying an examination here that will enable him to practice medicine in Ontario when he graduates.

Chief of police Horsey and city engineer Bolger spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Watertown, N.Y., looking into the paving of streets. They were courteously treated by the civic officials and had a pleasant time generally.

Gus MacColl, cousin of Evan MacColl, of Spence & Co's dry-goods store, and wife, Chicago, are in the city. Mr. MacColl was formerly an express agent in New York, but is now retired. He is summering at Alexandria Bay.

Lady Derby, before leaving for England, sent a subscription to Mrs. Lewis towards the endowment of a medical missionary scholarship in Kingston women's medical college. The Anglican fund for this purpose is steadily growing.

VISIT OF A GARDENER.

Mr. Snell, of Watertown, N.Y., Spending Some Time in the City.

Sylvester Snell, one of the most extensive gardeners in the vicinity of Watertown, N.Y., is visiting friends in the city. He owns 200 acres of land, fifteen acres of which are used for raising garden produce. His crops are in splendid condition and he thinks the yield this year will be greater than ever before. He sells his produce on the wholesale plan to merchants and will be glad when he has an opportunity to sell on a market. A piece of land in Watertown has been purchased for a market site, and when it is put in shape farmers and gardeners will sell their produce on the retail system. Mr. Snell has been living on a farm since he was seven years of age. For twenty years he has visited Kingston annually. He likes the situation of the city and would live here if business was better. Watertown is booming and hundreds of men are employed. Another industry will be added in the shape of a match factory to employ 100 people. Farm laborers are scarce in New York state.

CITY AND VICINITY.

Got His Money.

George Peck, Gananoque, awarded damages for injuries sustained by an accident on the Bay of Quinte railway at Erinsville, in June, 1893, on Monday received a cheque for $2,100, being amount of damages awarded, $1,500 and costs $600.

Struck A Bonanza.

A tourist said he would advertise a new remedy in the Kingston papers. A radical cure was effected in his case and he can recommend the restorative to others. His prescription is: "For indigestion, take a ride on a Kingston street car."

Filling In The Breakwater.

Work at the breakwater is being pushed ahead more satisfactorily, and under the present system half of the filling may be done this year. There are four cars engaged drawing in the rubble from the penitentiary quarries. Formerly only one car was engaged.

Bad Weather At Tichborne.

The wet weather yesterday extended to Tichborne and prevented the Orange demonstration. The brethren and visitors had to remain in the hotels and stores all day. The Independent fife and drum band, to have played in the procession, arrived back at a late hour.

He Is Not Satisfied.

W. R. Dick billed the water works department for $75 for auditing the books. He contended the work was getting more extensive yearly and consequently more troublesome and worth more money. The committee did not see the matter in the same light and cut down the bill by $15.

A Boom In Talc.

Kent Bros. have refused a price for 5,000 tons of talc, which can be got on their property in the county of Hastings. A capitalist of Gouverneur, N.Y., who has a great deal of experience in the talc business, will operate a mill in Hastings county and grind talc for the New York market if he can get a suitable site.

Rats At Work.

A resident of Rideau street was at a loss to understand how his chickens were disappearing so rapidly lately. This morning he discovered a huge rat carrying a bird off in its mouth. The man made a race for the rat and caught the bird by the leg. The rat held on and fought, killing the chicken before it could be rescued.

A Very Romantic Spot.

East View park, a short distance from the city, and fringing the river St. Lawrence is a pretty spot. Mr. Flett, of this city is building a handsome cottage and J. Bastow is making extensive improvements to his property. The families of Mayor Polson, and Messrs. McDowell and Flett, are summering on the grounds.

Will Interview The Pastors.

Next week Rev. T. G. Smith will make a tour in eastern Ontario in the interest of the theological department of Queen's college. He will interview pastors of Presbyterian churches and possibly remind them of their duty to the college and point out the will of the general assembly in the matter. After this trip he will go to Toronto.

Trying to Smuggle.

It seems several of the women, taking in the Orangemen's excursion to Prescott yesterday, tried to make the trip a profitable one and having crossed over to Ogdensburg, the purchases there made were numerous, and in some cases costly. The customs officers are a superior set, however, and it is said that not a few had to pay the duty.

Candidates For Mayor.

The candidates spoken of for the mayor's chair for 1894, are Alds. Herald, Hardy and C. Robinson. If the triangular contest goes on, it will be hard to guess who will win, but it is said one of the candidates will back out if he makes three in the fight. Ald. W. Carson will not be a candidate for mayor until the electric street car system is completed.

A Man Of Progressive Ideas.

Ald. McAuley says some of the electors of St. Lawrence ward are annoyed at him because he voted for a grant of $300 to the Midland central fair. He is in favor of any scheme that will advance the interests of the city and believes the fair will be a benefit. He will always be in front when a question comes up in the council that will tend to the progress of the city.

Business Is Flat.

W. Marshall, dry goods clerk, returned from the states to-day where he has visited many large cities within the past three or four months. He took in New York, Boston, Pittsburg, Washington, Rochester, Buffalo and Chicago and says that things are very flat on the other side. It is his opinion that many young Kingstonians now at work on the other side would like to be back home again.

A Poor Tea

Is a handicap on what would enable the hostess to give a perfect entertainment. Koh-i-nur tea never handicaps anyone, always reliable, sold in half and one pound tins at 60c a pound. We have a few hundred pounds packed expressly for us in half and one pound card board boxes, equally as good as the tins, and we are selling it at 50c a pound for a short time only. Strond Bros., 109 Princess street.

A Serious Accident.

Thomas Hughes, weigher at the M. T. Co's dock, met with a serious accident about midnight last night. He had been engaged on one of the elevators, and in stepping on the deck of the str. Shickluna did not notice that the hatches were left open. The result was a fall of fourteen feet into a dark pit. The poor fellow struck heavily on the hard bottom of the vessel. His collar bone and three of his ribs were broken, together with his head and face being badly cut. Hughes is in a serious condition.

Return The By-Law.

Mayor Polson affirmed this morning that it was pretty near time Ald. Bowes' dog by-law, in the possession of one of the aldermen, was returned. The mayor states that the by-law was lying on his desk and was taken into the council chamber together with other papers in mistake. In passing copies of the by-laws around the dog by-law became misplaced. One of the aldermen, for a joke, pocketed the paper and the mayor thinks that it is time restoration was made. He thinks that it places him (the mayor) in an unfavorable position.

Not Going to Close.

Mr. Hamilton, inspector of the inland revenue department for this division, is in the city. The report that the distilleries are to shut down for next year, is not true, at least in a couple of cases. Gooderham & Worts, Toronto, and H. Corby, Belleville, will run on just the same. Mr. Hamilton explained that the reason distilleries would close down for a season was simply because of having a sufficient stock on hand. The doors will be shut for the winter to save the expense of running. Mr. Roblin, representative of H. Corby, happened to be present at the conversation. He stated that his firm had not the least idea of closing down, that the whiskey manufactured in Belleville was becoming so popular that it would be impossible to close. The output of whiskies in the dominion, so far this year, is far ahead of last year. More is being consumed than ever before. There are only six distilleries, amounting to anything, in Canada.

Hero for the islands, 2 p.m., Saturday.

A rapidly fatal plague carried off a number of horses and cows on six farms last week in the vicinity of Harrisburg, Lewis county, N.Y. Even people were threatened, and all because one farmer neglected to bury sheep and cows dying during the winter. It is time people realized the danger to life from gross disregard of sanitation and sense.

John P. Bower, of Pittsburg, has completed the erection of a mammoth Campania barn, with straw bridge attachment, unique in design and and destined to revolutionize the prevailing style of barn architecture. Mr. Bower drew his own plans throughout, and the sixty farmers who assembled at the "raising" were unanimous in pronouncing it without fault. The success that attended the erection of such a huge frame reflects credit also upon the framer, Samuel Dawson.

Visitors From The North.

This afternoon the steamer Empire State came into port with an excursion party of over 700 from Carleton Place and adjacent points. The party was taken aboard at Brockville and a delightful sail up the river enjoyed. The visitors were well dressed, well behaved and decidedly good-looking. They represented the leading churches of the sterling burgs in the northern country. They soon scattered about the city and enjoyed the sights, many renewing acquaintances with friends and relatives. Rev. James Kines was one of the chief promoters of the trip.

PLENTY OF ICEBERGS.

Navigation in the Straits—Opening the Victoria Hospital.

MONTREAL, July 13.—The new Victoria hospital, presented to the city by Lord Mount Stephen and Sir Donald A. Smith, will be opened on Sept. 1st. Miss E. A. Draper, of Illinois training school for nurses, will be the lady superintendent. Dr. Roddick and Stewart are now in Europe, looking out for the most approved medical and surgical appliances.

There is more floating ice in the straits, off Newfoundland coast, than has been known for years.

Lord and Lady Derby and suite visited the new board of trade building, this morning, being escorted there by a body guard from the Duke of Connaught's cavalry. They were received by the president, W. W. Ogilvie, and escorted over the building, the board of trade members singing "God Save The Queen" as the distinguished party passed through the exchange hall. At the city hall addresses were presented to the Earl of Derby from the city council and McGill college. The earl replied suitably. There was great enthusiasm, several thousand people being around the city hall, where Earl Derby held an informal reception.

HOGTOWN'S HOG TRADE.

A Correspondent Says as a Great Hog Centre Toronto is in it.

TORONTO, July 13.—The returns of cattle entered during the last half-year at the western cattle market in Toronto, the headquarters of the Ontario cattle trade, show that the embargo in England on Canadian cattle has had no effect in diminishing the trade. The city commissioner's figures for the period named show that the trade is ahead of that of last year for the same period, one of the busiest in the history of the market. The cattle entered during the first six months of 1893 were 42,314, as against 39,613 during the first half of 1892. Of sheep there were 9,286, as against 9,590 last year, and of hogs 92,732 in 1893, as against only 26,462 in 1893. If the hog trade increases for a few years in the ratio of the last few years Toronto will be one of the great hog marketing and packing centres of the continent.

HE LOST THE WAD.

A Watertown Farmer Robbed by Kingston Toughs While Driving.

Sylvester Snell, gardener, from Watertown, N.Y., remarked early last evening that Kingston was a slow place. He changed his mind before midnight and said New York city was not much faster. He was invited to go for a ride about eleven o'clock, and his friends (?) stripped his clothes. He was minus $60 when he got back to the hotel. He intended to buy a pony for his daughter, and drew the money out of the bank before he left Watertown. He felt very bad to-day because he could not take home the promised gift. He is about seventy years of age, but not wide awake enough for Kingston sharpers.

BLEEDING OVER A PAIL.

A Crazy Woman Cut Her Throat With A Pair of Scissors.

LINDSAY, July 13.—Yesterday in the township of Mariposa, about two miles from the village of Little Britton, Mrs. Henderson, wife of Albert Henderson, a farmer, committed suicide while under a fit of temporarily mental derangement by cutting her throat with a pair of scissors. Her husband found her kneeling with her head over a pail bleeding profusely from the incision in her throat, and at once called medical assistance, but she was dead before it arrived. Mrs. Henderson was a young woman and had been married only a year.

THE PROFESSOR'S OUTING.

HE HAD SOME LIVELY EXPERIENCES IN CHICAGO.

Prof. Foreshaw Day Visiting the World's Fair—Delighted With the Display in the Art Gallery—A Time on the Lake—A Howl on Dominion Day.

Prof. Foreshaw Day has returned from a visit to the world's fair. He spent nine days viewing the wonders and says the show is a third larger than the Paris exposition. He visited all the large exhibitions that have been held within recent years, and the world's fair is the most extensive. The managers think the fair is too large. Because of its enormous area it cannot be seen to advantage. The general opinion is that a smaller exhibition, with keen competition, would give better satisfaction and be more easily handled. The show is so great that visitors get wearied looking at the goods. It cannot be thoroughly seen in a month. Prof. Day spent nearly all his time in the art gallery, and was delighted with the display. Some of his pictures are in good positions, and some are not as well situated as he could wish.

On the grounds and in Chicago the professor met many Canadians, some ex-cadets, and the lieutenant governor of Ontario. The Canadian demonstration on July 1st was a thrilling scene. It was enlivened by the address of the mayor of Chicago, Carter Harrison, delivered to three or four thousand Canadians. The address was an able effort, and would have been appreciated had not he been so injudicious as to intimate that the time would come when all portions of North America would be joined together. He pushed his annexation arguments upon the spectators until their feelings were stirred with loyalty to the queen and the British nation, and they could not contain themselves. They hissed the mayor and the excitement rose so high it was feared the police officers would have to preserve order. Quiet was restored and the meeting was dispersed after the company had sung the national anthem, "God Save the Queen."

The professor says he never heard such noise since he was born as that made upon the arrival of the caravels. One would think Hades had been let loose. When the quaint looking ships hove in sight the steamers began to screech, and thousands of whistles and horns were in operation at one time.

The confidence men are doing a good business this year. While waiting for a train a spotter for a notorious gang accosted Mr. Day thus: "You are a stranger here?" The professor replied gruffly, "That's my business, sir." The man walked away, and Mr. Day learned that the stranger was a member of the most famous band of thieves in the Illinois district.

On a Sunday afternoon the professor had an experience he will not soon forget. He wanted to see the caravels anchored opposite the south loop and started out in a steam yacht. Other steam yachts sailed out with passengers at the same time. It was a beautiful afternoon and the lake was as smooth as glass. After they had got half way to the caravels there was a gust of wind which nearly lifted Mr. Day's hat into the air. Then he saw swirling along in the distance a funnel-shaped cloud. The lightning grew vivid and thunder rumbled. Mr. Day thought the storm would result in a severe thunder storm. He did not believe it was a small cyclone en route for the world's fair. When the cloud broke the waters of Lake Michigan were a romantic sight, tearing and rolling in splendid fury. The yacht carrying Mr. Day careened and he thought the party would be capsized. A steamyacht near them was capsized, but the people were saved. The storm lasted two hours and rain fell in large quantities. He remained in the White Horse inn until the storm was over and the lake became calm again.

When he was coming away on the train the fire broke out in the cold storage department, and the professor was afraid the White city would be destroyed and that his pictures would go up in smoke. He enjoyed the trip and will return to the fair with his wife in September.

Battalion Matters.

At a meeting of the officers of the 14th battalion, last night, it was decided to have the annual dinner, as a winding-up affair of the season's work, next Monday night, to occur at the Hotel Frontenac. Major Galloway was instructed to write the Montreal garrison, thanking the officers and men for the kindness shown the battalion while visiting the metropolis. It is the intention of the officers to have monthly mess dinners during the winter. Each officer has the option of inviting whom he chooses.

As regards "F" company's escapade the matter rests entirely with the colonel. The men are subject to six months' imprisonment for insubordination, but it is expected the members of the company will be dismissed.

The Wife Deserter Arrested.

The man, Frank Smith, for whom a telegram was received yesterday by the police, requesting his arrest, was captured this morning in the cellar of Mrs. Davy's house on Cowdy street. The fellow ascertained that the police were after him and hid away. Officers Magarry and Tuttle found him in the cellar at five o'clock this morning; he is now awaiting a Belleville constable for transfer. Smith claims the reason he deserted his wife was on account of her jealousy towards him. She made his life miserable and he had tolerated it about as long as he could. Smith is a laborer and claims he had a job in Kingston.

A TRAIN DERAILED.

An Accident This Morning at Komoka Junction to a Train.

LONDON, July 13.—A serious accident occurred at Komoka Junction on the C.P.R. about four o'clock this morning. At this point the C.P.R. main line crosses the G.T.R. Sarnia branch, which is protected by an interlocking switch. The engineer of the C.P.R. train, from some unknown reason, failed to notice that the semaphore was turned against him, and his train, composed of three coaches and baggage car, was derailed. There were eighty passengers on board, but it is reported that all escaped with a severe shaking with the exception of four, one of which is quite seriously injured. The latter was brought to the city and gave his name as Charles Cannon, an Italian, and holds a masonic ticket for Portugal, dated Omaha, Neb. The names of the other passengers who are reported injured cannot be ascertained.

There are several dead rats under the boards at the police station and the smell is terrible. The police officers have to sit outside in the stables while the prisoners have to put up with the nuisance.
