Mr. Barker was the owner of many vessels in times when vessel property was valuable. On many a trip he received 30c per bushel freight on grain from Chicago to Kingston. He was the first vessel owner who beat the Kingston forwarders in the matter of demurrage claims. The schooner Hoboken, owned by Mr. Barker, was delayed here several days. He entered an action against the forwarding company and won $400. He established a precedent by which vessel owners were entitled to demurrage costs. Through the efforts of Mr. Barker the Thousand Island steamboat company was established. He and B. W. Folger purchased the timber out of which the str. McCUARI-In Kingston on Wednesday, July 19th, Donald A. McCuaig, aged 17 years. St. Lawrence was built.in Buffalo. Much to their surprise they found the grounds, which they had engaged more than a week before, in posedly brought about. The opinion is session of a combined picnic of all the Sunday schools of Clayton. No collision, however, occurred between the Britishers and their American cousins further than in one song, for while the latter were lustily singing "America" some of the loyal Canadians substituted the original words to the tune and sang, "God Save the Queen." The Clayton friends left by the Empire State at 3:30, leaving the kingstonians as sole occupants for 20
