CHECKING THE RETURNS.

Among the visitors to the city yesterday was George Johnson, dominion statistician, whose wanderings about the city were invested with a peculiar interest. He was noted to be very critical in his examination of the place, and this was remarked until the fact dawned upon away from the wharf at Kingston, Thursthe people that he was professionally at work. He remembered the fun made of the census returns by Dalton McCarthy, and he was personally concerned in the results that he wanted to check them over himself. The city was represented as having had 187 industrial establish ments in 1881, and 401 in 1891, and the arnouncement in the city half this revelation was followed by derisive cheers, leading to the conclusion that the people regarded the statistics with incredulity. Mr. Johnson was anxious to look the ground over himself in order that he may be able to write of this noble deed of Fred's go unmentionthe dominion census next edition as he did of the statistical Year Book: "Every page of the present issue has been care MARION LIVINGSTONE, M.D., C.M., MINNIRS fully examined for the purpose of detecttraces of political party bias." THE CATTLE BUSINESS.

Exporting to the Old Country Tested and Rev. H. Wente, who graduated from Proved a Failure. The business of exporting cattle to the old country has not in a great many years been profitable to those engaged in it. A city exporter stated to-day he would have been $40,000 better off if he had never gone into the business. He could not name an exporter who got rich and he could mention many who had been ruined financially. The steamship companies, railway companies and the farmers made money out of shipping cattle to the old country. and the men who run the risk are the afternoon, when he fell off and was victims. There is a great fascination about the business. It is as attractive as gambling. Men who lose money one year will stay in the ring the next, hoping the market will rise and if their capital will stand it they will continue losing until it is all gone. Yesterday the price of cattle in Glasgow dropped eight shillings per head. TARRHUEA.

-Dr. J. Collis Brown (late Army Medical Staff) DISCOVERED' A REMEDY, to denote which he coined the word CHLORODYNE. Dr. Browne is the SOLE INVENTOR, and as the omposition of Chlorodyne cannot possibly be states; "Two doses completely cured me o iscovered by analysis (organic substances defyng elimination) and since the formula has never een published, it is evident that any statenent to the effect that a compound is identical with Dr. Browne's Chlorodyne must be fulse. This caution is necessary, as many persons deceive purchasers by false representations.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE
-Vice Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated publicly in Court that Dr. J. Collin Browns was undoubtedly the inventor of THLORODYNE; the whole story of defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, and he reretted to say it had been sworn to .- See The
