STREET RAILWAY SERVICE. It is to be sincerely hoped that new differences are not to arise between the city council and the street railway com- very fine boat. pany, and that in consequence of them there is to be any delay in improving the street car service. The objection to is based upon the ground that the council has adjourned for a season, and cannot go on with business until the absentees have been duly notified of all the facts. There is some force in this con- reporter. tention, but it will not hold good very long. The council has the power of ending the holiday which it created, and it has justification for the proceeding if posed of without delay. Judging by the interviews in the press it would appear that an issue, of more or less irritation, grows out of the desire of certain property owners on Barrie street to have the electric cars | jail before he had been in the cells fifteen run along the side of the street' rather than in the centre of it. The suggestion is said to be opposed by some members of the council, and it is certainly opposed by the mayor. But there is nothing in lie meeting has been called. The questions to be settled are: (1) Who desire the railway to be placed on the side of the or cricket field, as alleged? (3) Will the change be a public convenience? JOHN STRANGE, LL. B., SOLICITELL SO All these questions can be considered calmly and without the threatened indignation. The city engineer has been looking into the facts, and he has dissovered that some of the theories entertained by the aldermen are not well founded. They have rested on the field, and such an assumption has been entirely erroneous. etc., has to be determined by the council before track-laying can begin. Let us COMPLETELY FURNISHED, especially for have the agreement consulted, and all its requirements settled as soon as possible if we are going to have an electric railway. There are so many difficulties to overcome, and progress is to slowly made, that one almost despairs of seeing on. The suspension of operations for sor. Ont.
