Onessa, Aug. L.-The lawn social hold by the ladios' aid society at the Methrelief parsonage on the evening of Tuesday, the 25th nit., like its predecessors, passed off very successfully. A large number were present and an enpyable evening spent. The L. A. society deserve a great deal of credit for the efforts they have made in raising money for the parsonage fund. A beautiful new parlor carpet was bought a short time ago for the parsonage by the society. After a linguring illness of two years Miss Ethel Fellows, daughter of John Fellows, York Road, succumbed to that dread disease, consumption, on Sunday evening. The long confinement was borne by the sufferer with the greatest Christian fortitude, and death came as a happy release: from the disease which no skill could conquer. The bereaved family have the heartfelt sympathy of many friends in the loss of their dear one at an age when life is expected to open up its brightest prospects and possibilities. The funeral took place at the fourth concession church on Tuesday afternoon, the remains being buried in the cemetery there. John Graham, of the Dominion hotel, met with a painful accident the other day. While riding one of the stage horses to water the equine stumbled and full, catching the rider's leg in the fall, bruising it severely but forunately breaking no bones.

A FRESH AIR PARLOR

Bints For the Attractive Arrangement of the Corner of a Bread Veranda. The most enjoyable part of every summer home is the broad veranda, and for this nothing surpasses ratten furniture, as the pieces are so light that a child can mova them, and this is a valuable quality in selecting things for out of door use. From Demorest's Family Magazine are gleaned the following suggestions for the artistic and comfortable furnishing of a veranda The half reclining chair is a compromise with the lounge which many people prefer,

ple and invalids. There are also capacions easy chairs, with adjustable backs, which can be raised or lowered at will. A capaclous pocket or rack of some sort should be provided with newspapers and magazines. A generous provision of cushions adds much to every one's'comfort, but the dainty materials suitable for indoors are out of place on the veranda. The twilled linens, which comes now in many colors, and blue or red denim or the new changeable denim -blue and red-are the most an itable choice if to be embroidered. Dot 1 conventionalized patterns that are not very much work are selected, and the art linen floss is used for embroidering. There are many Japanese cotton fabrics which are pretty enough to use without embroidery. Comfortable head cushions to throw over the tops of chair backs sometimes have a convenient pocket in the half of the cushion which falls backward. Somewhat similar cushions tied on the broad arms of easy chairs, with a wide pocket hanging outward, make acceptable catchalla. A great addition to the comfort of the veranda is found in the bamboo screens or rattan screens, which are fastened between the posts and can be raised or lowered, as seeded, for protection from wind or sun. The Mystery of Mayonnaise.

Concerning mayonnaise for salads there is a mystery, says a professional cook. No one knows how it derives its name, and it may be safely asserted that 75 out of 20 people are equally in the dark as to its manufacture, though really the latter is easy enough. Here is one way: Mix with a very clean wooden spoon about half a teaspoonful of flour of mustard, a pinch of sait and the same of white pepper to the yolk of a very fresh egg, and when well mixed add drop by drop about half a pint of the best salad oil, stirring carefully one way the whole time and adding a very little vinegar (malt, tarragon and chili, either one or all) occasionally as the sauce sauce requires care in the making, or it will curdle, when the only remedy is to take auother yolk of egg and add the previous | GUARDIAN ASSURANCE CO'Y cordisd) mixture to it, gradually and slowly turning it all the time. It is said that a very little hot water added to the mayon naise just as it is finished helps to keep it

A Hini to the Amateur Paper Hanger. Those who do their own paper hanging (mid in these hurrying times one cannot wait forever for a skilled workman) will find that if they follow the paper hangers' LOT 5 18 example in cutting two rolls at a time into the desired lengths there will be no waste, says a Rural New Yorker correspondent. After the first matching of figures at the beginning of the rolls no more matching is to be done. One has only to use a piece from each roll alternately. It is a good plan to cut up two rolls at a time and arrange the LAFT & IN pieces alternately before pasting.
