THE KILLED NUMBER FIVE

Flame-Swept Gangway - A Heartrending Scene-The Fatality Caused by One Man's

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 22,-By, an explosion of gas in the Lance Colliery No. 11 of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Co. at Plymouth yesterday afternoon, five men were instantly killed and five others

The names of the dead are: David M. Jones, aged 52, contractor, Wilkesbarre, leaves wife and six children; William Jones, Wilkesbarre, rock miner, aged 45, leaves wife and two children; John Flansgan, aged 45, misson, Wilkesbarre, leaves wife and six children; Owen P. Jones, Plymouth, aged 55, miner, leaves wife and several children; Joshua Golightly, Plymouth, assisant mine foreman, aged 55. The injured are: Owen L. Evans, arm dislocated; Thomas Williams, ribs broken; H. L. Davis, shoulder dislocated; John Cummings, leg broken by flying debris;

James Morgan, face cut and scalp wounds.

The accident was caused by Joshua Golightly, who entered a body of gas with his naked lamp. A terrific explosion fol-lowed. The deadly flames swept from one end of the gangway to the other, carrying death or injury to every living being in its path. Props came tumbling down, cars were lifted off the road and dashed with fearful force against the pillars, loose coal was caught up and sent whirling through the chambers, only to be ground into powder by its impact with the rocky walls. The men were working fully 1,000 feet from the spot where Golightly's lamp set off the gas, but owing to the unusually gaseous condition of the mine the scorching flames spread so rapidly that there was no escape. Golightly was fearfully burn- Newfoundland had cause for grave dised, the flesh being literally cooked. The satisfaction with the modus vivendi. The killed by the flying debris. The masons were building walls and the laborers cleaning up rubbish in the rock tunnel. As soon as the explosion occurred word was sent to the surface, and in a few minutes 1;000 people had gathered at the mouth of the shaft. Great excitement prevailed among the friends of the doomed men. A rescuing party was at once or ganized, led by Supt. Morgan. After a short absence they reappeared bearing the blackened badies, and there was enacted one of those scenes which is calculated to bring tears even to the eyes of those accustomed to the saddest of sights. Women and children shrieked in an agony of grief. and threw themselves upon the bodies of the dead as they were carried by.

The dead and injured were taken to their homes, where the company provided every means for the comfort of the latter, all of whom are expected to recover. The damage to the mine is not extensive and it will resume work to morrow.

Inspection of Immigrants.

Washington, Sept. 22.—The conference between the representatives of the Canadian steamship lines and railroad com panies and Secretary Carlisle and Supt Stump, representing the Government of the United States, as to the inspection of immigrants coming into the United States from Canada, held at the Treasury Depart ment yesterday afternoon, resulted in an agreement being signed satisfactory to both parties.

In its main features the new compac follows with only some alight changes the tripartite agreement between the United States, the steamship companies and the Canadlan Government, which the Dominion authorities at the last moment declined to ratify. The statement was made by anthority of the Canadian Government, though no representative of that Government was present, that the Dominion authorities would place no stacle in the way of carrying out the agreement, but sould not for certain reasons give their assent to it in writing. The conference lasted less than an hou and was harmonious throughout. Secre tary Carlisle was especially emphatic i his declaration that the United States would protect herself from undesirable

A Would-be Champion.

New York, Sept. 23.-A reporter me Bob" Fitzsimmons, the middleweight, last night and informed him of Corbett's declaration to take on any man in the world if Mitchell refuses to fight. The lanky Australian's face was covered with smiles and he said gleefully

"I am Corbett's man, I will fight the champion at the drop of a hat for the purse offered by the Coney Island Athletic Club. This is the chance I have long waited for. I will make a match with Corbett immediately and bet him $25,000 that I can whip him. There will be no bluffing on my part. I want to fight Corbett because I feel sure I can beat him. 1 know I am taking big chances in going out of my class to fight him, but I will assume all risks. Mitchell would be a 'cinch' for Corbett under Queensbury rules. He is too small for the Californian. Although I say so myself I think I can give Corbett a much harder fight than Mitchell. Let Corbett say the word and I will sign to morrow to fight him to finish."

Knights at Loggerheads. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 22. — The Executive Board of the Knights of Labor and Secretary-Treasurer Hayes are at loggerheads, and interesting developments are expected.

The board, which is composed of General Master Workman Powderly, T. B. Macguire, of New York ; John Devlin, of Michigan, and A. W. Managerers Over-A Verdict for the Army Gunes, Sept. 22 .- The Hungarian army managerers, that had been in progress here and the country hereabouts, closed yesterday and the palm of victory was awarded to the army of the north. The battle front extended a distance of five miles. The southern army was compelled to retreat, its left flank having been turned by the northern army. The defeated force retired upon the line of the Pilandorf village, eight miles north of Guens Yesterday the northern army attempted o dislodge the southern army from the ceition it had occupied on the hills at orsdorf and Cleigraten. The effort, however, was unsuccessful. The final movement in the battle, which ended at noon, was made by command of Field Marshal Von Reinlander. The arbitrators decided that the ad vantage remained with the northern army as it had outflanked its enemy. The men and horses, are suffering extreme exhaustion. Numerous accidents occurred during the fighting. It is reported that two officers and several privates were killed. An accident happe to the Eleventh Hussars that would have been laughable had not many of the men and their horses been injured. The regiment received an order to advance upon the enemy. The bugle sounded the charge and the Hussars moved forward at a gallop in splendid style. Suddenly horses and men were seen toppling over. They had come unawares upon a wide and deep ditch and the Hussurs went down as though their ranks were being swept with grape and canister. Many of the reginent were seriously hurt. Only thirty men and horses emerged from the ditch in condition to resume the charge.

SIGHTED THE VALKYRIE.

Sighted by a Pilot Boat off Sandy Hook -Caught in a Storm. NEW YORK, Sept. 22 -- Capt. Butler, of pilot boat No. 3, came into port at Staten Island yesterday, and declared he had run up to within three miles of England's representative in the coming race for the America's cup. "He is positive it was the Valkyrie he saw, for he made out her colors plainly. It was between two and three o'clock on Sunday afternoon. He was 150 miles off Sandy Hook when the yacht came in sight. She was doing bardsomely in the teeth of a head wind. A big storm was coming up, and Capt. Butler was making for port as fast as he could. The pilot did not dare to go out nearer the cutter, for at the moment of sighting her the storm was about to break. It enveloped them before

The wind rose so furiously that the two boats lost sight of each other. Capt. Butler made direct for the Jersey coast. Think She's Fast, NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The report that the Valkyrie sailed along for seven hours at a ten-knot gait, keeping up with the Spain in quite a heavy sea has made a good deal of an impression upon yachtsmen here. "If that is the kind of work she can do, and under a jury rig," said one, "look out for her when she gets her racing clothes on."

On the other hand, the admirers of the Vigilant say that if that boat had been out there she would have done just as well.

Many Were Hurt. CHICAGO, Sept. 22.-A serious accident occurred yesterday on the movable side walk, which extends the length of the Casino steamboat pier. A plank came in contact with the under part of the machinery and a large section of the sidewalk was torn from its fastenings. The seats became derailed and slipped over, throw ing over 200 passengers violently on th pier. The small elevation of the sidewalk proved a safeguard against any loss of life but many of the passengers, men, women and children, were severely bruised and cut. A few were removed to the hospital. Employee on the pier and sidewalk kept the people cool and avoided a panic.

LONDON, Sept. 22,-The Coal Mine Owners' Association held a meetidg in London yesterday, at which was read a communication from the secretary of the Miners' Federatiou suggesting that the masters meet delegates from the federation, with a view to making some arrangement for resumption of work by the striking miners. The communication was considered pro and con, and finally the association decided to adopt the suggestion. The outcome of the conference cannot be predicted, but it is doubtful if the meeting will result in the settlement of the long dispute. A majority of the masters hold that a material reduction in wages is imperative, while the miners express unwillingness to accept a large reduction. Hairpins with gold enameled balls are among the prettiest povelties. The ball may be of white enamel with gold markings, or gold and dark blue. A necklace is made of small crysoberyl and pale blue supphires. These are connected by little gold disks and have two lower festoons similarly combined. There is a distinct fancy for circular brooches. One is of white enamel circles each holding a small pearl, with pearls on the outside. Another is of alternate sap phires and diamonds.

Imperfect pearl growths are used in the handsomest jewelry. A brooch was made of leaf shapes in dead rough gold with indented edges set around a central disk. Each held a large imperfect pearl .- Jewelers' Circular.
