WAS THE HOOVER PLAY?

Investigating a Mystery Which Causes Much Excitement in Port Hope.

Port Hope, Sept. 30.—What is now called the Hooper poisoning case has developed into the greatest sensation which has ever occurred in the history of this town. Mr. John R. Hooper, husband of the unfortunate woman, is well known here. He was married to Georgina Hooper at Amherst, N.S., in 1885. He is employed in the post office department. It is said that Mrs. Hooper's removal to place her in an insane asylum, by order of the court, was not successful. He then set out with Mrs. Hooper, presumably for Montreal. While on the journey she apparently took ill and died at Terrenceville, P. Q. Her symptoms were such that a suspicion of poison was entertained and an investigation was commenced.
