DOUGLAS' PROTESTS. For some time the people of Montrea. have been discussing the advisability of purchasing a vice-regal residence, and of having the governor-general and his suite spend a portion of their time each year in the metropolitan city. Not so much attention was paid to the agitation until the council began to deal with it and the mayor, esteemed a level-headed being 6 ft. 10 in. long. The weight man, advanced his opinion.
