HON WILFRED LAURIER.

Many of the people of Kingston last night had the opportunity, which they much desired, to hear speak on the issues of the day the man who may be the premier of Canada. And what an able polished gentleman he is! Though of French extraction he yet speaks the most graceful English in an interesting and argumentative manner. There is no doubting the ability, honesty and purity of the man. He has not been mixed up in any scandals, personal or political, and is, therefore, free to express himself upon the rascalities on which light was thrown at the last session of parliament. It is said of him by his opponents (not by his enemies, since he has none) that he has been too thick with Mr. Mercier and dare not repudiate him. Mr. Laurier has nothing to do with the provincial elections so far as they are influenced by purely local issues but he is interested in the constitutional aspect of the situation, the dismissal of a government which, in a new assembly, had a majority of twenty five members. He speaks at Quebec in a day or two, stating his views on the crisis, and he can be safely depended upon to take the position he can defend later on in any part of Canada. Mr. Laurier made a good impression last night. He pleased his old admirers and made many new ones. He put it beyond any one here to suggest that he is lacking in loyalty and patriotism. His speech was by all odds the most enlightening that has been made in Kingston during the present campaign, and it will bear its fruits. To the support of such a man, in behalf of better government than that we have had now for some years at Ottawa, the people will rally and elect Mr Gunn.

PROTESTING OF ELECTIONS.

The Ottawa Journal comments upon the fact that while the liberals only protested the seat of those conservatives who were elected by small majorities, the tories protested everywhere. "They seem," says our contemporary, which is conservative in its leanings, "not to have been looking to bye-election successes, but to the moral effect upon the people of a large number of liberals unseated by the courts. In Ontario the liberals were successful in forty-eight constituencies; the conservatives entered protests in no less than twenty-nine of these, and have succeeded in unseating thirteen liberal members most of whose majorities were up in the hundreds. The conservatives cannot, never could, have had any hope of winning these over, so that as politicians do not at all enter protests on high moral grounds, we must conclude many tory petitioners to have been actuated either by spite—which is expensive, legally, and politicians know it—or by a long-headed calculation as to the effects of successful protests upon the country at large." The one thing notable about the protest business, on the conservative side, was the abundance of money which was forthcoming for legal contestation. For the maritime provinces a bulk sum was sent from Ottawa to a Halifax lawyer with instructions to make the money deposits as the election petitions were filed. The same course seems to have been followed in Ontario and Quebec, and so the protesting went on merrily and regardless of its financial effects. It is a question where the money came from. It was raised in Ottawa, but how? Inferences for the present can be only drawn, but something is sure to occur sooner or later to expose the secret and possibly precipitate a serious scandal. The many thousands put into the election protests could not honestly come from the public treasury. From the manufacturers and importers it could only be collected in the form of toll, after the manner of the red parlor programme. The liberals did not have much to raise, and what was required came from the pockets of the men who made it in business and could well afford to spend it.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

From Sir John Macdonald to Hon. John Haggart. What a fall was there, my countrymen!

* * *

Mr. Tarte promises a rare revival of scandal at the next session of parliament. By the way will Mr. Tarte be there?

The fire department in Hamilton has been thrown into confusion by the interference of cranks. The aldermen up there had better leave well enough alone.

Abbott's cabinet deal is not well received. The people of Ontario will not tolerate Haggart as leader on any account. That appears to be a settled conviction.

Who is to be Khedive of Egypt? Young Abbis, the eldest son, and quite a good dresser, wants the place, but unless Turkey nominates him he will not be in it.

The chairman of the police committee in Montreal threatens to pound Mayor McShane opposite the Montreal bank. A nice place to have at the head of the law and arrest committee.

The conservatives want to make it appear that they expected Richelieu "to go that way." But they did not expect it, and they feel as much crushed as if something had run over them.

Mr. Davin wrote several letters to the West pointing out what the government wanted to make it last. And Hon. Mr. Abbott [illegible] leaves the sweet singer of the prairie out in the cold.

Suppose the governor-general appointed a commission of partisans, with instructions to nose about the departments and everything. What a smelling time they would have! It's easy to roll up grievances in Quebec. Has the province ever been free from under the curse of extravagance?

Hon. Mr. Rowell and Hon. G. A. Kirkpatrick are in the race for the lieutenant governorship of Ontario with fortunes alternating from day to day. If etiquette has anything to do with the thing the place goes to George A.

The ladies' candidate in the Hamilton election, Ald. Copp, got left. We were going to say that the ladies ought to be ashamed of themselves, but we'll wait for explanations. We can't believe that they knifed him.

Partyism is not a thing to admire, yet a necessity. It has, however, produced one good thing in the line of organizing the Young Men's Liberal Club of Toronto. Under the presidency of Frank Yeigh it has shown not only energy, but hearty, healthful national work. The latest entertainment under its auspices is a "Canadian literature evening" in the art gallery of the Ontario society of arts. Rev. D. J. Macdonnell and many leading amateur readers and singers assist. The first named and M. W. Rowell read pieces by Miss Machar.

DEATH OF A LADY.

A Sorrowful Event At Tamworth—General Village Items.

Tamworth, Jan. 12.—Business is booming again. Owing to the scarcity of "the beautiful" during the holidays business was nearly at a stand still. Election is over and the boys are settling down to business again. A host of boys have departed for the lumber woods with their teams. Miss Grace Carscallen is making a visit with relatives in Barrie. James A. Wheeler and R. Richards paid a short visit to the homes of their boyhood. Fred Harkness who passed with honors at the college of pharmacy, Toronto, is back with his old employer, C. R. Jones. C. Asselstine, Dakota, is making his daughter Mrs. J. M. Smith, a visit. We feel sorry to chronicle the death of Mrs. Thornton, wife of our esteemed townsman H. E. Thornton, who passed peacefully away on Sunday morning last, after suffering intense agony for months. She was attended by the most eminent physicians of Kingston and Napanee, but without avail. She leaves a large family and many friends to mourn her loss. We extend our deepest sympathy to Mr. Thornton. Mrs. Jas R. Fraser has been very ill for a few days back but is getting some better now. Robert Penny arrived from Vancouver, B.C. last week. A horse belonging to E. M. McKim had its leg broken, to-day, by a kick from another horse. Its leg was so badly shattered that he had to kill it. Revival services in the Methodist church every night this week. W. D. Mace is breaking some of his thoroughbred colts. They seem to have speed in them and he will take it out.

A TRUE GHOST STORY.

Apparition Seen by a Farmer's Son in Prince Edward County.

J. B. Ashley, a well-known resident of Prince Edward county, in a letter to the Belleville Ontario, relates the following ghostly experiences of a farmer's son, at whose house he boarded a few years ago. On a high ridge near the Bay of Quinte is a small burying place, and one summer's evening the boy in question was passing the enclosure when he saw a woman clad in a light dress and with a white covering over her head, walk leisurely across the grave yard from one of its gates and stop near a bush in the eastern part. The boy thought it was a neighbor caring for the grave of a child, and came near to converse with her. He could distinctly see the features when by the fence, and recognized them as those of a young woman of the neighborhood. He spoke to her, but received no answer, and soon after reaching the bush above mentioned, and gazing for a few minutes at the ground, the woman suddenly sank into the earth and disappeared. Then the boy was frightened, and hurrying home related what he had seen. His tale was received with ridicule by his father but a few days after the young woman named by the boy died and was buried in the identical spot where the lad said he saw her disappear.

MRS. ARBUCKLE'S SUITS.

Was the Accident the Cause of Her Husband's Death?

Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Arbuckle, of Merrickville, by her solicitors, has commenced suits against the Citizens' insurance company for $5,000; against the Canadian accident for $3,000, and against the Manufacturers for $6,000. These actions are for money secured by insurance policies on the life of her late husband, Andrew Arbuckle, a mill owner of that town, who died recently of lock-jaw. The solicitors state that the deceased met with an accident to his hands in the mill, and the contention is that this produced lock-jaw, and that in this way the accident caused death. Since the companies have allowed the writs to be issued it is presumed that the question of whether the accident was the cause of death will have to be settled in court.

Installation of Officers At Lyn.

The members of Lyn lodge, No. 284, I.O.O.F., held a special meeting, on Jan. 7th, for the purpose of installing new officers for the next term. The meeting was largely attended by the members and also quite a large number from Mallorytown were present. R. J. Stevens, D.D.G.M., Delta, took charge of the meeting and soon the work of installation began. The officers installed were:—G. A. Hoag P.G.; E. Latimer, N. G.; Wm. Bowen, V. G.; N. J. Forrester, R. S.; W. H. Bigford, P. S.; Geo. Vanalstine, treasurer. After the officers were instructed in their duties, Bro. Stevens made a lengthy address in which he gave the members of Lyn lodge great praise for the great interest they take in the work and the progress they have made in six months. Bro. Williams of Delta, also delivered a short address and quite a number of others. The lodge was then closed and all started for M. J. Stack's who had prepared a grand supper. A jolly time was spent. When the meal was finished hearty thanks were given to Mr. and Mrs. Stack for their kindness.

He Who Laughs Last Laughs Best.

A most laughable scene was witnessed in a certain hotel about eight o'clock last night. A newsboy, anxious to sell his papers, allowed the clerk to scan an Empire as that gentleman said, "to see if there was anything in it worth reading." The lad's attention was attracted to another quarter of the room, for a moment, and when he turned again to reclaim his paper he found it had disappeared. His threats to inform the police made no impression on the clerk, who claimed he knew nothing at all about it. True to his word the boy went out and returned in a few minutes with a couple of burly officers and it is needless to say the paper was returned in short order and the boy advised to keep out of the house hereafter.

Election of Officers.

The election of officers of Milburn lodge, No. 22, 'Prentice Boys, took place on Saturday night in the Orange hall, with the following result: W.M., D. B. Walker; D.M., A. E. Babcock; secretary, W. H. Walker; treasurer, Fred. Smith; chaplain, Bon. Babcock; D. of C., S. Babcock; F. of C., G. A. McFarlane; I. T., Wesley Babcock; O.T., Wilfred Babcock; committee, Wilfred Babcock, R. Cavelry, Wm. Lee, Wm. Babcock; sick committee, A. E. Babcock, A. Slingkins, George Jeffery. The lodge is in a good condition and has prospects of several more members in the near future.

Presentation on Amherst Island.

On 22nd Dec. the pupils of No. 3, Amherst Island, presented their teacher, Miss M. Roberts, leaving the island, with a beautiful white silk handkerchief, a cup and saucer and other small presents, accompanying these with a very nice address to which Miss Roberts replied, exhorting them to do even better than last year and expressing her sorrow at parting.

ACROSS THE BORDER

WHAT THE GRANGERS HAVE DECIDED TO CARRY OUT.

How Will it Terminate?—A Run Off on the Railway—A Memorial For a Breakwater to go to Congress—the Village Items.

Cape Vincent, Jan. 12.—The grangers held a meeting, Saturday afternoon, and transacted some important business. The plan to have a grange store in the town will be successful. Two stores, in fact, will represent the grange in the village, Parker Bros. and H. N. Bushnell. Neither of the stores are under the control of the grange, but they will give a discount on all goods sold to the members of the society. How the scheme will turn out remains to be seen. There is no doubt but what the other merchants will find it their duty to refuse to handle the farmer's produce unless he, in return, shall purchase some goods of them. That is nothing but fair every way. So that in the end, if the grangers are not careful, they will find themselves without a market in the village for their produce. It is certain that the two stores, mentioned to represent the grange, cannot handle all the products of the farms in this town, and it is almost certain to follow that the stores which have made the contract with the grange will find, before long, that if they shall cater to the farmer element the village people will find it convenient to trade with the other merchants. This is believed to be a bad move on the part of the grangers by the village people in general. While the public is strongly in favor of the society generally, there is a strong sentiment that the farmers have gone too far in interfering with the merchants of the village.

The flour store recently opened here by W. Casler, has been closed. George Scobell has gone to Chicago to be gone several weeks. Charles Shepard, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, is now getting better. A. Wakeman, of Watertown, formerly of this village, travelling through Canada in the interest of his patent fish spoons, has returned home. The churches were well attended, as usual, Sunday. Tuesday evening the Ontario hose company elected the following officers: G. W. Warren, president; J. C. Gregor, secretary; D. C. Fitzgerald, treasurer; G. Phillips, foreman; C. Loudraville, first assistant; Nelson Mance, second lieutenant; P. Garlach and J. Strong, pipemen. The fire department will hold a dance this winter, it is believed. Thursday morning the passenger train from Watertown ran off an open switch in the yard at this place. The result was that before the train could be stopped the engine, baggage car and one coach left the track. It is believed that one of the employees at the yard left the switch open after making up a freight train. There are no signs of the river freezing up yet.

The breakwater question is the leading subject for discussion in the village at present. The committee appointed at the recently held meeting are doing their business well and everything is favorable for the presentation of the memorial to congress shortly. William Shafer, a well known farmer, living about two miles from this village, is seriously ill. The storms for a few days back have kept the village shovellers busy. The sleighing is good here at present. Justice Borland is on the sick list. The rabbit hunters are having great sport. The grange, of this town, recently elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Master, J. Armstrong; overseer, Preston Hollenbeck; lecturer, Martin Doctor, jr; steward, F. Merchant; assistant steward, George Vincent; treasurer, Fred Rienbeck; secretary, W. S. Vincent; chaplain, Mrs. H. E. Smith; gate keeper, H. E. Smith; pomona, Miss Ella Dunlay; ceres, Miss Minnie Saunders; flora, Mrs. R. Laird; lady assistant steward, Mrs. Merchant; organist, Miss Annie Armstrong; insurance director, E. J. Vincent. There is a talk of winter races at this place.

The theatre company, advertised to appear here last week, failed to put in an appearance. The ice dealers and those using large quantities of the article, are beginning to look anxious regarding the harvest this year. The signs point to another ice famine. There are very few vacant houses in the village at present. The boat livery men are getting ready for the coming season. A large number of skiffs are being built and others repaired. News has been received here that Mrs. Augustus Couter, of this village, who is spending the winter at Detroit, is seriously ill.

Friday's Whig contained a small local which brought gladness to the hearts of a number of our villagers. The item simply mentioned that the merchants of the limestone city had received over one hundred barrels of whiskey recently. Now, if the river would only freeze and make crossing [illegible]. The steamer Pierrepont made a trip between this place and Kingston, Monday morning. Ontario hose company will give a ball on the 22nd. It is expected that each and every company of the fire department will give a dance before the winter is over. It is reported that engine company No 1 will give a ball and supper on the 20th. The G. M. Parker concert company will give an entertainment at the Methodist church, in the village, this evening. The lower end of the town will probably have better protection against fire another year. The village authorities will probably build a number of cisterns in the spring.

THE LINE SURVEYED.

But Will the Road be Built—The Council to Meet on Monday.

Sydenham, Jan. 12.—The Whig was in error in stating that C. Ruttan was reeve of Loughboro. That gentleman declined to contest the election and Sidney W. Wood, our ex-deputy-reeve will preside at the council board the present year. The new council will meet for business Monday, at 11 a.m. Judge Wilkison presided at division court to-day. He thought Charlie Bryant was entitled to further remuneration for painting Miss Eleanor Switzer's house and gave judgment in his favor for $3.15. Miss Switzer was her own advocate and presented her case well. Bert. Page who, at last court, was assessed $50 for allowing fire to run off his place into W. Wilson's bush was refused a re-hearing. Bert. says he is not like a man that can't pay it.

The Bay of Quinte railway company have completed their survey for the line to this place. It will cross the creek and enter the village at the rear of J. R. Godfrey's house, crossing the main street at the gate in front of Scobell's hotel, tearing Henry Deer's gate off the hinges and passing through his yard to the commons on the south side of the lake. Now this is the route. Will we have the road? The lake was frozen over last Monday, but the ice is not sufficient for traffic. The hot air furnace in the Methodist church is giving satisfaction. Of late the services are disturbed by unruly boys who gather around the stoves and keep up a continual clack during the sermon. Why don't the parents accompany their children to church and see that they conduct themselves properly? Last Sunday night the antics of these young shavers was disgraceful and should not be tolerated.

Robert Kennedy, sr., dangerously ill for two weeks, is recovering. An abscess, resulting from grippe, was the cause. His son, Wesley, from Watertown, visited him. William Wright and wife, of Michigan, visiting relatives in this locality, returned home last week. Henry Stoness and his blooming young bride, Miss Alice Sills, attended the service in the Methodist church yesterday. They never looked better. J. K. Godfrey is going out of the livery business. James Chown has purchased a quantity of mica for the Webster company, from Joseph Woodruff. At the annual school meeting James McMillan was elected trustee, Robert Caldwell retiring. Robert is satisfied with all the honors and emoluments of a public school trustee, and will not seek re-election.

He Was a "Rebel."

The late Oren W. Smith, who died in Clayton, N.Y., was born in 1810. He was in Canada in 1817, and was a sympathizer of William Lyon Mackenzie. In November, 1838, he was taken prisoner at the "Wind Mill fight" and, with one hundred others, was sentenced to death by the British government. Through the influence of his Canadian friends his sentence was commuted to banishment for life to Van Dieman's Land. Five years later he received a Queen Victoria's pardon and was returned to his native land in March, 1848.

DESERONTO DOINGS

An Interesting Tale From the Town of Lumber and Terra Cotta.

Deseronto, Jan. 12.—The seating capacity of the public school has been added to. Great sleighing now. P. McCann, Tweed, a promising young man and intimate friend of E. J. Edwards, here, died at Tweed, Wednesday. The band boys are happy over the return of bandmaster Denmark. He and wife have been travelling with the Belle Stevenson company and are noted musicians. The 'Prentice Boys' assembly, Friday night, was well attended. Many Bellevillians were present. Prof. Schlopski and daughter, Belleville, and Prof. Denmark produced music that would tickle the sole of any dancer's pump and set it on the go. The young people were well pleased.

The opera house was well filled, despite the storm, Tuesday night, the occasion being the R. T. of Templars' concert. Friend Russell, of the Tribune, graced the chair and discharged the "take" assigned him in that easy manner peculiar to newspaper men only. Through the untiring efforts of Fred Hough, a treat, a rich mental programme, was presented. It was, perhaps, a little long at both ends, and a piece could have been spared from the centre which gave it rather a Scott act cast, but then the pieces were well put on and highly appreciated. Rev. Mr. Rice made an earnest "blood and thunder" speech of perhaps ten minutes, and Rev. Mr. Floyd was in his happiest mood. The dialogues and tableaux were choice and instructive and altogether 'twas a joyous time. The derricks which support the air line car which picks up and carries the bunchwood from the large mill, to a point some 500 feet out on the dock has been taken down after a service of fifteen years and will be replaced by a more substantial structure.

A new switch with trimmings has been put on the track at the customs house crossing. It was high time that that piece of boardwalk in connection was repaired as it had become dangerous. Teams are crossing the ice at the Prince Edward ferry. T. Gaylord and F. Butler, jr., have returned to Queen's, Kingston. A little fire, a 2-for-5-one, brought everybody to the street Saturday evening. The blaze was at Mr. Browne's residence, Queen street, but no damage to speak of was sustained. Rev. Floyd is advocating a commendable scheme; that is, for the teachers of all the Sunday schools to hold, each week, a union meeting, for the interchange of ideas to the more thorough understanding of the following Sunday's lesson. Beside this it will stimulate a harmonious feeling between the different denominations.

Deseronto adds a large contingent to the Canadian brigade (June 31st, 1891) of 530,220 Sunday school scholars and this Canadian host helps to make the world's grand total of 20,078,595. Quite a lot of little folks! Eh, when you come to think of it. Miss L. Daly, Napanee, whose vocal powers elicited favorable comment from Bellevillians before whom she recently appeared, is organist at the Methodist church, Deseronto. Ex-Gov. Howard, Wisconsin, and Prof. Robertson, addressed a large audience at Union hall, Thursday evening, on creamery interests. The mayor, E. W. Rathbun; S. Russell, Tribune; John McCulloch and others also made appropriate addresses. The buildings and plant are located two miles north on what is known as the Boundary and Slash road, and operations will begin next spring. This will benefit the farmers of Tyendinaga greatly.

When Mr. Osler was announced elected mayor of Toronto by over 1,000 majority, the night of the municipal contest, some of our political cork heads, bobbed way up to the ceiling in gushing ecstacy, but the night proved a banana peel for when they came down on "Tew-Sune Fleming by 300" they slid on through the cracks in the floor and haven't peeped since. Why everybody it seems thinks he's just the hunk-a-dora for Centre ward now. A position at the council board, that went begging, found plenty of applicants, Friday, at the (extra) nomination. Messrs Stoddard, Edwards, Whitten and Parnham were nominated. An election will take place but it's not likely all four will toe the mark. We'll have some fun anyway.

By the style some of the women come down on the devoted head of our genial time keeper sometimes, when they go to draw the fortnightly wage, clearly demonstrates that in that household, at least, the woman wears the domesticated pants. If "hubby" slides off on a wee burst and drops half a day unbeknownst to Molly, she hops on the time keeper, but he's one of those quiet, good-natured men and gracefully takes that along with his other duties. In fact 'twould be no use to sass back, anyhow. Rev. Mr. Rice commences, Sunday next, a series of illustrated sermons on "Pilgrim's Progress" The illuminations are 5x7 and came from Philadelphia.

THE KINGSTON MARKETS.

The Quotations as Gathered About the Square on Recent Days.

Kingston, Jan. 12.—Since Christmas tide the markets have been poorly attended and the display of produce has not been of such a character as to merit special comment. The changes in the quotations are few:

Fowls—Chickens, 50c to 75c per pair; partridge, 40c to 50c per pair; turkeys, 75c to $1.50; ducks, 75c per pair; geese, 50c to 75c each.

Butter—Fresh, 22c to 25c per lb.; packed, 16c to 19c per lb.; eggs, fresh, 25c per dozen; packed, 18c to 20c.

Vegetables—Onions, 75c to $1; potatoes, 40c to 50c per bag; carrots, turnips, beets, 40c per bag; celery, 25c to 40c per dozen; apples, 40c to 75c per bag.

Hides, wool and lamb skins, 50c to $1 each; deacons, 25c to 35c; hides, 3c, 4c and 5c; veals, 40c to 60c each; tallow, 5c to 5½c per lb.; wool, 16c.

Flour—Cornmeal, $1.50 to $1.80 per cwt.; bakers' flour, $2.50 to $2.75; family flour, $2.40 to $2.60; oatmeal, $2.40 to $2.50 per cwt.; buckwheat flour, $1.80 to $2.10 per cwt.; bran, $17 to $18 per ton; chops, $25 per ton.

Meat—Veal, 5c to 6c per lb. by quarter; pork, 4c, 5c, 6c per lb; lamb, 6c to 8c per lb. for hind quarter; carcase, 6½c per lb; beef, 5c to 10c per lb.; carcase, 3c to 4½c.

Fish—Finnan haddies, 10c per lb.; trout, 10c per lb.; herrings, 25 per dozen; bass, 8c per lb.; pickerel, 8c per lb.; ciscoes, 10c per lb.; eels, 5c per lb; sea salmon, 20c per lb.; sea trout, 20c per lb.; oysters, 40c to 50c per quart; haddock, 7c to 8c; cod, 10c.

When asked by a reporter the state of the grain market during the past week a merchant, said: "The markets are stranded. I really don't know what to say about them. The markets are certainly the dullest I have knew them to be within the past twelve months. We can buy any quantity of grain, but can't sell it. Within the last couple of days there has been a drop of 6c on buckwheat alone while the rate for wheat is unusually dull."

The quotations are: Rye, 82c to 83c; oats, 27c to 28c; wheat, 85c to 90c; peas, 58c; barley, 43c; buckwheat, 42c. Kingston merchants are not all anxious for buying heavily at above prices.

THE MONTREAL MARKETS.

There were about 500 head of butchers' cattle, two sheep and three small calves offered at Montreal on Monday. Trade was fair and prices better than on Thursday. Mr. Bickerdike bought all the good, large shipping cattle he could get at from 4½c to 4¾c per lb; pretty good stock sold at about 4c per lb, with common, dry cows at from $18 to $30 each, or from 2½c to 3c per lb, while some of the leaner beasts sold down to about 2c per lb. There were only two mutton critters reached this market to-day and prices are higher. Messrs. Brown, Bros. got a car load of good lambs from Kingston, which cost about 4½c per lb. There are not many fat hogs on the market, but there seems to be little demand for them, and prices at from 4½c to 4¾c per lb. Dressed hogs are from 5½c to 6c per lb.

Cheese conditions continues generally strong and, while business is not active, holders seemed to be well satisfied with the position of affairs. Strictly fancy stock are held very firm and what movements there is in the stock that can be moved around at 11c. We quote 11c to 11½c.

Comments on the Council.

It is ludicrous to listen to the remarks on the street relative to the council. One citizen said the last session only tended to increase the city's gas bill, another that a pair of boxing gloves should be furnished the council and still another thought that a [illegible] be put on each member's desk for their amusement.

Kid mitts and gloves for ladies, boys or men, will be sold at cost price at R. McFaul's. Everything reduced.
