FINE JAPAN AND BLACK TEAS

IF ALL TEAS WERE ALIKE you would be sure to know just what you are purchasing, but they are not. The difference in their quality are as wide as the difference in taste. I hose who can tell good tea from bad know what a worthless article bad tea is, and they know what a luxury they have at their disposal when they get a cup of good. The strange part of it is that while good tea commands a fair price it is not expensive. As you cannot tell whether it is good until you have. tried it, you must rely on your dealers. Give our 400 tea a trial, and you will be more than pleased with it. We are also selling an extra teafor the low price of 30c.
