Separate School Board.

A regular meeting of the separate school board, occurred last evening. There were present the chairman, Rev. Fr. Kelly; Messrs. J. J. Behan, R. J. Bowes, J. T. Catlin, W. Daly, T. J. Hennessy, O. Tierney, A. Hanley, J. O'Donnell, L. O'Brien, Dr. Ryan, W. J. McNeil and G. Darragh. A communication, from the city clerk asking the board to send in its estimates as soon as possible, was read, and a number of accounts were ordered to be paid. Brother Alpian, of the Brothers' school, reported that the drainage in connection with that institution was defective. Referred to the school committee. There were eleven applicants for the position of caretaker of St. Vincent academy and Brothers' school. W. Ryan was appointed. Desks for the academy have been ordered from an eastern manufacturer.

WHICH WILL IT BE?

The Sydenhamites Had a Talk With Mr. Rathbun on Railway Matters.

SYDENHAM, April 5.—Railway matters have assumed a business aspect of late. Two weeks ago a public meeting was held in the town hall to discuss the advisability of interviewing the Rathbun railway company, asking that a line be extended to Sydenham. A large deputation was appointed, with J. P. Lacey as chairman, to visit Deseronto and present to the railway company the views of the people of this township on the matter. H. B. Sherwood, superintendent of the R. of Q. RR., invited the delegation to visit Deseronto and interview Mr. Rathbun. Last Thursday, at ten o'clock, two railway coaches were in waiting at Harrowsmith, with Supt. Sherwood in charge. About thirty-five delegates and a great many more who were not delegates, altogether making one of the largest deputations of which we have any written record and the magnitude of which surprised the great railway magnate himself, boarded the train and in a few minutes Harrowsmith was lost to sight and Yarker came in view. After a short stay and several accessions to our party we proceeded. Camden East, Newburgh and Napanee Mills were soon left behind. At the latter place the "deputation" visited the extensive terra cotta and cement works carried on by the Rathbun company. Arriving at Napanee the delegation and tourists were generously entertained to dinner at the Paisley house. Deseronto was reached at two o'clock. The deputation was courteously received by Mr. Rathbun who, in a very frank and clear manner, gave his side of the question re railway to Sydenham. The least amount he would take, by way of bonus to extend his line to Sydenham, was $5,000, an amount the deputation could not guarantee. Three thousand dollars was offered but declined as too modest a sum for the benefit given. At a public meeting, last Friday night, several members of the deputation addressed the electors and, on motion, it was resolved that the council submit a by-law to the people, asking for $2,500 to aid in building a line from Harrowsmith to Sydenham, and a petition numerously signed has been presented, asking that $2,500, which this township has to its credit in the bank, be given for the same purpose. In the meantime the whole township is in a commotion, many of the ratepayers, while liking to have a railway, object to a bonus. An election will decide the matter. Mr. Boyd, from Rome, N.Y., has leased the Sydenham hotel from John Hogan and has taken possession.

INCIDENTS OF THE DAY.

Newsy Paragraphs Picked Up by Our Reporters in Their Rambles.

Niels Nielson, Carleton Place, has left for Edmonton.

A daily mail has been established between Almonte and Blackeney. R. Rosamond, M.P. also expects to establish a daily evening mail between Almonte and Carleton Place.

Robert Teskey, late of Appleton, died at residence of his daughter, Mrs. Dr. Giles, Brockville, aged eighty-nine years. He was a Methodist and a magistrate. His wife died last May after fifty-nine years of married life.

Mr. Frederick Boscovitz Is Coming.

The most satisfactory announcement which we have had to make in many a long day is that the great Hungarian pianist, Frederick Boscovitz, is to give one of his famous Illustrated Lecture Concerts, at Martin's Opera House, on Wednesday, April 13th. The name "Boscovitz" is of course familiar to every musician and advanced student in music, not only as a virtuoso of world-wide reputation, but also as composer of the first rank. In England, France, every important art centre of Europe in fact, Mr. Boscovitz has been the recipient of honors from the highest musical authorities. Among his patrons have also been princes, dukes, duchesses, and others of the upper strata of European social life.

An important fact to be remembered is that Mr. Boscovitz was a pupil of Chopin, and as an interpreter of that great master he has few, if any, rivals.

To illustrate the estimation in which he is held we cannot do better than give an extract from the Morning Post, of London, Eng., as follows: "We are delighted to welcome Mr. Boscovitz back to London. The artist appeared to as much advantage as a composer, as he did in his capacity as a player. His 'Berceuse' and 'Coeurnetta' are beautiful and flowing in melody and splendidly treated. We know of no one at present before the public who possesses such an exquisite touch as this artist.

Public Lecture.

Rev. S. Houston will give his second lecture on Church History, in Cooke's church, on Thursday evening, April 7th, at 8 p.m. Silver collection at the door.

A Rare Treat.

"Pictures in the Air," a first class entertainment, in Zion church, Pine street, to-morrow night.

THE MOULDERS' TROUBLE

WHAT THE COMPANY AND MEN HAVE TO SAY.

Work is Going on in the Victoria Foundry —Mounters are Sufferers Through the Strike—The Moulders Want a Clause in the Contract Cut Out.

This morning a reporter visited the Victoria stove works and was shown through the different departments by Mr. Warmington, superintendent. In the moulding shop there were many boys at work. Castings of small articles are made twice a week. Mr. Warmington says he only needs two good moulders with his present staff and he would be able to work the foundry more extensively than at present. He does not want any of his former moulders, and advises that if they can get work elsewhere they had better avail themselves of it. He said the idea that the firm had no stock, and would have to give in to the moulders, is absurd. There are nearly enough stoves on hand to commence the fall trade with. There are large lots in many rooms. By the strike there are nearly twenty-five mounters thrown out of employment who are not liable in any way for the difficulty. Mr. Warmington says he is bound to win the fight. The clause in the firm's conditions the men object to is that which states that men leaving the employ must give two weeks' notice, and if they are discharged must be given two weeks' notice. The clause relating to the breaking of castings would be cancelled if necessary.

Mr. Cunningham thinks a great deal of the moulders. They are all decent men, and he is sorry they are so foolish as to stand in the light of their own welfare.

Mr. Warmington said a French-Canadian moulder came to the city, last week, with only five cents in his possession. He was given his meals and a boarding-house engaged. Men went to where he boarded and, shaking their hands in his face, said: "You will never live to go to the foundry." The stranger was greatly frightened, and on the advice of his sister, a nun at the Hotel Dieu, decided to leave the city. People in the city paid his board bill for a week and his railway fare to another point.

Some of the strikers were met and they denied that any violence had been manifested towards the Frenchman. The facts of the strike were made known to him and he agreed that he would not fill the place of any other person. The men said that they were very willing to give and receive proper notice of leaving, it was the clause touching payment for breakages that they objected to. The most skilful workman might have accidents and breakages and made to pay for them on the statement of a foreman to secure favor with the firm. With the elimination of the third clause the moulders will go to work.

CHURCH HISTORY.

Major Mayne's Concluding Address — Thanks for Space in the Papers.

Last night Major Mayne delivered the last of his very interesting and instructive lectures on church history, taking up the period immediately after the restoration and up to the present time. He explained the coming of the Prince of Orange to England, and showed how the clergy of the church were deprived of their livings and turned adrift to work or starve by the Puritans, and the different treatment accorded to the Puritans when the church again regained its proper place. He showed that John Wesley was the innocent cause of the Methodist separation, although himself a church clergyman, and begged his followers, to his dying day, not to leave the church. He reviewed how Methodist bishops came into existence, referred to the opposition raised by the Puritans to the prayer book, and explained many of the changes asked for, some of them being extremely frivolous. He advised all churchmen and churchwomen to read carefully the preface of the prayer book, and remember that it was written before there was any other church than the church of England in England.

The major dwelt on the coldness of the spiritual life of the church in Wesley's time, and explained why he was refused the pulpits of the church until after he himself had forsaken certain erroneous ideas which he preached, and which he learned from Moravia. The speaker said that the teachings of all and each of the sects was imported from the continent of Europe.

Canon Spencer acted as chairman and conveyed the thanks of those present to the lecturer. Rev. M. M. Harding, in speaking to the resolution, remembered when the present archbishop of Canterbury was elevated to his present position. He strongly advised his hearers to study the history of the church so that they could give a reason for the hope that was in them and tell why they were churchmen.

The major, in reply, said he must thank not only those who came to hear the lectures, but he was also grateful to the local press for the amount of valuable space given to defenders of the church when a like privilege was refused by some of the large dailies of Toronto.

THE FEATHERS FAIRLY FLEW.

The Result of a Sermon by a Clergyman at Maberly.

MABERLY, April 5. — The protracted meeting are now over and the people are beginning to turn their attention to the temporal matters of this world. For over four months these meetings have been carried on, and if our spiritual affairs are not in a satisfactory state it is no fault of our minister and his equally worthy colleagues. Without doubt much good has been done and we hope permanently. On Sunday, 27th ult., the Rev. C. J. Hutton preached an eloquent sermon on some of the heresies prevalent in the district, in St. Alban the Martyr's church. On the same date the Rev. B. Pierce also gave an equally forcible discourse on the pomps and vanities of this wicked world. His sermon aimed principally at extravagance in dress and the indulgence in unnecessary furbelows, etc., was so touching and some of his listeners were so affected that the feathers in some cases fairly flew. One lady in particular was so conscience striken that she took them out rather forcibly there and then. I see, however, that some yet retain them. Isaac Korry, our popular reeve, is making extensive alterations in his mill and getting ready for the summer. Richard Menders had a sale last Saturday, prior to moving to Perth. The things fetched fair prices.

On Sunday 3rd, there were no services in the English church owing to Mr. Hutton's absence in Toronto. It is hoped that Mrs. Hutton will make a speedy recovery and soon reappear amongst us. John Atcheson is visiting Harrowsmith with the intention of buying a thoroughbred ball for the society. Our river is opening up and all hands are busy painting boats and getting their respective crafts ready for action. Ephraim Dakin shot a very fine otter, some five feet in length in the Tay River. John Davis had a sale yesterday on his premises. He also got good prices. Measles are very prevalent in the district consequently a small school attendance. Mr. Somerville, of Middleville, has been engaged as cheesemaker for the season.

Listen to This.

Leave your orders for the leading corset Canada Star; nothing to equal it; they will wear until you are tired of them; one hundred pairs at cost. Waists, shoulder braces, steels of all kinds, also supporters, wigs, waves, switches, cheap. Agents for the American dress cutting model. All you want is one week. Dressmakers supplied; M. Richardson, 107 Princess street, servant's registry, Kingston.

The Hotel Arrivals.

Arrivals at the British American Hotel—D. K. McIntosh, Ottawa; Herb Robinson, Toronto; John Kearney, Montreal; O. R. Clans, New York; W. H. Brophy, C. H. Draper, W. G. Lyon, W. F. Meddowcroft, Toronto; R. Pemberton, Reading, Pa.; R. Johnston, P. W. Hogle, Montreal; T. P. Alder, New York; A. Paterson, Toronto.

CITY AND VICINITY.

Millinery Opening Thursday.

Miss Jackson (late with B. Doran & Co.) will open a new millinery store in Offord's block, Brock street, Thursday, April 7th. Latest and most fashionable spring and summer millinery.

Police Court—Wednesday.

At the police court this morning William Brogan, the incorrigible youth was given his freedom on future good behavior. John McKee, for being disorderly on the street, did not appear.

Trees For the Park.

Ald. Carson says a farmer has offered to furnish the city 100 maple trees in the fall for the park for fifteen cents each. Ald. Carson will urge the council to accept this offer. By planting the trees this fall the park would not need any more for several years, except to replace dead ones.

Oh, What a Cough.

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that most terrible disease Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails.

Opened Successfully.

Palace dime museum, Princess street, opposite Windsor hotel, opened last night. The place was crowded with ladies and children. The performance was very pleasing and everyone enjoyed themselves. A change of programme will be given each week. The doors are open from 1 till 11 o'clock p.m.

Coming By-and-Bye.

The prospects for the removal of the G.T.R. workshops to the city in the near future are getting brighter all the time. Speculators, who have received pointers, have purchased tracts of land at the lower G.T.R. depot, and railway employees living in Belleville and Brockville are willing to sell their houses at great sacrifices.

A Special Meeting.

A meeting of the school property committee was held yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of discussing the terms for drawing plans and specifications for the proposed new school, submitted by the architects. The letters were opened, and it was decided to refer the figures to the school board for consideration, as the committee was divided. A special meeting of the board will be held Thursday evening.

A Very Mournful Death.

Eleven days after a child was born Mrs. Grant, living in a house located in the yard at the rear of Julian's second-hand store, on Princess street, died, last Friday, in much pain. Her husband is in the North-West working on a cattle ranch for a resident of this city. He was notified of the death, but has not yet arrived. This morning the remains were forwarded to her mother, who lives in Sackett's Harbor. She leaves five children, some of whom are adults. The funeral was attended only by members of the family.

Ex-Mayor's Drennan's Opinion.

Ald. Drennan, who was unable to attend the meeting of the reception committee, yesterday afternoon, says if he had been present he would have certainly opposed the asking of the $200 appropriation. He says that during his term of office he went down in his own pocket to defray expenses in entertaining visitors. Ald. Carson says when he told Mayor McIntyre that he should do the same out of his $800 the mayor replied: "Ah Billy, you're talking to the galley now." Some hot talk is expected at the council meeting over this matter.

The Children All Taken.

This morning John Scanlon, of the WHIG composing staff, suffered a severe affliction, the death of his infant daughter, Laura, aged one year and nine months, a bright and promising little girl, from brain fever, after five days illness. About six weeks ago the family were bereaved by the death of Marion, a bright eyed child of almost four years, and now the present loss has rendered the home childless. Most sincere will be the condolences to the parents in their sorrowings. The little ones, safe from care and in angel choirs, will console and strengthen and brighten anticipations of a coming blessed meeting. The funeral occurs to-morrow.

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

The Little Things Picked Up About the Wharves and Elsewhere.

Lake Ontario is slowly but steadily rising.

Capt. W. Scott will master the tug Maggie May this season.

Richardson's will load the barges with wheat for Montreal.

The storm drum foretells a continued blow from the west.

The Oswego lighthouses were lighted Saturday evening.

The schr. Annie M. Peterson, Oswego, is to have a new set of sails.

The steamer Corsican is having new buckets put on her wheels.

T. Halligan has been engaged as wheelman on the str. Corsican.

The improvements to the schr. Ella Morton are now all completed.

The str. North King is being painted. The carpenter work is now all complete.

The schr. Grantham can boast of being the first sailing vessel to leave this port this season.

T. McAuley's new steamyacht is the envy of all local yachtsmen. It is indeed a beauty and cost $800.

C. C. Newton, Montreal, is in the city to see his new steamyacht, now in erection at R. Davis' ship yard.

The tug Thistle, of the Lake Ontario fishing company, of Cape Vincent, is being repainted at Davis' ship yard.

The scow Quebec is being converted into a steambarge. Workmen are engaged putting in a new keel box and engine.

Capt. Newlands, of the str. Rideau Belle, left on a trip up the Rideau canal to make arrangements for the coming season.

The Oswego manufacturing company has chartered the barge Atwater, Buffalo, to go in consort with the steambarge Van Allen.

The str. Spartan will be equipped with what is known as feather wheels this season. The change is expected to add to her speed.

The str. Khartoum, laying at Richardson's slip all winter, is leaking badly. There were four feet of water in her hold all winter.

The str. Hero has had one new wheel put on. The workman had not sufficient time to attack the other one before the opening of navigation.

C. Chambers, carter, sold his horse and truck to E. McFadden yesterday and left Detroit last night, where he has been engaged as mate of a vessel.

The str. Rideau Belle is having some work done to her engine. The boat will be dry docked shortly and receive a general overhauling so as to be ready for the opening of navigation.

The fishing boat, B.O.Y., of the Lake Ontario Fish Co., arrived in the city per G. T. ATTACKED BY A FRIEND.

The Neat Use Mr. Dawson Made of the Writings of an Editor.

G. W. Dawson, M.P., of Addington, took part in the franchise debate in parliament on Monday and read a letter, published in Kingston, from the pen of R. W. Shannon, now editor of the Ottawa Citizen, in which he expresses the conviction that the "consensus of opinion among those who have had experience of the actual operation of the act will be that it is complicated, expensive and unsatisfactory." He favored the use of municipal lists and to watch and prosecute conscienceless assessors. He concludes: "If the obstacles to the adoption of the municipal voters' lists are found to be insuperable it will not, in my opinion, be long before parliament will supersede the present system by the introduction of universal suffrage with an easy and inexpensive system of registration."

Mr. Dawson added: "Now
