

RESULTS.

Examining the wash closely when SURPRISE SOAP is used.

Nots that white goods are made whiter; colored goods brighter; flannels softer.

You will see that not the slightest injury has been done to the finest lace or tenderest fabrics.

The fine results of the SURPRISE SOAP washing is sufficient reason for its use—to say nothing of its economy; it's labor saving properties.

It's not only for washing clothes that Surprise Soap is good, but it will clean every thing that needs cleaning.

SURPRISE Soap is pure soap.

HE MURDERED HIS WIFE

SHOCKING TRAGEDY AT BRAMPTON LAST NIGHT.

A Retired Farmer, Caged by Jealousy, Losses and Whisky, Shoots His Wife Dead but is Overpowered Before He Can Carry Out His Intenton of Killing Himself.

BRAZPTON, Ont.—April 23.—Last January James Lundy and his family came to Brampton from their farm on the first line West Chinguacousy, and they made their home in a small house which they called the "Brampton House" in St. Matthews. Shortly after their arrival people began to talk of the unhappy relationship existing between Lundy and his wife, and they were said to quarrel frequently. Most of the time Lundy was in trouble and to escape having his property seized for debt it said Lundy decided his fate to his wife, and he claimed that his wife and her brother were trying to end his life by driving him into debt.

The Green Eyed Devil's "Ales."

Lundy was another factor in their trouble. It is reported he drank to excess.

In the handsomely furnished parlour were gathered Mrs. Lundy, his daughter, and his son, a boy of 12 years of whom is a man and the other a boy of 10.

Besides these there were James McKinnon, Mr. Lundy's brother; T. Sutwood and his wife and William Tracy and wife.

There was a pleasant evening piano going and the two girls sang.

The story told by one present is that Lundy came into the room behind the parlour, hidden by curtains, and began muttering in his sleep.

Mr. Tracy went over to him and said and sat down. Lundy, who was evidently drunk, lay on the couch, withdrawn into his own universe.

A pistol shot rang out.

They had not got beyond the hearing of Mrs. Tracy when a pistol shot rang out, followed by a woman's shriek.

An informer dashed into the hall leading to the kitchen and another shot followed.

He dashed into the kitchen and was nearly hit by the flash of a third report.

The window was broken and the witness held him fast, the man struggling like a maniac. Help came quickly and the revolver was seized.

On the floor was the dead body of Mrs. Lundy. She had entered the kitchen temple and another shot was fired at the same side, penetrating the pupil vein, and death must have been almost instantaneous.

That one was the only utterance of poor woman made.

The dead body was passed with the wall of the kitchen, her feet slightly apart, touching the threshold of the door, a horrible sight, sinking right in a bath of blood.

The Murderer Arrested.

Lundy was placed under arrest and taken to jail by Chief Const. The murderer was found and perfectly known.

The murderer's name, before he was arrested, was John Lundy, a man of 33 years of age.

Lundy's family connection in Peel is very large and the utmost exertion exists over the affair.

Glories in His Death.

It appears Lundy had not been living at the C.P.R. bridge at Lachine. One side of his face was terribly bruised and one of his hands was partially severed.

He was seen at a hotel in Peel, when the inquiry was made if he was about a mile from Lachine.

Coroner Mullin and Crown Attorney McFadden empanelled a jury, who viewed the body at 11 p.m. and adjourned until 2 p.m. Saturday, when the inquest will be continued.
