SOME EXPLANATION.

The Ottawa Citizen undertakes to explain away the fact, very apparent, that the inmigration policy of the government has only the effect of bringing people into the country in order that they may go out of fourteen years, and this season we it as soon as possible and ty the nearest route. Our contemporary shows that 303, 351 of the gross immigration given in the reings to match all patterns. Paper | port of the minister of agriculture, equisted of roturns of settlers with customs entries at points along the frontier, and that 200, 000 of these were returned Canadians. "The Canada as the gross immigration proper apart from the returns with settlers' effects, and that is, moreover, the figure of gross immigration with which to deal in any argument connected with the immigration and the census." Well, accepting the figure, as submitted by our contemporary, as correct, let us ask what has be come of the over half a million of folks upon which good money has been spent in asslated passages, etc.? What is the sense of maintaining a policy which involves the expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dol lars and the only effect of which is to add to the population of the United States. Canada has no need of those who are without means and nerve and purpose. Michael Davitt, in his recent article in the Nineteenth Century, has made that point abundantly clear. But that is the kind of people it has been getting and it cannot hold them. They cross

What is it? The Canadian parliament s just decided—at least the conservative you know the greatest dan- majority have done so-by passing a resolution placed in the hands of Mr. McNeill, and moved by him, and reading : "That if and when the parliament of Great Britain and Ireland permits Canadian products to the markets of the United Kingdom upon more favorable terms than it affords to the MORE, try ALE AND BEEF products of foreign countries, the parliament PEPTONIZED. It is a wonder. of Canada will be prepared to accord corresponding advantages by a substantial reduction in the tariff it imposes upon British Tonic and Food and has manufactured goods." This implies that there is really room for some discrimination in Britain's trade, and that it can be proaround quick. It can be vided more favorably for Canada. The policy, however, of the mother country is free trade, and the government has at sundry times of late made it quite clear that it is to remain such. The free | doing. trade people have been making no effect with their talk, neither have the federationists. The idea of taxing the goods of all work six months in the year to put them countries entering Britain save those of the solonies has only merited passing attention, and the prospect is that the time will never come when the tory plan of preferent prevent this. Touching the subject to tial trade will command even serious cousideration of the British government, Surely this is not the best that Hop. Mr. Foster can recommend ! Sarely it is not the beautiful theory which inspired his mystical language in presenting his budget ! Surely he had something more definite in view in bespeaking an arrangement which would bring Britain and Canada into closer connection and divert, profitably, the tyade that has been going to the United States. If he had nothing better ly clear to you that TEAS than Mr. McNelli's resolution he undertook masking he shows what an arrant humbug | Hay, Cobourg, treasurer. he is. Hon. L. H. This, the only practical solution of the trade problem, as it was presented to the house was voted down, and the meaningless thing projected by the government car-
