Ompah Occurrences.

OMPAH, July 4.—There is a glaring example of gerrymandering at Plevna. A young gentleman has been introduced by George Dawson, M.P., who intends placing his name (when he has one) on the voters' list at as early a date at which the law allows him. The new comer shows a strong conservative liking for pap. The picnic in connection with the Clarendon mission came off on Friday, in Spike's grove, near Ardoch, and was a great success. The day was lovely, only one little presence of a shower, just enough to make it a delightful day to clasp wrape around white throats and undo them again immediately after. The collections of wild flowers were really artistic and the judges, Rev. J. Plant and Dr. Elkington, awarded first prize to Miss Ada Johnston, second to Miss Eva Johnston, third to Miss Smith. These little ladies had bestowed a great amount of skill and care in their selection and it is intended to make it an annual affair. Next year the prize will be for the best named collection. The prizes consisted of three pairs of tame rabbits. The foot race for colts under fifteen was won, by two yards, by Robert Munro. There was a splendid struggle for second place, won by a head by Herbert Elkington; prize, a pig, valued at $3. The proceeds were $50 and will pay off the balance of organ debt, Ompah, now out of harness and four new wheels for the missionary's buggy, etc., and, I say, Mr. Editor, if you are short of a real, prime article of a best summer girl you just come to the next picnic at Ardoch and hope for a little shower of rain.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Can Have A Meet.

KINGSTON, July 5.—(To the Editor): In yesterday's issue I am credited with saying that "If the council would change the date of our civic holiday, I would guarantee another such a crowd as we had on the first, and large purses would be put up for the racing men," or words to that effect. Will you kindly allow me to say that as regards the latter statement, no amateur cyclist is allowed to race for money, nor can we, as an association, offer money prizes. Once a racing man accepts any monetary return or even disposes of any prizes won by him he is ranked as a professional and barred from both Canadian and United States associations and tracks.

It is this watchfulness and careful control of contestants and events which keep all amateur sports so free from ungentlemanly and degrading influences and renders them so popular and successful, both amongst the club men and the public at large.

Allow me to say also, that the K.A.A.A., once thoroughly organized, would bring more money into this city for the small amount invested than any other institution now in it or likely to be. As regards civic holiday, it would be wise of the council to avoid the dates selected by other cities, namely 5th, 10th, 15th and 23rd, as most of them have already arranged for race meets which shuts the Kingston club out from doing so. Put the date anywhere between these dates and we can have another good race meet and bring the track racing men here.—E. C. HILL.

 It was a typographical error in crediting Mr. Hill with using the word "purses" instead of "prizes."

Have It Done Here.

KINGSTON, July 5.—(To the Editor): I noticed in your issue of a few days ago that the Salvation army was going to take up contributions to get the means of sending a boy named Jarvis to New York to have an operation performed upon his knee. Why don't they, I wonder, first apply to the operating surgeons of their own city? Two of them, at least, have been for years operating for all kinds of affections on young and old, both in the hospitals and out. I have seen and operated on many cases, but never, as I can recollect, seen the boy referred to. It is altogether probable that whatever could be done for him in New York, might be done for him as well at home, here in this Canadian city of Kingston.—I. R. DUPUIS.

More Needed Improvements on the Tapis —Flowers For Patients.

The monthly meeting of the board of governors occurred Monday afternoon. Present: E. J. B. Pense, chairman; Drs. K. N. Fenwick and T. R. Dupuis; Messrs. E. H. Smythe, B. W. Robertson, I. A. Breck and E. Chown. Accounts aggregating $1,126 60 were passed. June opened with sixty-two patients and closed with fifty three; there were five deaths and five births. Tenders were received for year's coal supply and awarded to Breck & Booth at $5 65, being the lowest offer. B. W. Robertson and L. A. Breck were appointed visiting governors for July, and requested to deal with proposal to erect a conservatory that patients may have flowers to brighten their wards. The medical branch of Queen's college was solicited to bear half of the expense of erection of a much needed upruse, to cost $200. The salary of Dr. Kilborne was increased $100 for second year of service, and that of Miss McMillan, matron, was increased $60. The board passed a request to city committee upon fire and light, for an electric light opposite the hospital, the gas light there being no longer in service, and there being no light between Barrie street and Gordon street.

Thousand Island Park.

The electric light started for the first on Monday evening and gives good satisfaction. The Columbian, principal stores, tabernacle and chapel are lighted with it. Superintendent Brown is having the sidewalks repaired, a thing that was greatly needed. Mrs. Lee's, of Syracuse, fine villa, on Coast avenue, is illuminated slightly with hard some colored lights. The fee of 10c. for landing at the wharf is causing quite a lot of comment, but it is to be hoped that matters will be arranged before long. Quite a number of guests are stopping at the Columbian. The Pullman house is filling up rapidly. It is managed this season by Charles Hutchinson, of Rome, with Austin Gemmel, of New York, as chief clerk.

John Morrison is building a handsome cottage on Home avenue for Hugh Brownlee, of Smith's Falls. T. R. VanKpps' steam drill is still busy drilling for water in the solid granite at Mrs. Lee's villa. Baggagemaster Newton has had to put on an extra team the last few days delivering baggage to the cottages. Late arrivals: Dr. Hiborn and family, Syracuse, Crystal Bay; Dr. Lovell and family, Kingston, Mosquito lodge; H. R. Scott and family, Watertown, Prospect avenue; G. Penn and family, Syracuse, Coast avenue; W. H. Angel and family, Syracuse, Sunset avenue; J. Tanner and family, Omar, Prospect avenue; Rev. J. Gulle, Rome, Dominion avenue.

THE RESULT OF A BASEBALL GAME AT OGDENSBURG.

There Was Much Life in the Burg Yesterday—The Kingston Steamers Carried Big Crowds—Men and Boys at Play—The Kingston Lads Had Very Hard Luck.

The Fourth of July celebration at Ogdensburg attracted a large crowd from Kingston. The str. Maud, chartered by the Gananoque carriage works band, and the str. Hero, engaged by the citizens' band of Gananoque, took a good number from the city and increased to the steamers' limit by passengers taken on at the intermediate points. The burg was reached at 11:30 o'clock, and this gave the visitors an opportunity of seeing the sights before the programme, to be disposed of on the fair ground, was begun. The town was well decorated with flags, etc., and the movements of several thousand people contrasted favorably with the usual easy-going gait of the burg. The chief attraction to the Canadians rested in a baseball match, between the Princess streets and the home team, Pastimes. At this particular time and for certain reasons the Kingstonians predicted defeat and their belief was apparent from the start. Ogdensburg possesses a team of ball players of whom she should be proud.

A comparison of the muscular strength of the two clubs caused one to smile and drop an encouraging word for the plucky little Princess streeters. The Pastimes' composition is much after the style of the old Park Nine team, and when it is considered that the team plays ball under cover in winter as well as on the green in summer it cannot be wondered at that their work is so perfect. Their fielding was good and their batting telling. The visitors, while by no means afraid, required some time to get on to things. Although defeated Kingston put up a good game and had not certain incidents occurred at the latter end of the game the result would have been different. The field game of the Princess street team was good but their batting generally poor.

Pastimes: Sullivan, r.f.; Austin, 1b.; Coyne, c.; Wells, c.f.; Brewer, 2b.; Murray, p.; Perkins, 3b.; Dezil, l.f.; Doe, s.s.

Kingston went to bat first with Laird at the plate. He took advantage of the second ball thrown and made a pretty base hit over third, stole second safely on a muff of the second base man. McRae came next and hit to Perkins and went out by a pretty one hand catch of Austin's. A. Robinson struck out while Laird stole third base in good style and made home on a fumble of Perkins. Wilson came next to the bat and struck out. This was encouraging to the boys, but what followed dampened their joys.

Sullivan at first struck out but Austin made a pretty base, but Coyne followed to centre which allowed Austin in from second. Wells scored off a hit from Perkins, Brewer and Murray made home through an error throw and Dezil followed suit. Sullivan next struck out and the Pastimes had scored six runs.

The Kingstonians were chicagoed in the next innings, Coyne for the Pastimes struck a pretty fly to the left field gathered in by Marshall Reid to the delight of the grand stand. In the third innings McRae got his base on balls but was put out in the act of stealing second, a trick at which the second baseman and the catcher were dandies, Connor hit to third and out while Wilson knocked a fly to the pitcher. The Pastimes got three in the third and two in the fourth innings.

At this point the Princess street club was made all the weaker by the withdrawal of catcher Robinson through a fractured finger. This caused a change in the batting order all round, and T. Robinson and McRae stood face to face. In the fifth inning Connors struck to centre, but was put out on a throw to second, and A. Robinson likewise could not cross the home plate. Laird scored. In the sixth inning M. Reid knocked a fly and T. Robinson scored. McRae caught a man stealing second by sending the ball to the pitcher and thence to second base. In the seventh Connors knocked to left field, and A. Robinson scored from second base. M. Reid, right field, caught a pretty fly off Sullivan. One of the Pastimes ran into Reid, second baseman. His leg was badly hurt and he was obliged to go to a doctor. C. Thompson took his place, and the game was concluded by a score of fourteen to four in favor of Ogdensburg.

Horse races occurred in the afternoon and bicycle races in the evening. Fireworks made the city look beautiful. The boats left for home at six o'clock, but a large number of those who came down that way remained over for the 12:10 o'clock train, and therefore missed nothing of the night's sport.

The Princess street nine were not all satisfied with the decisions of the umpires. Both men were from Ogdensburg but still it is believed one of them tried to do the right thing.

A. Robinson, catcher of the Princess streeters says he is confident that the Kingston club can beat the Pastimes.

Yesterday afternoon was the first time A. Robinson, catcher, ever had to leave his position. His fingers were crippled to such an extent that he had no power over the ball or he would never have given in.

It is the intention of the Princess street club to again meet the Pastimes' team this summer.

Myrtle Peck, well-known here, gave performances on the track.

The 2:37 trot, purse $300, was taken by Jessie Sheridan, Canton; Mary L., Boston; J. C., Theresa. Best time, 2:41½. Free for all trot, purse $300, Charley C., Brantford; Puck, Baltimore; Lora J., Cantor; time, 2:35½.

P. McLaughlin was present at the races. When he saw the way things were going he was rather mad to think he had not entered. Billy S. would have had a clean sweep in the 2:37 class and Minnie a sure thing in the free-for-all.

On Thursday a cricket match will be played between Picton and Kingston teams.

Barnfather, known here as catcher of Young's lighting curves, with the Kingston's is now playing right field with an amateur club in Hamilton.

Not a few of the cyclers dropped money on dominion day at the sports. There was a book-maker present and he quietly handled much cash. The Hamiltons lost heavily. They backed Palmer every time.

Newman Pierce is making quite a reputation for himself as a baseball pitcher in Toronto. On Saturday he pitched the Park nine to victory, the opposing team, the Excelsiors, failing to make a hit off him. Pierce was with the Kingston's in olden days.

The "Kitties," of London, had a jolly time and went home feeling that the Kingston meet was the best they ever enjoyed. Miss host Grimshaw gave them fine fling and they will not soon forget it. They visited all the points of interest in and about the city. Joe Knowles said if the cyclers at the meet had "only waited till we got started" everybody would have been "out of sight."

CITY AND VICINITY.

A Fine Market.

There was a large market to-day and plenty of eggs and butter for sale. The choicest goods came from the islands. Strawberries were plentiful at four boxes for 25c.

Sent to Cleveland, Ohio.

To-day T. Robinson & Son sent a handsome double silk banner to Cleveland, O., for Forest City, L.O.L., No. 143. On one side is the cut of King William and on the other is an open bible, over which is a large spread eagle. The motto is: "Our God, Our Country and Our President."

A Very Small Number.

J. P. Gildersleeve, issuer of marriage licenses, said to-day he only drew up nineteen forms in June, and that number was below the average. It was not nearly as large as last year. "Ten years ago," said the issuer, "more licenses were issued than of late." The licenses issued for June represent the city, county of Frontenac and adjacent counties.

Published Two Lectures.

John Henderson & Co., Kingston, have published, in pamphlet form, two lectures by Rev. Samuel Houston, on "Churches, Their Claims and Origins," being a feature of the recent newspaper and platform controversy in this city. Apart from a preface which cannot favorably incline one portion of the public, the lectures are worthy of the enterprise the publishers have shown.

Married in New York.

On Thursday afternoon Dr. Donald Maclean, of Detroit, well known in Kingston, and Mrs. Sara E. Duncan, widow of ex-Mayor Duncan, also of Detroit, were married by Rev. Thomas Brown, of St. Thomas' church, New York, at the residence of Lieut. and Mrs. George R. Cecil, on David's Island, New York harbor. Dr. and Mrs. Maclean will make a short European tour.

Conservative Convention.

At the annual meeting of the conservative association of South Leeds, held at Lyndhurst, Walter Beatty was re-elected president; J. R. Dargavel, vice-president; W. B. Carroll, secretary, and Dr. Preston, M.P.P., treasurer. W. B. Carroll alluded to the unfair representation accorded to Gananoque at conventions, as compared with other municipalities, and the whole subject of representation was referred to the council to report fully at the next meeting.

University Extension.

The university extension scheme, as carried out in Ottawa, by professors of Queen's university, will be vigorously continued next session, and in addition Rev. Principal Grant has offered a course of lectures on the higher criticism of the new testament, to be delivered by himself during October and November. He offers his services gratuitously, but expects the lectures to net a sum of money which may enable it to deal generously with the other lecturers, and yet make it possible for the course tickets to be placed so low as to be within the reach of would-be students whose means are limited. It has been estimated that nearly $300 per course will be required to defray expenses in connection with the scheme.

Hotel Arrivals.

Arrivals at the British American Hotel—W. R. Mossy, James B. Baxter, W. J. Taylor, Allok Weir, A. R. Dewdney, G. E. Ellis, Louis Cleghorn, W. J. Clarke, Toronto; J. A. C. Levy, Hamilton; W. Running to Ogdensburg.

A pretty sight was presented down the river yesterday morning when the four steamers, Sa. Lawrence, New Island Wanderer, Maud and Hero were all in sight of each other bound for the same destination. At Gananoque the Maud left about ten minutes before the Hero and a race was anticipated. Capt. Hinckley well knew that the Maud could not distance the Hero and accordingly a full head of steam was put on with the result that the vessels left Brockville about the same way as they had Gananoque. In the meantime, however shortly after the Maud had passed Whiskey Island the St. Lawrence steamed out of Clayton and was soon abreast of the Hero and passed on to overtake the Maud. The steamer New Island Wanderer soon hove in sight and went by the Hero like a shot and later on fairly walked passed the Maud. An interesting race was looked forward to between her and the St. Lawrence, but the Wanderer turned into Brockville and spoiled the fun. The Maud beat the Hero to Ogdensburg.

Beginning Another Quarter.

When the days of summer come there is usually a falling off in the attendance of members at the meetings of fraternal societies, but this does not seem to be the case with St. Lawrence division of the Sons of Temperance as great interest is taken in its work by its members, and it is said to have the best average attendance of any society in the city. Although during the quarter just ended several good working members have left and are now in the United States and a few others have dropped out, the society shows an increase of thirteen over the returns of the previous quarter. There are ninety-one members in good standing. Last evening the officers for the quarter, now commenced, were initiated by D.G.W.P. McRossie assisted by J. Schroder as grand conductor. The officers are: R. M. Horsey, W.P.; Miss Ball, W.A.; John Blackhurst, R.S.; Miss Shanessy, A.R.S.; W. R. Allen, F.S.; Edwin Chown, treasurer; Frederick Lyttle, chaplain; S. A. Graves, C.; Miss Jennie Bennett, A.C.; Samuel Ball, I.S.; Joseph Talt, O.S.; Mrs. McClyment, organist.

PETERBORO'S PRAISES.

The Remarks of the Papers—The Men Had a Time of It.

From the Review: The 57th battalion have returned from their second annual outing, and not a man, either of the officers or rank and file, but will remember his visit to the limestone city with pleasant recollections. The officers of the 14th did everything that was possible to make the visit one of pleasure and comfort to the officers of the 57th. They were most unremitting in their attention and thoughtfulness, and the warmest feelings will now bind the friendship of the two corps, the officers and men of which have mingled so pleasantly on two occasions.

The men of the 14th did not forget their comrades of the 57th and tried in every way to make the visit pleasant. The non-coms. made it especially enjoyable for their brothers of the stripes in the 57th. The 14th non-coms are a fine lot of young men, and did things in proper style.

From the Examiner: The hospitable treatment which officers and men alike of the 57th received in Kingston, both at the hands of the 14th and the citizens generally, needs no newspaper commendations. If the treatment received was commensurate with the kind remarks made by all, it is sufficient to use the proverbial expression which was on the lips of every one: "We could not have been used whiter."

The prize donated by the staff and officers of the battalion was won by "A" company.

The expenses of the trip were heavy, totalling about $1,200. $500 was paid to the C.P.R., for transport and Quartermaster Langford expended $700, for billets and other expenses in Kingston.

The third annual outing of the battalion was the finest trip of all. Col. Rogers, Adjt. Dennistoun and all the other officers and men express themselves as highly pleased. They voted it as the best yet held.
