The streets leading to the hall were jammed with a dense aurging mass of humanity. After the service Dr. Talmage preached in the street to the crowd, which numbered fully 15,000. The sermon selected for this week is entitled "Our Possessions," from I Corinthians iii, 22

In making an inventory of the Chrisplace, that he owns this world. My text implies it, and the preceding verse asserts it-"whether Paul or Apollos or Cephas or the world." Now it would be an absurd thing to suppose that God would give to strangers privileges and advantages which he would deny his own children. If you have a large park, a grand mansion, beautiful fountains, stalking deer and statuary, to whom will you give the first right to all these possessions? To outsiders? No, to your own chihiren. You will say, "It will be very well for outsiders to come in and walk these paths and enjoy this landscape, but the first right to my house, and the first right to my statuary, the first right to my gardens shall be in the possession of my own children." Now, this world is God's park, and while of walking through the gardens, the possession of all this grandeur of park and mansion is in the right of the Christian-the flowers, the diamonds, the silver, the gold, the morning brightness and the evening shadow. The Christian may not have the title deed to one acre of land as recorded in

A lawyer is sometimes required to search titles, and the client who thinks he has a good right to an estate puts the papers in his hands, and the lawyer goes into the public records, and finds everything right for three or four or five years back; but after awhile he comes to a break in the title, to a deficit, to a diversion of the prop erty; so he finds out that the man wh supposed he owned it owns not an acre of the ground, while somebody else has the full right to the entire estate. Now, I examine the title to all earthly possession I go back a little way, and I find that mer of the world-bad men, selfish men, wicked men-tkink they have a right to all these possessions; but I go farther back, and I sunk twenty steamers. The bronzed men trace the title from year to year, and from century to century, until I find the whole right vested in God Now, to whom did he give it? To his own children! "All are

The simple fact is that in the last days of the world all the architecture, all the cities, all the mountains, all the villages will be in the possession of the church of Christ, "The meek shall inherit the earth." Ships of Tarshish shall bring presents. "The earth is the Lord's and the fuliness thereof." "All are yours." "But," you say, "what satisfaction is there in that when I haven't possession of them?", These things will come before the Supreme Judge come. kidneys are Dodd's Kidney of the Universe, and he will regulate the clogged, they are Pilis are used." title, and he will eject these squatters upon the property that does not belong to them, and it shall be found that "All are the next world. No chasm to be leaped,

So again, the refinements of life are the Christian's right. He has a right to as good apparel, to as beautiful adornments, to as commodious a residence as the world ling. Show me any passage in the Bible that tells the people of the world they such as Wrik have privileges, they have glittering Headache, spheres, they have befitting apparel that are denied the Christian. There is no onwho has so much a right to laugh, none thuch a right to everything that is beauti ful and grand and sublime in life as the Christian. "All are yours." Can it be possible that one who is reckless and sinful, not walk in the eternal city as a foreigner and has no treasures laid up in heaven, is to be allowed pleasures which the sons and daughters of God, the owners of the whole universe, are denied?

So I remark that all the sweet sounds of Thrones of heaven the place where you the world are in the Christian's right, There are people who have an idea that in- God is yours. You look up into the face of struments of music are inappropriate for God and say, "My father." You look up the Christian's parlor. When did the into the face of Jesus and say, "My brothhouse of sin or the bacchanal get the right to music? They have no right to it. God, in my text, makes over to Christian people all the pianes, all the harps, all the by thousands of drums, all the cornets, all the flutes, all the air. No voice of blasphemy thrilling LABIES. Is the only perfect. the organs. People of the world may bor through that bright, clear Sabbath mornrow them, but they only borrow them; ing. No din of strife jarring the air. Then they have no right or title to them. God take out your deed, and remember that gave them to Christian people in my text from throne to throne, and from wall to when he said, "All are yours." David no more certainly owned the harp are yours.

God than the church of Christ owns now all chants, all anthems, all ivory keyboards, all organ dispasons, and God will gather up these sweet sounds after awhile, and he will mingle them in one great har-mony, and the Mendelssohns, and the Beethovens, and the Mozarts of the earth will join their voices and their musical instruments, and soft south wind and loud unged curociydon will sweep the great organ pipes, and you shall see God's hand striking the keys and God's foot tramping the pedals in the great oratorio of the ages! flame. Invalids who went up from couches So all artistic and literary advantages are in the Christian's right. I do not care on whose wall the picture hangs or or whose pedestal the sculpture stands, it belongs to Christians. TEMPORAL LOSS AND ETERNAL GAIN. One of the best things that ever happened to Paul was being thrown off his The Royal Mail Through Line horse. One of the best things that ever happened to Joseph was being thrown into the pit. The losing of his physical eyesight helped John Milton to see the battle of the angels. One of the best things that ever happened to Ignatius was being thrown to the wild beasts in the Coliseum, and while eighty thousand people were feering at his religion he walked up to the fiercest of all the lions and looked him the eye, as much as to say, "Here I am, ready to be devoured for Christ's sake." and who refuse his authority the privilege If you walk the desert the manna will fall

Now the men-of-war anchored in the harbor boom forth their welcome through the portholes. So there are some Christians who are having an easy time. It seems to them smooth sailing all the way. When they get into heaven there will be no excitement. There will be very few people who will ever find out they are there. > Bequests for New York Woman's College. At the closing exercises of Barnard col lege recently the Rev. Arthur Brooks, chairman of the board of trustees, an nounced that a donation of $100,000 toward the new college building fund had been accepted. The name of the donor was not divulged. The agreement provides that the college shall purchase a suitable site within 1,000 feet of the land lately purchased by Columbia college, between One. Hundred and Sixteenth and One Hundred and Twentieth streets and the boulevard; or the college may secure a long lesse at a nominal rent. The college is also required to have its temporary charter made permanent and to begin the erection of a recitation hall within four years, the donor to name the hall. The money is to be paid in four annual payments, beginning June 1. The closing exercises were attended by a SOLD BY E. C. HILL large gathering, mainly ladies interested in the new adjunct to Columbia. Chairman Brooks said the success of the college was attested by the fact that, while there are but sixty scholars in the three classes, forty-five new applications for admission to next year's class had already been received. The gift of $100,000, added to the $100,000 to be received in trust from the Fayerweather estate, and the beginning of an endowment fund by five subscriptions of $5,000 each, augured well for the future. He said it had been agreed to take immediate steps to move with Columbia college, as in addition to continuing the relations between the two institutions, Columbia's is a more desirable locality .- New

To Hesitate Is to lie Lost. It is a curious fact that left to them selves the fingers will generally spell a word correctly. It is in the hesitation that certainty is lost. There can no doubt that the fingers of a writer acquire a sort of author the fingers of a writer acquire a sort of automatic education. Even when a doubt a to the right spalling of a word has crossed the mind the band will usually bring the letters into form If given its course. It is as if it consciously reasoned, " have always driven the pen so, and so having begun so!" But once hampered by the spirit of investigation the irresolute hand inclines toward the Unabridged --Boston Commonwealth.
