THE ETHICS OF LYING

IN THEORY IT MAY BE ALL WRONG TO TELL A LIE. But Just Read How Birdwhistle Convinced His Wife to the Contrary—Only Rich People and Preachers Can Afford to Fall the Truth.

GETTING up from his breakfast table the other morning Mr. Birdwhistle was accosted by his wife. "What a serious look, indicating that something was working on your mind."

NEVER AGAIN. "You will never again tell the servant to say you are out when you are in," he asked laughing. "Charles, never," she replied with compressed lips.

THE TEA TABLE. The woman who never takes any interest in the fashion needs medicine. Misses and children's shoes in great variety at Armstrong's new store.

THE TESTIMONIALS. Published in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla are not extraordinary, are "wonderful" facts, and prove that Hood's Sarsaparilla is of the highest merit and is worthy the full confidence of the people.
