

MISCELLANEOUS.

GIVING UP BUSINESS.

As the proprietor has decided to give up his brand stores he will offer the entire stock, consisting of Books and Shoes, Ready-Made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Trunks and Vases, etc., at a very low price in the history of the Book, Shoe and Ready-Made Clothing trade in Kingston.

Remember this it's a genuine sale! No humbug, as the stock must be sold between now and the 1st of January.

The present position of the stock has been bought at $50 per dollar, so you can expect Great Bargains.

A few prices to show you that we mean business:-

BOOT AND SHOE DEPARTMENT.

Men's good working boots at $2.75.

Men's fine wearing boots, lace and Congress, at $1.25.

Women's good wearing boots 75c.

Boys' boots, lace and rock, only 25c.

Men's and Women's Rubber and Overshoes at proportionately low prices.

READY-MADE CLOTHING DEPART-

MENT:

A Man's good working suit at $2.75.

A Boy's suit at $2.50.

A Child's suit at $1.25.

Men's overcoats at $3.75.

Boys' overcoats, with caps, $2.50.

Men's shirts and drawers, all sizes, 50c a dozen.

Remember this Sale begins on SATURDAY, OCT. 29th, and lasts till everything is sold out.

Come at once and have first choice. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Remember the name, place and date—

A. Bernstein's,

184 PRINCESS STREET.

S. W. JACOBS, Manager

N.B.—Any one wishing to buy the stock en bloc can apply and possession will be given at once.

GAMES

How pleasantly some evening can be spent with a good game—a clear fire, a clear hearth, and the rigor of the game. Here are some of the Newest and Best:

Game of Flips, Perrywinkle, Tiddlywinks.

Game of Tan Up, two, three or four players.

Game of Hams, one of the best.

Game of Literary Salad, a Feast of Salad.

Game of Old Washington.

Game of Town of Babel.

Game of Mother Goose.

Game of Peter Coddles.

Game of Gypsy Fortune Teller.

Game of Chinese.

Game of Little Pigs.

Game of Monarchs.

Game of Keeping Score.

Game of Potions.

Game of Sing a Song of Sixpence.

Game of Table Croquet.

Game of Cricket.

Game of Chinese Hat.

Game of Parades.

Game of Saap.

Game of Authors.

Game of Cards.

Game of Lovers.

Game of Chess.

Game of Checkers.

Game of Pig Toss.

Game of Seagulls.

Game of Derby Steeplechase.

Game of Kings and Queens.

Game of Pavy and Tress Mice.

Game of Yacht Race, &c., &c., &c.

Our window is full of these Games, and they are all good ones.

We have also a large assortment of building blocks, alphabet blocks, cut up pictures and spelling blocks.

J. Henderson & Co.

PRINCESS STREET, KINGSTON.

CHAMPION!

STRICTLY FIRST-CLASS, GREAT HOT WATER HEATER. Where all other ranges fail to operate this one will work.

BIBBY'S CHEAP SMOKE HOUSE

KING STREET

A. HOWELL ORGANIST QUEEN ST. MATTHEW CHURCH, gives lessons in Piano, Organ and Organ playing. Residence 200 Queen Street, opposite Queen street Church.

An Apartment Which gives Satisfaction.

WINSTON, Man., Oct. 28.—The appointment of T. A. Bernier to succeed Mr. Gladstone has decided to limit his presence in the House of Commons during the coming session. He will attend the sittings only on the days when important measures are under consideration. His deputy in the general management of the House will be Sir William Venner Harcourt. At a time when there are authentic reports that the eye malady from which Sir William is a sufferer is getting worse, the Liberals are disturbed at the prospect of a disorganized leadership. At the Cabinet meeting to day arrangements were probably made to have a substitute take the place of Sir William's place should his health fail.

Baffler Favors no Metalism.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Mr. J. Balfour addressed a meeting in Manchester yesterday evening in favor of bi-metalism. In the course of his remarks he said: "Our existing currency is neither a convenient medium of exchange nor a fair permanent record of obligations over long periods. It is given to us by the Bank of England, between a standard which has appreciated, and a standard which has depreciated, but which has led to rising prices, I should choose the latter in this question."

Draft of the Home Rule Bill.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—It is reported that at the Cabinet Council yesterday Mr. Gladstone submitted a rough draft of his Home Rule bill, which will be considered at a series of meetings of a strong committee of the Hamilton Club.

Letter of the World's Fair.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Liquors will be sold in packages during the World's Fair. After the discussion, the National Commission decided that it would not interfere with contracts made by the Chicago directors for the sale of light beverages and stimulants.

Recognition of Mr. M'Phee.

MONTRAL, Oct. 28.—Hugh McMillan is no longer member of Parliament for Vaudreuil. He resigned yesterday.

This result will involve another election in Vaudreuil county—the third within two years. Mr. H. S. Harwood, who was returned at the general election, will again most probably be the Liberal candidate.

Refused Arbitration.

CORONAC, N.H., Oct. 28.—The Concord branch of the Granite Cutters' National Union refused the offer of arbitration from the manufacturers. The cutters say there are no agreements between the cutters and manufacturers upon which arbitration can be based.

For $100,000 Damages.

WINSTON, Man., Oct. 28.—The appointment of T. A. Bernier to succeed Mr. Gladstone has decided to limit his presence in the House of Commons during the coming session. He will attend the sittings only on the days when important measures are under consideration. His deputy in the general management of the House will be Sir William Venner Harcourt. At a time when there are authentic reports that the eye malady from which Sir William is a sufferer is getting worse, the Liberals are disturbed at the prospect of a disorganized leadership. At the Cabinet meeting to day arrangements were probably made to have a substitute take the place of Sir William's place should his health fail.

Fighting in the Argentine Republic.

SANTIAGO DEL ESTE, Oct. 28.—The revolt against the Federal Government has assumed such proportions that the Federal Government has sent a reinforcement of troops to the battle which lasted two days has taken place between the rebels and the rebels and the Government army in the capital. It resulted in a victory for the rebels, who drove the Government forces out of the city.

Nancy Banks Again tries.

SEASIDE, Mo., Oct. 28.—Ten thousand people assembled at the new kite-shaped track to see Nancy Banks go against the world's record of 204. She made the move in 205.

Judge Charged With Murder.

VIENNA, Oct. 28.—A district judge has been arrested at Graz, charged with the murder of his wife, who died Sunday.

Wife Loses.

Actual cost is all we ask for balance of stock of boys' ready-made suits, old pants & coats, all fine goods. Hardy's.

New table and cooking sets at Redfern's. Old art blinds, old carpets at Hardy's.

MAKES FULL CONFESSION

NEILL THE MURDERER ADMITS HIS CRIME.

He Went秘密ly into Each Crime and Told a Story Which Was Enough to Terrify Anyone.—The Lawyer Will Not Make the Confession Public Until After the Execution.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—All information as to Thomas Neil's confession—comes from Mr. Waters, the lawyer who represents him. He says that he probably will not give any details public until after the execution. Crean confessed to him everything criminal in his Canadian career, minutely described the girl murdered, his methods in killing her, his efforts even to escape detection.

"He fairly owned every word of my evidence," said Mr. Waters the evening. "His story was starting layed anything I have ever heard before." After confessing Crean became angry at Mr. Waters and threatened "to do" him after the trial.

DEATH OF MARY MILBANK.

The Famous Dresser Has Fallen for a Long Time Past.

London, Oct. 28.—Mr. Harry Van Milbank, who has been sick for some time, died at Davos Platz on Monday.

He was addicted to the morphine habit, and through this and other causes his health was much shattered. His condition was known to be serious a long time ago, and when several months since, he left England, it was known to his intimate friends that his case was hopeless.

The unusual notoriety into which he was forced caused him to go to Davos Platz. This lost him a fortune of £50,000 a year.

Disappointment at this affair and death of a son in New York had much to do toward undermining his already weak constitution.

He did not fail to be a party to the litigation over the will, which is to be carried on by his father, Sir Frederick Milbank. Mr. Milbank not leaving issue, the father's will goes to the younger brother, Powlett, who is the Conservative candidate for Parliament for Radnor.

THE STRIKE AT CARMAUX.

It is believed that the Strike will end in bloodshed.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—The Chamber of Deputies by a vote of 324 to 198 rejected a motion to grant amnesty to the convicted Carmaux rioters. It also rejected by a vote of 399 to 90, after a full discussion invited by the Government, a motion to withdraw the franchise of the miners at Carmaux.

In a speech delivered on the anniversary of the French Revolution, Schmidt, a representative of the Associated Press, M. Marceau, a former Minister of the Interior, declared that the strikers' rejection of M. Louche's proposal was the first act of practical socialism that occurred in France. The weakness of the Government and the apathy of the Chamber of Deputies had encouraged the Socialists.

M. Marceau further commented upon the situation growing out of the strike and declared that the trouble was now almost certain to end in gunfights.

During his address on the anniversary of the Chamber of Commerce, M. Viatore, Minister of Public Works, insisted that Premier Louche's award must be respected. It was not the Government, he said, but a just man, that gave the award, and he said that the strikers would have been pardoned if he had not done so.

M. Millerand interrupting asked: "Will you promise that the convicted men will be pardoned if the strikers resume work?" M. Viatore replied: "We must not let the strikers think that they can again break the law, but if they again resume work tomorrow I shall myself demand pardon for them."

During his address on the anniversary of the Chamber of Commerce, M. Viatore, Minister of Public Works, insisted that Premier Louche's award must be respected. It was not the Government, he said, but a just man, that gave the award, and he said that the strikers would have been pardoned if he had not done so.

M. Millerand interrupting asked: "Will you promise that the convicted men will be pardoned if the strikers resume work?" M. Viatore replied: "We must not let the strikers think that they can again break the law, but if they again resume work tomorrow I shall myself demand pardon for them."

During his address on the anniversary of the Chamber of Commerce, M. Viatore, Minister of Public Works, insisted that Premier Louche's award must be respected. It was not the Government, he said, but a just man, that gave the award, and he said that the strikers would have been pardoned if he had not done so.

M. Millerand interrupting asked: "Will you promise that the convicted men will be pardoned if the strikers resume work?" M. Viatore replied: "We must not let the strikers think that they can again break the law, but if they again resume work tomorrow I shall myself demand pardon for them."

During his address on the anniversary of the Chamber of Commerce, M. Viatore, Minister of Public Works, insisted that Premier Louche's award must be respected. It was not the Government, he said, but a just man, that gave the award, and he said that the strikers would have been pardoned if he had not done so.

M. Millerand interrupting asked: "Will you promise that the convicted men will be pardoned if the strikers resume work?" M. Viatore replied: "We must not let the strikers think that they can again break the law, but if they again resume work tomorrow I shall myself demand pardon for them."

During his address on the anniversary of the Chamber of Commerce, M. Viatore, Minister of Public Works, insisted that Premier Louche's award must be respected. It was not the Government, he said, but a just man, that gave the award, and he said that the strikers would have been pardoned if he had not done so.

M. Millerand interrupting asked: "Will you promise that the convicted men will be pardoned if the strikers resume work?" M. Viatore replied: "We must not let the strikers think that they can again break the law, but if they again resume work tomorrow I shall myself demand pardon for them."

During his address on the anniversary of the Chamber of Commerce, M. Viatore, Minister of Public Works, insisted that Premier Louche's award must be respected. It was not the Government, he said, but a just man, that gave the award, and he said that the strikers would have been pardoned if he had not done so.

M. Millerand interrupting asked: "Will you promise that the convicted men will be pardoned if the strikers resume work?" M. Viatore replied: "We must not let the strikers think that they can again break the law, but if they again resume work tomorrow I shall myself demand pardon for them."

During his address on the anniversary of the Chamber of Commerce, M. Viatore, Minister of Public Works, insisted that Premier Louche's award must be respected. It was not the Government, he said, but a just man, that gave the award, and he said that the strikers would have been pardoned if he had not done so.

M. Millerand interrupting asked: "Will you promise that the convicted men will be pardoned if the strikers resume work?" M. Viatore replied: "We must not let the strikers think that they can again break the law, but if they again resume work tomorrow I shall myself demand pardon for them."

During his address on the anniversary of the Chamber of Commerce, M. Viatore, Minister of Public Works, insisted that Premier Louche's award must be respected. It was not the Government, he said, but a just man, that gave the award, and he said that the strikers would have been pardoned if he had not done so.

M. Millerand interrupting asked: "Will you promise that the convicted men will be pardoned if the strikers resume work?" M. Viatore replied: "We must not let the strikers think that they can again break the law, but if they again resume work tomorrow I shall myself demand pardon for them."

During his address on the anniversary of the Chamber of Commerce, M. Viatore, Minister of Public Works, insisted that Premier Louche's award must be respected. It was not the Government, he said, but a just man, that gave the award, and he said that the strikers would have been pardoned if he had not done so.

M. Millerand interrupt