London, Nov. 1.—The anxious care taken to nurse Mr. Gladstone's energies is evident in his desire to immediately accept an invitation to dine at the Imperial Hotel at Guildhall of Lord Mayor on Nov. 9. Sir Andrew Clarke, M.P., a physician, has prohibited his attendance at all evening meetings, and will not consent to his presence at the Guildhall banquet until he is able to judge whether the Prime Minister should attend the banquet. There is no precedent for the Cabinet chief attending himself on the occasion of the Lord Mayor's banquet, if he is able to speak.

WOMAN KILLER IN PARIS*THE HORRIBLE CRIME IN THE RUE BOTZARIS.

The Crime Was Committed Either by a Surgeon or a Butcher—Bodifications Were Found Three Hundred Yards From the Scene of the Butchery—The Police Active.

London, Nov. 1.—A Paris correspondent gives the following additional particulars of the crime in the Rue Botzaris: The murderer was evidently a man of a practical band, the dissection of the body being fully performed, a fact which gives rise to the belief that the work was done by a surgeon, or, at least, by a butcher.

There were, however, between the time the crime was committed and the discovery of the body, two days, during which the mutilated remains were discovered.

It is also believed that the body was still warm when it was cut to pieces in the room where the remains were found, and this fact at first led to the belief that the body had been used for dissecting purposes and that the several portions were intended as medical specimens, but evidence to the contrary was soon found in the fact that the body had been torn with a blunt knife.

The police are now attempting to reconstruct the scene of the crime, the body having been killed in a pre-arranged manner.
