THE HOUR OF JUDGMENT

SERMON ADDRESSED TO YOTERS JUST BEFORE ELECTION.

The Examples of Nineven, Babylon, Tyre, Sidon and Many More Warn Us-This Nation Is Also Becoming Corrupt and Licentious -" Reform Is Necessary."

BROCKLYN, Nov. 6,-Rev. Dr. Talmage to-day selected for his sermon a subject sufficiently appropriate for these times, when throughout the United States great political questions are being discussed and the nation is about to go to the ballot bur and decide who shall rule in the neighborhood, town, city and nation. The text chosen was Revelation xviii, 10, "Alas, alas, that great city Babylon, that mighty city, for in one hour is thy judgment

Modern scientists are doing a splendid work in excavating the tomb of a dead empire holding in its arms a dead city-mother and child of the same name, Babylon. The ancient mound invites the spades and shovels and crowbars while the unwashed natives look on in surprise. These scienfists find yellow bricks still impressed with the name of Nebuchadnezzar, and they go down into the sarcophagus of monarchy buried more than two thousand years ago. May the explorations of Raw linson and Layard and Chevalier and Opperto and Loftus and Chesney be eclipsed by the present archieological uncovering! But is it possible this is all that remains of Babylon-a city once five times larger than London and twelve times larger than New York? Walls three hundred and seventy-three feet high and ninety-three feet each side, with streets running clear through to corresponding gates on the other side. Six hundred and twenty-five squares. More pomp and wealth and splen dor and sin than could be found in any five modern cities combined. A city of palaces and temples. A city having within it a garden on an artificial hill four hundred feet high, the sides of the mounshe had spent her girlhood. The waters of the Euphrates spouted up to irrigate this litical parties. great altitude into fruits and flowers and arborescence unimaginable. A great river running from north to south clear through the city, bridges over it, tunnels under it

A city of bazars and market places, unrivaled for aromatics and unguents, and high mettled horses with grooms by their side, and thyme wood, and African everof costly textile fabric, and rarest purples extracted from shellfish on the Mediterranean coast, and rarest scarlets taken from brilliant insects in Spain, and ivories brought from successful elephant hunts in India, and diamonds whose flash was a repartee to the sun. Fortress within fortress, embattlement rising above embattlement. Great capital of the ages. But one night, while honest citizens were asleep, but all the saloons of saturnalia were in full blast, and at the king's castle they had filled the tankards for the tenth time, and reeling and guffawing and hiccoughing around the state table were the rulers of the land, General Cyrus, ordered his be sieging army to take shovels and spades, and they diverted the river from its usual channel into another direction, so that the forsaken bed of the river became the path on which the besieging army entered. When the morning dawned the conquerors were inside the outside trenches. Baby ion had fallen, and hence the sublime threnody of the text, "Alas, alas, that great city Babylon, that mighty city, for in one hour is thy judgment come!" But do nations die? Oh, yes; there is great mortality among monarchies and republies. They are like individuals in the fact that they are born; they have a middle life; they have a decease; they have a cradle and a grave. Some of them are assassinated, some destroyed by their own hand. Let me call the roll of some of the dead civilizations and some of the dead cities and let some one answer for them.

Egyptian civilization, stand up. 'Dead! answer the ruins of Karnak and Luxor, and from seventy pyramids on the east side of the Nile there comes up a great chorus, crying, "Dead, dead!" Assyrian empire, stand up and answer. "Dead!" cry the charred ruins of Nineveh. After six hundred years of magnificent opportunity, dead. Israelitish kingdom, stand up. After two hundred and fifty years of divine interposition, and of miraculous vicissitudes, und of heroic behavior, and of appalling depravity, dead. Phonicia, stand up and answer. After inventing the alphabet and giving it to the world, and sending out her merchant caravans in one direction on central Asia, and sending out her navigators to the Atlantic ocean in another direction, dead.

Phidias, after Demosthenes, after Milti-Euribuades after Salamis, after Ther and answer-empire once bounded by the British channel on the north, by the Euphrates on the east, by the great Sahara desert in Africa on the south, by the Atlantic ocean on the west; home of three great civilizations, owning all the then discovered world that was worth owning-Price $1. You see, my friends, it is no unusual thing for a government to perish, and in the same necrology of dead nations and in the same graveyard of expired governments will go the United States of Ameriea unless there be some potent voice to call a halt, and unless God in his mercy interferes, and through a purified hallot-box and a widespread public Christian sentiment the catastrophe be averted. This nation is about to go to the ballot box to exercise the right of sufrage, and I propose to set before you the evils that threaten to destroy the American government and to

There used to be bribery; but it held its secrecy that many years ago a railroad company bought up the Wisconsin Legislature and many other public officials in that time received $50,000 for his signature. His private secretary received $5,000. Thirteen members of the Senate received $175,000 among them in bonds. Sixty members of the other House received from $5,000 to $10,000 each. The Lieutenantthe House received from $5,000 to $10,000 000. Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars were divided among the loyalists. You see the rellroad company was very generous. But all that was hidden, and only through the severest scrutiny on the part iquity displayed. Now political bribery defies you, dares you, is arrogant, and will probably decide the election next Tuesday. Utiless this diabolism ceases in this country Bartholde's statue on Bedloe's Island, with uplifted torch to light other nations into the harbor, had better be changed and the torch dropped as a symbol of universal incendiarism.

Unless this purchase and sale of suffrage shall cease the American Government will expire, and you might as well be getting ready the monument for another dead nation and let my text inscribe upon it these words," Alas, alas, for Babylon, that great city, that mighty city, for in one hour is thy judgment come!" My friends, if you have not noticed that political bribery is one of the ghastly crimes of this day, you have not kept your eyes open. Another evil threatening the destruction of American institutions is the solidifying of the sections against each other. A solid North. A solid South. If this goes on we shall after a while have a solid East against a solid West; we shall have solid Middle States against solid Northern States; we thick. Twenty five burnished gates on shall have a solid New York against a solid Pennsylvania, and a solid Ohio against a solid Kentucky. It is 27 years since the wareloud, and yet at every Presidential election the old antagonism is aroused. When Garfield died and all the States gathered around his easket in sympathy. and in tears, and as hearty telegrams of condolence came from New Orleans and Charleston as from Boston and Chicago, I tain terraced. All this built to keep the said to myself, "I think sectionalism is king's wife, Amytis, from becoming home | dead." But, alas, no! The difficulty will sick for the mountainous region in which | never be ended until each State of the na-

This country cannot exist unless it exists as one body, the national capital, the heart, sending out through all the arteries of communication warmth and life to the very extremities. This nation cannot exist unless it exists as one family, and you might as well have solid brothers against solid sisters, and a solid bread tray against a solid cradle, and a solid nursery against a solid dining room, and you might as well have solid ears against solid eyes, and solid head against solid foot. What is the interest of Georgia is the interest of Massachusetta; what is the interest of New York is the interest of South Carolina. Does the Ohio river change its politics when it gets below Louisville? It is not possible for these sectional antagonisms to continue for a great many years without permanent compound fracture Another evil threatening the destruction of our American institutions is the low state of public morals. What killed Babylon of my text? What killed Phoenicia? What killed Rome? Their own depravity, and the fraud, and the drunkenness, and the lechery which have destroyed other nations will destroy ours unless a merciful God prevent. To show you the low state of public morals I have to call your attention to the fact that many men nominated for offices in different States at different times are entirely unfit for the positions for which they have been

They have no more qualification for them than a wolf has qualification to be professor of pastoral theology in a flock of sheep, or a blind mole has qualification to lecture a class of eagles on optics, or than a vulture has qualification to chaperon a dove. The mere pronunciation of some of their names makes a demand for carbolic acid and fumigation! Yet Christian men will follow right on under the political I have to tell you what you know already, that American politics have sunken to such a low depth that there is nothing beneath. What we see in some directions we see in nearly all directions. The peculation and the knavery hurled to the surface by the explosion of banks and busi tess firms are only specimens of great Coopaxis and Strombolis of wickedness that soil and roar and surge beneath, but have sot yet regurgitated to the surface. When he heaven-descended Democrat party enacted the Tweed rascality it seemed to eclipse everything, but after a while the heaven-descended Republican party outwitted pandemonium with the star route

There are in some of the American cities to-day whole blocks of houses which the authorities Constantine, and the arch of Titus, and know to be infamous, and yet by purchase they are silenced by hush money, so that such places are as much under the defense of government as public libraries and asy-

You will have to cure them by putting deep in the lancet of moral surgery, and burning them out with the caustic of holy wrath, and with most decisive amputation cutting off the scabrous and putrefying abominations. As the Romans were. after the Celts, and as the Normans were after the Britons, so there are evils after unless we first attend theirs.

this nation which will attend its obsequies Superstition tells of a marine reptile, the cephaloptera, which enfolded and crushed a ship of war; but it is no superstition when I tell you that the history of many of the dead nations proclaims to us the fact that our ship of state is in danger of being crushed by the cephaloptera of national depravity. Street names in London are not usually ainted on the glass in the lampposts, al though this is done in some parts of the city. The common practice is to paint them conspicuously on the walls of buildings at the street corners. The name is almost always followed by one or two let-Game of Flip Tennis. ters, such as "E.," "W.C.," "E.C., Game of Seega. Another curious thing in London street addresses is the fact that in addition to the name and number of the street itself some other name is attached, as that of some prominent theroughfare or park or general designation of a certain region; as, for example, "Wellington street, Strand;" or 'Montague street, Russell square;" or Burlington gardens, Bond street." This oes not mean that Wellington street is part of the Strand, or that Montague street s contiguous to Russell square, or that Burlington gardens are in Bond street. It merely signifies that one is near the other in each case, the second being a name bet blocks, cut up pictures presumably well known to everybody in
