Mr. Donnelly said he read the reports of Mr. Rowe's remarks in the papers, and one day he (the speaker) said Mr. Row's views on the Sabbath were very much out of place. Mr. Donnelly was surprised to see in the papers that he and Dr. Fee were very much incensed at Mr. Row's remarks. The speaker then referred to the statement made by a citizen that the members of the school board had better keep their hands off Mr. Row. Mr. Donnelly did not think the trustees wanted to put their hands on Mr. Row, but he (Donnelly) was still of the opinion that the remarks made by Mr. Row, as coming from a school teacher, were out of place. "I do not think I am going to change my opinion about keeping the Sabbath day, be cause Mr. Row wants a little notoriety. I do not agree with Mr. Row's views. While some people pat Mr. Row on the back for having the courage of his convictions they say the trustees have no right to place their views before the public. Canvassing A Soldier.

An alderman tells of canvassing an old reteran who said in response, "a friend in need is a friend indeed." The alderman knew well what this meant as there was a militia man running in the ward. Never theless the alderman went through the various evolutions of drill to show that aithough he had never been in a permanent corp and done active service still he had held the musket. The veteran was immovable, however, and said the old soldier would get a plumper and no mistake. The "old soldier" got over torty plumpers from old veteens in that ward last year.
