Its posttion will not serve the purpose the light was asked for. Wants It To Go. PORTSMOUTH, Dec. 8 - (To the Editor) Henry Bawden, in which he advocates the abolishing of the Royal military college, and establishing in its place a school of agriculture and mining. In so far as abolishing the useless and most expensive institution known as the Royal military college, I heartily en-dorse Mr. Bawden's opinion. I think it was terest in the horse road, and proposed to our grit friends who saddled us with the incubus, and it is only right and fitting that one of them should ask for its removal, and I earnestly hope the government will lose no time in closing such a useless institution. But with regard to taking the money which goes to keep it up and establishing a school of mining or agriculture I am not much in favor of it, as it would only be propagating another species of dude who would never be of an real practical benefit railway company with the Ottawa electric to the country. It is not colleges and schools of science we want in this country; we have too many of them now; what we want is factories and workshops to give employ-ment to artizans and laborers who are at present starving for the want of work and obliged to leave the country to se k it elsewhere. Take the $40,000 or $50,000 a year it costs to run the useless military school and bonus some useful manufacturies which would give employment to several hundred hands, and see what an improvement it would soon make in your city. In fact I would sooner the government would give $40,000 or $50,000 a year to Ben Folger and tell him to lay it out for the improvement

Even if raw cotton was bought at 6.s. and 70, per lb. and sold when manufactured at 21c. and 22c. per 1b. the profits could hardly be 15c. and 16z. per lb., but he appears to think the cotton mill can be run without any expenses at all, such as labor, light, and a great many other necessities, but now that Mr. Wilson has settled him on that score "Enoch" wants to back out and turns to what I should consider butlying at which he appears to be more of an expert than talking cotton or anything else in reason. He also quotes Mr. Wilson as saying the former stockholders made a sad mistake when they sold the mill. A GRATEFUL MAN-

AFTER FORTY SEVEN YEARS OF

In his openious aparon for something nterest to our readers a representative of his paper, last Friday afternoon, met with Alfred B. Harris, of Lingsville, who, with a number of other workmen, was employed it erecting a building. After a few minutes chat Mr. Harris exclaimed : "I tell you Mr. Reporter, that's a great medicine that Mirler, the druggist, is selling now. "What medicine !" we inquired "Why, he said, almost amazed that we should ask such a question, "have you not heard of the wonderful cures wrought in this section the Magic Pile Lotion " Our curiosity was now aroused and we fecided to thoroughly investigate Mr.

Isrria statements, and in answer to our asstions this gentleman told a story as ex actly related below. "About forty seven years ago, while working at my trade as a carpenter in a western city in the United States, I was exposed a great deal to the wet weather, and this, together with the heavy lifting I was constantly called upon to do, brought on piles. At hoping that they would get well of their own second. Instead of this, however, they continued to grow worse, and I was compelled to seek some relief. I applied to the druggist in the town and he advised me to apply a preparation which was then being extensively advertised. This I continued to use for several mouths, but in place of doing me good my case grew constantly worse. then tried one remedy efter another, but all with the same discouraging effect. Not only did I use all kinds of patent medicines, but spent hundreds of dollars in treating with the most eminent physicians on the American continent. I could give the names of a score of doctors who attended me in Detroit, Lansing, Ann Arbor, Kingsville and

The result was the same in every case, and continued to decline. I moved from one town to another, in the hope that the hange of atmosphere would have some beneficial effect, till I can truthfully saythat I have travelled over the whole of North America. Tongue cannot express nor pen describe the suffering and agony which I endured. Night and day I experienced the most excruciating pains. I was unable to do any manual labor; I could, at times, neither sit nor lie down and have been compelled for days to crawl on my hands and knees. After having had every kind of piles known, itching, protruding, bleeding, etc., I finally gave up all hope of ever being cured and life itself became a bore to me. I was never free from pain during the whole forty seven years. About the first of July last I happened to be in the drug store of C. S. Miller, and he, knowing well the severe case of piles with which I was afflicted, inquired how I was progressing. I could give him but the same old answer that I was no better. He told me that he had just received a supply of medicine which he knew had already brought about many cures of piles of long standing. It was remedy which, he said, the manufacturers backed up with a guarantee that if is did not perform a cure the money would be refanded. Having tried so many remedies with such unsatisfactory results I was almost in clined to refuse it a trial. But on Mr. M.l. let's recommendation I decided to give Magic Lotion a test and procured one bettle. The result was almost incredible to myself and it will probably be to the publi , but it is true, every word of it. Within twenty-four hours from the first application I was a well man and although this was four months ago, I have not had a single symptom of return I have suffered so much that I know the value of a remedy which actually cures piles, and do you wonder now that I call it a great medicine? Now I am doing my day's work the same as any other builder and am.

and I am positive that I am entirely cured not afraid to undertake heavy lifting, something I could not do for many years before. cannot too strongly recommend all affl. ctod as I was to use Magic Pile Lotion. Being asked if he had any scruples about
