ATT THE OPERA HOUSE.

An Entertainment Attracting a Very Selection Audience Last Night.

The Agnes Thomson concert company appeared before a very large audience in the opera house last evening. The entertainment, as a whole, was not soul stirring. As a professional organization, and as such the performers must expect to be criticized it is not a brilliant success. The basen, Mr. Graham, has a fair voice, though lacking in Sexibility; the tenor, J. Bryce Mundie, was weak, his voice would fit in better at a tea. party. Frank Wagner is a good performer on the violincello, and his recalls were demonstre Mr. Boddy, the ejecution ist, was good, extremely so. His clever delineations of some of the superb compositions of Whitcomb Riley, John Billings and other dialect writers brought down the house and secured to him genuine demands really not up to expectation, possibly did not eclipse others who have appeared bers. here. In ballade she was good ; her rendition of "Home Sweet Home" was excellent. In operatio selections she did not reach the acme of perfection and her staccate passages presented them. All in all, however, she is | ing to cross from here to Watertown with creditable vocalist and the many recalls given here showed the kindness of heart of Kingston people, Mrs. Thomson is young, and retains in a great measure her girlish vivacity and frankness, while her face is strikingly open and prepossessing. The Company visits various places in Eastern Cutario, then through the North West provinces. Probably in the autumn hire. Thomson will visit England.

"a Modern taxation systems, must be evil, or else these systems could not produce evil. I reply, that all human, experience proves the truth of this remark ; indeed, it is as true as the thir! law of motion "Action and reaction are equal and opposite. One instance will suffice as a sample. The corn laws enacted by a landlord parliament agricultural rents, and so is the long run benefited nobody but the landlords. Another example might be given. It is a well known fact that the income tax can be and is easily evaded, and se corrupts the world. George Osborne has recently supplied us with excellent illustrations of this. WHIO of 16th Jan.) I do not charge modern fiscal systems with responsibility for all the evils which exist in the world, for human, ignorance, selfishness, cupidity, just and general villainy are responsible for every weak spot in our social cosmos, but I do say most emphatical ly, that modern fiscal systems make land nonopoly possible, and so divorce the laborer from the land, forcing him to become a wage slave on the landlord's or capitalist's terms, thus enabling the landlord to become ever richer and richer by more lapse of time, a method of rolling up wealth which is well understood in this bemisphere. Nor do I say that a fiscal system on single tax principles, even if universally adopted. will cure all human woes, for I think universal practice of christianity infinitely more important, but such minor reforms as uni versal suffrage, free trade, free education, decentralisation of authority, eight hours working day and reduction of standing armies, will do much to hasten the arrival of the millennium.

But single taxation is immediately practice. they will reach Kingston on the 26th with a able, if a reasonable majority of electors say it shall be done. Hence its importance. Now for the second half of Mr. Harris' Let me may at once that it is proposed to put not "almost" but all 'axation upon land values. As the writer remarks, to his house several weeks through illness, landlords, as landlords, would vanish, is considered to be in a precarious condition | though probably many in the country would by his physicians. The rev. gentleman, take to farming as much as they could comhowever, says he is good for twenty years fortably occupy, paying rent of course, in the form of a tax to the state.

So also pwners in coal or ore districts would probably take to mining or smelting if they had capital for the business, paying rent of course, in the form of a tax per ton of mineral raised, in addition to the rent of the surface, if worth anything for agricul tural or building purposes to the state. Again, urban landfords would no doubt retain for their own use, if they wanted it. space for a house, or for a factory, or busi ness premises. More than this they could scarcely require, for they would have to pay rent, in the form of tax for every square It is intended, as the writer observes, that the state shall filtimately obtain bomplete control of the land. Single tax is but a means to an end. make their task as easy one. There will be no "pauperized serfs" for the state to "feed, clothe, lodge," etc. unless ifle vagabonds too lasy to work. It will be time enough to talk about the "abandonment of the single tax system," consequent on resultant "intolerable misery," when we have got single tax to abandon.
