56TH YEAR—NO. 102. KINGSTON, ONT., FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 1, 1891. TWO CENTS.

Facts For All.

FIRST.

Facts are stubborn things to deal with. In advertising we are not forgetful of this and use only facts in presenting our claims before the public. We have been in business too long and our reputation is too highly valued to do otherwise. What we say we mean

THIRD.

Our Imported Suitings and Overcoatings are really very pretty, ranging in shades from delicate white and fawns to rich black and blue. Prices run from $16 up. See our Scotch Suitings at $15, and you will be satisfied it is the nicest you have ever seen. Something new The latest thing for summer.

FIFTH.

The Ready Made Clothing Department is being rapidly cleaned out. Our Boys' Suits surpass anything ever shown here. Wear, color and finish are the very best. Men's and youths' suits are equally good and must go soon. They are too nice to be left on our hands: Prices the lowest.

SECOND.

Our stock this season is the most complete we ever had. The goods are better made, the patterns are prettier, the colors better, and the stock larger. What more is needed to make it interesting to look through our goods. Spring trade is now booming and the choice goods are going rapidly.

FOURTH.

Trouserings are selling themselves every day. They cannot fail to please and are admired by all.

Canadian Goods are always in demand, and this season is not behind previous seasons. Patterns, as usual, are pretty. Prices low, from $10 up. Good trimmings, best make and finish.

THE ANNUAL REPORT.

HE REVIEWS THE WORK OF THE PAST COLLEGE YEAR.

The Highest Studies Can be Prosecuted in Queen's Now—Some of the Departments Can be Considered Reasonably Complete—The Appointments Recommended to the Board.

The report of Principal Grant to the board of trustees for the year ending April 29th, 1891, was:

Number of students in arts attending classes, 224; in arts, as extra murals, 33; in theology, 40; in the Royal college, 127; and in the women's medical college, 16. In all 440, or deducting 12 registered in two faculties, 428.

Of the students in arts, 14 are post graduates studying either along the line of an honour course, or for the degree of D.Sc. or Ph. D. Hereafter, no one can get the degree of M.A. from Queen's unless he obtains first-class honours in some one of the fourteen honour courses indicated in the calendar. Candidates for either of these post graduate degrees must have previously taken the degree of M.A. and must pursue their studies thereafter for at least four years. When the quality and quantity of the work required of them is considered, it is not to be wondered that only a limited number of candidates venture on it, and that a majority of these abandon it after trial. None the less is it desirable that opportunities should be given to our best men to prosecute their studies in the higher regions of scholarship, in their own country. They can do so in Queen's now, in any of our honour courses, with the one exception of biology, as advantageously as elsewhere, and the number of candidates will increase from year to year. In biology and geology our equipment is confessedly inadequate; and in such subjects as mineralogy, metallurgy, mining and electrical engineering, there is no properly equipped school in Ontario, rich though the province is in valuable ore deposits. For instruction in those practical departments our young men have to go to another country. While regretting for the sake of Canada that it should be so, it is a matter of extreme gratification that our staff in the central departments of university work in English, classics, mental and moral philosophy, political science, mathematics, physics and chemistry, has received such additions in the course of the last four years that it may be considered reasonably complete.

Tutors were appointed last year in classics, moderns, mathematics, chemistry and natural history. C. C. Arthur, B.A., has been appointed for the summer session in botany and chemistry. In accordance with the request of Prof. Marshall, herewith submitted, I would recommend that a tutor be also appointed for next session in physics, with the view of enabling the students in physics to do more practical work in the laboratories. I would also recommend that two tutors be appointed in zoology.

The John Carruthers hall is very nearly completed and will soon be handed over to the finance committee. We need about $2,000 to provide seats and to equip the chemical laboratories in this much needed building. A former member of the board, George M. Kinghorn, now of Montreal, handed me a cheque for $250 last month towards this object. The alumni and friends of Queen's will doubtless volunteer further assistance with that spontaneous generosity which distinguishes them. The new hall will furnish the very best possible accommodation for students in chemistry, (theoretical, practical and analytical) in toxicology and medical chemistry, in astronomy and in assaying. The finance committee hope to have it ready for public opening on next University Day, 16th October, 1891, when we formally begin the fifty-first session of Queen's. The special thanks of the trustees are due to Prof. Dupuis for the great ability with which he has planned its internal arrangements down to the minutest details of the laboratories. The work is being done under the personal supervision of Professors Dupuis and Goodwin.

In connection with the more extended duties of Dr. Goodwin in this new building I would point out the need of providing him with an assistant, who would act also as lecturer in mineralogy and assaying. An application for the position is herewith submitted from William Nicol, M.A. Mr. Nicol's course in Queen's was very thorough and distinguished. Thereafter, he was science master in the Guelph collegiate and training institute for three years, when he went, at my own suggestion, to Germany. For the past three sessions he has been pursuing his studies at the "Bergakademie" in Freiberg, Saxony, devoting special attention to practical work in chemical analysis, mineralogy, assaying, blow piping and metallurgy.

The certificate of the principal of this famous royal academy of mines is appended. I am aware that in the present condition of the finances, and with our revenue from endowment lessening steadily on account of the lowering rate of interest, it is not wise to increase our staff or to add in any other way to the regular expenditure, but unless some such appointment is made the John Carruthers hall cannot be properly utilised. It will in various other ways entail an additional annual charge on the revenue of about $300 a year. The report of the librarian shows that an expenditure of $442 is required to extend the library accommodation. For this sum shelving for about 15,000 additional volumes would be supplied. Prof. Ferguson applies for a special appropriation to purchase a valuable historical collection that can be procured at present. For these sums, as well as for what is required at once to equip the science hall, we must trust to the liberality of men and women who are specially interested in higher education and in the development of Queen's. I have faith that there are such people in Canada.

Mr. Shortt's course in political science has proved very attractive to the students who have taken it, and in view of the importance and increasing urgency of social questions, and of the fact that the subject has been placed by the senate on the same footing as the older departments of study in both the under-graduate and post graduate courses of study, it is for the board to consider whether the present lectureship should not be converted into a professorship, and when the revenue of the university warrants, Mr. Shortt be relieved of his duties as librarian and permitted to devote his whole time to the chair.

I cannot conclude this brief review of the work of the year without paying a well merited tribute to the students. The high aims that animate the leading spirits among them, the general earnestness of purpose and the self-government that makes the intervention of the senate unnecessary to preserve order and that explains why no cases of discipline have been on our minutes for many years, all prove that our Canadian youth value the opportunities that are put within their reach and can be trusted to improve them to the utmost. Such a spirit is most gratifying to the professors of the university as well as to all interested in the future of the country.—G. M. GRANT, Principal.

Our special correspondent attending the legislature and writing racy letters about it, will, to-morrow, give an admirable letter. He has some interesting things to say.

The Hotel Arrivals.

Arrivals at the British American hotel—W. F. Shaw, Lockport, N.Y.; Geo. Leigh, London; J. Blacke, L. Samenhof, R. S. Duncan, S. D. Price, Montreal; G. W. Prescott, Toronto; A. E. Gibson, M.D., Oakland.

Will Have to be Patient.

It is officially learned, says the Montreal Star that the report about J. H. Metcalfe, M.P.P., succeeding J. Shannon as Postmaster of Kingston is unfounded. Mr. Shannon does not contemplate retirement from his duties at an early date.

In the Eastern District.

Kingston is in the eastern lacrosse district along with Stirling, Peterboro, Madoc and Norwood. H. S. Price, Madoc, is secretary of the district, and on May 6th club representatives meet to arrange the system for playing off the championships.

He Has Retired.

The Renfrew Journal reports that Harry Woolver, one of the oldest and most popular conductors on the K. & P. RR., has severed his connection with the road. He left Kingston on Monday last for the east. James Booker fills the vacancy caused by Mr. Woolver's departure.

He Can Make "De Stuff."

A colored gentleman wearing a badge emitted "A Whistling Coon" has met with great success here. He is a genuine Virginian and can whistle like a bird. He says he made $2 50 on a trip between the city and Cape Vincent and can make "de stuff" no matter where he goes.

Has Secured a Pension.

Francis Ricard, an ex-soldier of the American army, has been awarded a pension of $12 per month in accordance with an act passed on June 27th, granting pensions to men for disabilities, whether they received them in the service or out of it, provided they are not inherited from vicious habits.

A Positive Shame.

An organ grinder, a young lad, has reached the city and with him a bright little child, with dark curly hair and a bright winsome face. He seems to be used as a drawing card to secure the pennies and nickels. But the authorities should interfere and save the child from such a roaming life.

Asked to Take the Bundle.

On Wednesday a young woman passed from house to house on Montreal street asking permission to leave a large parcel for a short time. In every case her request was refused. The bundle she carried was an infant, which she desired to get rid of, and no doubt she accomplished her wishes before this.

The Estimates Being Made.

The estimates of the civic committees for the coming year are all ready excepting those of the streets committee, and they will not be in shape for a week. It is likely that a week from Monday evening the budget will be ready for the consideration of the council. The city property committee wants $7,000.

Collar Bone Broken.

A child of John Darmers, who lives near Gananoque lake, was run over by a horse while playing in front of the school house. The girl's collar bone was broken, but she miraculously escaped other injuries being carried among the horse's feet for a long distance. Dr. Bowen, Seeley's Bay, attended the case.

She is Homeward Bound.

A letter received from Mr. Wilkie, Indore, conveys the intelligence that Miss Dr. Beatty, at the time of writing, was, on medical advice, about to start for Canada to recuperate her health, somewhat impaired by residing in India. Miss Beatty was the first graduate of the Women's medical college of Kingston.

He Seized the Fish.

W. P. Clarke, fishery overseer, proceeded to Northport and seized two barrels of pickerel consigned by Thomas McDonald, fisherman, to the Lake Ontario fish company, Cape Vincent. Mr. Clarke seized the fish and will prosecute Mr. McDonald. The confiscated fish were sold. William Black was the purchaser.

Was It a Joke?

Yesterday W. Shanahan, brother of J. Shanahan, whose saloon was entered by thieves recently, received a letter from Rochester, signed by John Braddon, stating that if Mr. Shanahan would write to him the bank cheques which were stolen would be returned at once. It is supposed the letter was written by way of a joke.

The Walk Will be Laid.

Last night the chairman of streets was notified that it was the intention of the government to lay a granolithic walk opposite the post office and custom house, which will make it run around half a block. It is likely that the trustees of St. George's cathedral will be asked to complete the square by having the walk put around their property.

Some Needed Changes.

It is stated that Mr. Chamberlain, the new inspector of gaols and prisons, has reported to Sheriff Ferguson that the county gaol should be lighted by electricity and that a new residence should be erected for the governor. The present residence could then be made an annex to the gaol and through this addition the prisoners could be properly classified.

A Fire in a Foundry.

Last night about midnight officers Timmerman and Megarry discovered that a portion of the roof of Chown & Cunningham's foundry was on fire. It seemed to have started near the cupola and burned a large hole. Two minutes after the alarm was given the chemical engine and fire brigade reached the building and prevented what might have been a big conflagration. The promptness with which the brigade responded at such a late hour, is good testimony of its efficiency.

Tendered Fine Gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Daly have removed from Peterboro' to Napanee. Before leaving Peterboro' the members of the congregation of George street Methodist church, gave Mrs. Daly a beautiful gold watch and chain as a token of regard. The couple were also tendered a silver cake basket by the choir of the church. Mr. Daly is a graduate of Queen's, and Mrs. Daly is well remembered as that charming vocalist, Miss Sophia Burton, of Kingston.

A Desirable Change.

The new summer rates on the Grand Trunk railway from Kingston to Whitby were divided into six sub-divisions. The rate from Montreal to points within the limit prescribed was only in one sub-division. At the request of the board of trade the Grand Trunk railway have issued a new table of rates from Kingston west and cut the sub divisions down to two. This will prove of great convenience to Kingston business men, and will be much more simple than the old system.

Sermon at the Asylum.

Zera Semon, with his excellent company, entertained the patients at the asylum yesterday afternoon for nearly two hours, giving the best performance that has ever been given there. It is not necessary to state that the magic and rendrequism, by Prof. Semon himself, was excellent, while the Blakes drew round after round of applause. Johnny Patten made a hit as the refined Irishman, while the only Nelton, in his feats of juggling, showed himself a complete master of his art. Fred. Lee presided at the piano most acceptably.
