THE TRAPPINGS OF WOR

THE CITY IS APPARELLED IN BLACK AND PURPLE.

The Leading Thoroughfares are Draped—The City Hall is Hung in Heavy Foldings—The Evening Presses are White—Lying in State—Conclusion of the Street.

The city hall is magnificently draped. From basement to dome, the entire building is draped in heavy black folds, while the pillars are encircled with bands of solemn blue. As the merriment a portrait of Sir John is draped with this same underment.

The corridor and main staircase is encircled in black and the interior of the city hall presents a most sombre aspect. The walls are draped with black, the ceiling is draped with black, and the floor is draped with black.

The coffin which holds the body of the great chief is placed in the center of the hall and is flanked in rearward. It has been trimmed with massive extension handles, the interior being lined with white satin.

The funeral procession will start from the city hall, proceed along Ontario street to the corner of Queen street, and thence to the cemetery.

Those who have seen the remains in Ottawa say that the face is placid and that it is by no means a pleasant sight to look upon.

John Alexander Macdonald, born 11th January, 1818, died 6th June, 1891.

William Canfield, Toronto writes: "My father, James Canfield, has often related numerous anecdotes about John A." with his head of hair, his eyes, his nose, his mouth, his ears, his hands, his feet, his fingers, his toes, his hair, his eyes, his nose, his mouth, his ears, his hands, his feet, his fingers, his toes.
