Oxford LodgsyNo. 161, Order of Fraternal Guardians, gave a pleasant entertainment last night at the Oddfellows hall, the occasion being a reception to Major Jos. C. Smith of Baltimore, Md. The hall was well filled; an entertaining and interesting pro gramme was rendered. Misses Orner, Hop kirk, McMillen and Mrs. Butler, of Toronto. took part. Mrs. McVety was accompanist, and Miss Auston, elecutionist, from Whithy college. The address of the evening-was delivered by Major Smith, who went thoroughly into the merits of the order.

The system of handling the funds of the order was fully explained. It shows that while the officers are bonded they do not the membership to the benefit fund.
