If the works in Believille and Brockville were centered here they would prove of much benefit to the city. Even if they were located a short distance outside of the city the benefits would be great.

Mr. Gildersleeve said he had no doubt the citizens would assist the G. T. R. company to the extent which it would benefit the city. He was not in a position to say how much assistance the city would give, for that would depend on the offer made by the company. It was always understood that the citizens would deal liberally with the G. T. R. company if it would remove its works here. If the company decided to locate its works outside of the city the assistance given would not be as great as if the works were placed inside the limits: The help, given in any case, would be roverned by the benefit derived.

REV. MR. COULTHARD HAS RE-SIGNED HIS FICTON CHARGE. The Business Considered at The Meeting In St. Andrew's Church-There Was Much Resigning From Committees And Charges-Many Reports Brought Down.

The Kingston presbytery met yesterday atternoon in the school room of St. Andrew's shurch with a small attendance. The moderator, Rev. Mr. Craig, of Descronto, oc-cupied the chair, and Rev. J. Wilkins, interim clerk, recorded proceedings.

After opening, with religious exercises and the minutes of the last session had been read and confirmed, Rev. Mr. Houston ask? ed to be allowed to resign from the position of convener of the committee on Sabbath schools, to which he had been appointed at the last session of the presbytery, owing to press of work. The matter was laid over. Rev. Principal Grant suggested that the prosbytery elect a clerk for a year, as the position was now vacant. After discussion on the matter it was resolved to defer the selection until the evening sederunt. Rev. J. Gallagher requested to be allowed to withdraw from the Sabbath school committee. Dhe petition was granted and the name of Rev. G. Lang substituted.

The report of the committee on the resignation of Revs. Young and George was read by Rev. M. Macgillivray. The report refered to the loss which the prechytery sustained, and noted the many noble qualities of the two gentlemen in flattering terms,
The report was adopted.
Rev. Mr. Farley delivered a verbal report of the committee on the dispensation of ordinances at mission dations, his special station being Sharbot Lake. He outlined briefly the work done there and was followed by Rev. Mr. Mackie for Piccadilly, Rev. Mr. Porteous for Wilbur, Rev. Mr. Smith for the "The Ridge," Hastings, Rev. M. Macgillivray for Perth, Rev. Mr. Gacey for Carlow and Mayo, Rev. Mr. Coulthard for Demorestville, Rev. Mr. Wilkins for Consecon, Rev. Mr. Rattray for Cardiff, Rev. Mr. Lang for Tweed, Rev. G. Porteons for Pine street, Kingston, Rev. Mr. Me-Lean for Sydney. The reports as to the Tweed and Pine street missions were most gratifying and showed a laudable activity in the work by those in charge. At Tweed a new church is to be built and the corner-stone will be laid next Tuesday. The Pine street mis-eion has now many supporters and a regular congregation of thirty families. Rev. Principal Grant moved seconded by Rev. Mr. McLean that the reports submitted be received, and report insisted upon watch. The thieves bocame alarmed and from the member in charge of the mission of Matawatchan, -Carried

Written papers of students, which had been handed to the examining committee, were then distributed to different members of the presbytery for further examination. At this juncture the Rev. Mr. Coultnard. of Picton, tendered his resignation of the pastorate of St. Andrew's church there. A has escaped from the prison. Fitzsimmons ong discussion ensued which is withheld from publication at the request of the presbytery. It was finally decided to take action on the resignation at a later date. A question as to the best time to hald synod meetings and the possibility of dividing the synod into two synods, one to be known as the synod of Toronto and the other the eynod of Kingston, were laid over for discussion at the next meeting of presby With regard to the report of the home nission committee Rev. M. W. McLean stated that from the nineteen mission fields under control of the presbytery only three reports had been received. On this account he asked that the committee be allowed to report at a later date, when it is hoped all the fields will have been heard from. The committee on the records of St. Androw's church, Belleville, found them'cor

Gallaber advocated a term of one year as advisable, in order that the presbytery might have the opportunity of teeting the merits of two or three brethren, if necessary, before deciding on a permanent clerk. This was decided upon and Rev. Mr. Wilkins was named for the office. This Mr. Wilkins respectfully declined, not wishing to take the clerkship as a yearly office. Rev. Mr. Gallaher explained that the term of one year was not decided upon because there was a doubt of anyone's fitness for the fulfillment of the office permanently. Re-election was in order if the presbytery so desired. Mr. Wilkins then withdrew his objection. Mesure, Alten and Miller were present to press the call of the congregation of McDon

the committee on the state of religion. The members were pleased with the satisfactory answers received from the different congregations. As to the state of religion, among children, many statements were to hand some of which gave gratifying statistics as to attendance. Local charities were often assisted by the schools, although some schools were not more than self-sustaining The average age of admission of children to $30 sacrament of the Lord's supper differed widely from nine years to eighteen. The majority of answers stated that the preparatory services were often poorly attended As to gospel meetings some answers were to the effect that "only women attended prayer meetings," although cottage meetings were found to be popular in rural districts. Every detail was exrefully gone into, and, on the whole, the condition of religion was thought to be gratifying, although, in some instances, there was great room for improvement, as also in the matter of church furni
