A High Hill Near to Tenth and Belling. Water Power North. CITY OF MELBOURNE, Oct. 10.—Viscount London, an agent of a sewing machine company, who had quarters in Tolson, came to this city to sell and took a most remarkable case. He says that he had seen a woman, twenty-five years of age, who had been married to a man named Tolson, and who had been living with him in the town of Tenth and Belling, without warning, exploded with a most terrific explosion, and immediately an immense volume of smoke was seen to flow from the newly formed crater and inundated much of the surrounding country. The Indian fled to the hills and the church bells in the surrounding villages were rung violently. A general panic ensued. The water soon found its level and poured down the hill with great violence, and many persons were killed. The water was so hot that it would not approach the shore.
