The steamer struck the schooner and carried away her bowsprit and jibboom. The Ocean was damaged to the extent of $50.

FOOTBALL AT TORONTO.

RAIN INTERFERED WITH SUCCESS OF SATURDAY'S MATCHES.

The Pride of Queen's Defeated—The Second Football Team More Successful—Decisions of Referee Reported Unfair—He Clearly Favored 'Varsity—Kingston Will Not Secure the Senior Championship.

The two football teams of Queen's which went to Toronto on Friday afternoon returned to the city at 2:30 o'clock on Sunday morning. The first team, which met 'Varsity's team on 'Varsity lawn, suffered a defeat by 25 points to 17. The second team, which met Osgoode Hall's second team on the Bloor street grounds, won a victory by 11 points to 10. Rain fell during nearly all the game between Queen's and 'Varsity, which was to have begun at eleven o'clock sharp, but which, from one cause and another, was delayed until nearly twelve o'clock before it began. The 'Varsity men were present in large numbers with horns, bugles, or any other instrument which would make a noise, in order to drown the cheers and yell of Queen's adherents. None of the Queen's boys were seriously injured during the match, and all were able to maintain the struggle until the end. They fought an honest and brave fight for victory, and at the call of half time, when the score stood 11 points to 7 in Queen's favor, the prospects of victory seemed auspicious, but during the second half the tide of victory turned against them, and at the end they were beaten by eight points. The boys claim that the decisions of the referee, Edward Bayley, first vice-president of the union, were very unfair, especially so during the latter part of the game, and showing a decided favoritism towards 'Varsity and a complete ignoring of the rights and privileges of Queen's. The game between the second teams of Osgoode hall and Queen's passed off without a hitch, and the boys speaking in the highest terms of the gentlemanly treatment and playing of the legalites. A. J. McDougall, playing on the right wing for Queen's, had his foot hurt in a scrimmage and was relieved by R. R. Robinson. The playing was pretty even on both sides throughout the whole game, the point which made Queen's the winner being scored about three minutes before time was called. It is probable that 'Varsity and Osgoode hall will play off for the rugby championship in the senior series at Toronto on Saturday next, while Queen's second team may go to Toronto to play the second team of Hamilton. All hopes of Queen's securing the senior championship this year are gone.
The trip up was a most enjoyable one for the boys. If they did not have pure sparkling unalloyed fun, we don't know who ever did then. Besides the usual college songs, glees, jokes and the yell, a mock court was instituted with H. R. Grant as chief justice and Messrs. Baker, McGinnis, McDougall, Tandy, Robinson and Nickle had in turn to face the terrors of the inquisition. They all received their due allowance of punishment with the exception of Messrs. Nickle and Robinson, who were allowed to go scot-free. Then a gentleman from Campbellford, who was going on a visit to his daughter, made a good target for firing at and a fine butt for ridicule. The usual number of jokes were palmed off on the conductor and the various passengers who boarded the train at different stations. Thus the fun rolled on until after 11 o'clock when Toronto was reached and all tumbled out to find a place of rest, the team putting up at the Walker house. The return trip started at nine on Saturday night but with spirits dampered and eyes sleepy. At Cobourg a number of Victoria students were met at the depot. They were out celebrating hallow'een and shouting "Norwood is in the soup." It seems their crack association football team had on that day succeeded in defeating a few players of that remote village of Norwood by three goals to one, hence the cause of their excessive jubilation. The teams reached home between two and three o'clock yesterday morning.
A large number of the students remained in Toronto and will not return until to-morrow, while several stopped over at intermediate points to visit friends. The 'Varsity men did not treat Queen's men to any very lavish expenditure of care or attention. It was quite the reverse of the treatment they received while in Kingston last year when cabs were hired and a committee appointed, and they were driven all around the city and shown through the penitentiary, asylum and many other points of interest. Not a dollar was expended by the students of 'Varsity toward the hospitality of Queen's men. Then, too, not a little difficulty was experienced in finding a suitable dressing room before the match.

Notes.

The score was at one time 12 to 1 in favor of Queen's.
Marquis and Cameron are strong and heavy, but slow.
McRae (Queen's) and Wood ('Varsity) counter-balanced each other in excellence half-back play.
Marquis' long throw-outs from touch were unavailing on account of the quickness of 'Varsity wings.
The Empire says the decisions of Mr. Bayley were strict, accurate and impartial. Just listen to this!
The ball struck a dog behind 'Varsity's goal-line, and Queen's secured a try. Had it not been for the dog they wouldn't have scored.
"Hamilton and Queen's were strong teams last year, and would be this year if they had not to meet Osgoode hall and 'Varsity," remarked a well-known authority on the game.
The date has not been decided upon for the final match for the Ontario rugby union championship between Varsity and Osgoode hall, but it will probably be played on Friday or Saturday next at Rosedale.
In the junior match, the full hour and a half was played, and at the end the score stood nine all. The referee ordered the teams to play another half hour, and each side scored a rouge—ten points each. Then a quarter of an hour's more play was ordered, and in that time Queen's managed to score a rouge, winning by eleven points to ten. Globe: Mr. Bunting made a good referee. He thoroughly enforced the five yard rule and the rules against picking or lying on the ball in the scrimmage. The back division was grand. McRae as half-back played a magnificent game, never making a miss. This is his first year at the game, too. Our ita did some good kicking and Webster was always in his place. They were all well supplied with chances by quarter-back McCammon. Their forwards and wings did not seem so agile and fast as 'Varsity. Queen's was very poor at kicking for goal and lost at least four points that way.

Runaway and Mishap.

Frank Marshall, of Westbrook, started for Kingston this morning to bring to school two sons, two daughters and Miss Maybee, a friend. Near McDonnell's brick yard, a mile from the city limits, the team of colts bolted, and he drove them into the fence. The collision smashed the waggon and threw out the occupants. Miss Bobbie Marshall was badly cut in the head and stunned, being carried to the farm house of J. Richardson. Miss Maybee was cut in the face.

He Skipped the Town.

Henry Christmas was arrested on Barrack street, Saturday afternoon, at the instance of the Peterboro authorities. He was arrested in Peterboro on the 24th inst. for disorderly conduct on the street and resisting the police. The magistrate let him out on his own recognizance to appear on the following Friday, but he had skipped the town. Chief Roejell arrived in the city this morning and will transfer Christmas to Peterboro on the 12:40 train.

A Murder on Johnston Street.

This morning the body of an infant, just born, was found at the head of Johnson street by a young lad named Healey. There was flannel tied about its throat and its jaws were broken. It is supposed it was strangled.

James B. Smith, for vagrancy, was further remanded for one week. Andrew McLean, infraction of market by-law, adjourned till 6th instant. A young man, for drunkenness, was fined $3 and $2 costs or one month in jail.

An Important Event.

Saturday next will see an important social event at Ottawa in the marriage of Miss Gertrude Dickinson Mackintosh, daughter of C. H. Mackintosh, M.P., to Mr. Fleming, the eldest son of Sanford Fleming, C.M.G. The ceremony will take place in St. Alban's church.

Honor Conferred on a Canadian Firm.

Messrs. Tasse, Wood & Co. have been awarded a Gold Medal and Diploma by the Parisian Academy of Inventors for their well known Reliance Rose bud Cigar, the mode of manufacturing which has been patented by them to protect their interests therein.

A Narrow Escape.

Last night a drunken man, walking along the track at Kingston Mills, had a narrow escape from being killed. An approaching train whistled several times as warning, but the man did not leave the track. The engine was but a few feet behind when the man fell through a culvert and unknowingly saved his life.

A Hog Swallowed a Watch.

A son of John Ivey, Lansdowne, while working, took off his vest and hung it on a fence. In a pocket was a silver watch. A hog tore the vest up and swallowed the watch. The next morning the watch was found on the floor running all right, and indicating the proper time. The crystal was broken, but otherwise it was not injured.

Mrs. Tanner in Kingston.

When A. Abernethy was in New York recently he met the agent of the Musin-Tanner concert company. He also met Mr. Musin and Mrs. Tanner, who had just arrived from Paris, and after a tour of the continent. Mrs. Tanner enquired eagerly about Kingston and the Tandy Bros., with whom, she said, she sang in Kingston when but seventeen years of age. She would like very much to come to this city again.

A Funny Experience.

On Friday night a barber from the lower end of Princess street jumped over a back fence on Brock street to see his best girl when he was tackled by a wicked bull dog. A policeman happened by and, hearing the "racket," arrived on the scene in time to catch the young man as he was escaping over the fence from the canine. After an explanation the policeman allowed him to depart in peace. The dog, of course, will be shot at once.

Looking For a Thought.

The editor sat on a hard bottom chair trying to think of a thought. He plunged all his fingers about through his hair, but not one topic they brought. He had written on temperance, tariff and trade, and the prospects of making a crop, and joked about making ice-cream and weak lemonade until his readers told him to stop, and do the world a little good by telling the people to go to Weaver's fancy goods store for crockery, glassware, household tinware and every thing useful about a house.

The Medal Won.

The final contest for the silver medal and championship of Kingston, between E. Hardy and W. Fitzgerald, took place at the roller rink on Saturday night. The competitors were to cover a three mile course, seventy-five times around the rink, but at the fiftieth lap Fitzgerald fell out, claiming one of his skates was impaired. Upon examining the skate Capt. Augustus could find no flaw and the referee, C. Martin, at once awarded the medal to Hardy. The medal bore the inscription, "Champion, 1891," with a roller skate beautifully engraved in the centre.

Their Knowledge For Sale.

Where is patriotism? Some months ago a prospector from Colorado began delving in Kennebec and opened up several beds of what appeared to be platinum in good quantities with some gold and silver. A box of samples were sent away by one person and two university professors appealed to for opinion; the prospector in like manner appealed to different Canadian authorities, but from all no answer has been received. Another resident sent away specimens and was charged $2.50 for an opinion. At the same time specimens were sent to New York and an opinion sent back free with the invitation to send more.

Death of An Old Veteran.

George Cook died at Brockville, eighty years of age; cause paralysis. Deceased was born in the year 1812 in Marylebone, near London, England. When eighteen years of age he enlisted in the 67th Foot, and in this regiment and in the Royal Canadian rifles he did active service for twenty-five years, when he received his discharge and was pensioned. He came to this country in the fifties and settled in Hammondburg, Ont., where he married Amelia Medill, who died two years ago. The deceased at one time was a guard in the Kingston penitentiary and was also turnkey in the Brockville jail.

Honoring a Preacher.

A few days ago Mr. McPherson, Presbyterian student, who has been stationed at Tweed during the summer, was presented, on behalf of his congregation, with a gold watch, Josephus' complete works and Burns' poems. A flattering address was read. Mr. McPherson made a feeling reply, referring to the pleasant and profitable time he had spent this summer. He left for a few days visit at his home in Bowmanville after which he will return to Queen's college for the winter session. Mr. McPherson is held in the highest esteem by the congregation and the people generally for his eminently practical christian character. They feel that in his going away they have lost a true and faithful friend.

A Bright Outlook.

The boom in South Carolina phosphate has in a great measure suddenly collapsed. The reason is owing to the very low percentage of phosphate of lime contained in this class of mineral manure. The reports of enormous discoveries of the mineral in South Carolina had the effect of depreciating very materially the value of our mineral phosphates in the valley of the Ottawa and in Prontenac district. It is pleasant to learn within the past few days that quite a change has taken place for the better. It is now a settled point in England and the continent that South Carolina phosphate cannot compete with that of Canada, which contains 80 to 85 per cent. of phosphate. Prices have advanced and Canadian high grade of material has been acknowledged.

A Quiet Anniversary.

Hallowe'en passed off very quietly this year compared with former celebrations. Still the small boys in some part of the city were quite as mischievous as their elder brothers had been and made the night hideous with their yells. The lamp posts throughout the city were abundantly decorated with gates and other available properties while the boardwalks on many streets were well supplied with obstacles of every description, the "trip-rope racket" being also felt by pedestrians. Children disguised in ludicrous colors and appropriate garments made the usual "rounds," and in most cases made themselves very conspicuous no matter the nature of their reception. Many of the merchants were called upon by these urchins who were not to be driven away without something. "Taffy-pulls" were held all over the city and the usual games indulged in.

MME. BARRIOS.

The New York Guatemalan Beauty to Marry Again.

MME. BARRIOS.

President Barrios, of Guatemala, was killed in battle on April 2nd, 1885. Four years before, when he and his beautiful wife were making a tour of the principal countries of the world, he bought for her a mansion on Fifth avenue, New York, and invested largely in American securities for her benefit. The widow of the terrible Barrios is an amiable and accomplished woman and an ornament of the highest American society. Now that Spanish newspapers report that she is engaged to marry Senor Martinez Rods, a member of the parliament of Spain and a wealthy resident of Granada, much public interest is manifested in the announcement. She was the daughter of Juan Aparicio, proprietor of a large coffee plantation of Quezaltenango, Guatemala. On a visit to her father Barrios saw her, became enraptured with her beauty and asked her hand in marriage. Aparicio declined the honor of having the president for a son-in-law, on the ground of her being too young to marry, and his daughter fled from home to escape the attentions of her lover. Thereupon Barrios put her father in prison and kept him there until the young lady returned and avowed her willingness to share her life with the tyrant. The pair thus rudely mated lived very happily together.

SECOND EDITION.

QUEEN'S SATURDAY NIGHT CLUB.

Interesting Address on the American Constitution By Prof. Shortt.

At a meeting of the Saturday night club held in the senate room on Saturday evening, Prof. Shortt gave an interesting address on the American constitution. In his address he dealt only with the federal constitution and pointed out its relations to the people in general and also referred by comparison to the constitutions of Canada and England as regards British North America. He pointed out as a fundamental principle that in England the British parliament holds all the authority of the English people and exercises all the functions and powers of the people as a legislative body whereas in the United States the people delegate only part of their political functions to the federal and state governments. In Canada the British parliament, as the source of our legislation, has delegated only part of the legislative functions to the federal government and the various provincial governments so that the authority of the provincial governments is as absolute as the authority of the dominion government within the delegated limits. He then went on to point out the respective functions, powers and limitations of the three great parts into which the United States government is divided. He referred particularly to the really legislative functions which the supreme court of the United States has exercised in connection with its work of interpreting the federal constitution of the states, and pointed out how this has given such elasticity to the constitution as enables it to adjust itself to the growing needs of the country. The discussion which followed touched upon the recent judgment of our Canadian supreme court, the Manitoba school act, and the analogies of the United States and Canadian supreme courts were pointed out in an able manner.

THE OLD STORY REVIVED.

Rebate on Grain Coming Through the Canadian Canal.

The old subject of the rebate on grain coming through the Canadian canal, transhipped at Ogdensburg, but for export via Montreal, is likely again to be called to the attention of the government. This spring the government decided that the rebate should not be paid on grain transhipped at Ogdensburg, the rule being made at the instance of the Canadian marine association, who claimed that the grain going to Ogdensburg for transhipment to Montreal Canadian bottoms were barred out of the trade, as the grain shipped was American grain. The Ogdensburg transit company, which has had the handling of all the grain, is preparing to push its case against the Canadian government before the commission on reciprocal trade between the United States and Canada. The grievance of the Ogdensburg transit company is the alleged discrimination in collecting canal tolls on grain destined for export via Montreal, which is transhipped from lake vessels to river barges at Ogdensburg, while no tolls are exacted where the grain is transhipped at Kingston. The re-opening of the question is of great interest to grain men and shippers here, and the Kingston & Montreal forwarding company is specially interested. That company does a great deal of the freighting for the Ogdensburg transit company. Fully one million bushels of grain have been exported from Montreal this season, which were transhipped at Ogdensburg, and this grain has had to pay the full tolls through the Welland and St. Lawrence canals. The rebates of tolls on this grain would amount to fully $40,000, and these rebates the government has been asked to allow.
