Great Ran by Cycling Couriers-Presi dent Hill the First Canadian to Receive a Message by This System-Interes Games of Football Yesterday.

At 8:30 o'clock, last evening, Mr. Nai-emith, a Toronto bicyclist, placed a package in the hands of E. C. Hill, president of the Canadian wheelmen's association dence, 304 University avenue. It had been carried from Hamilton to Kingston, a distance of 205 miles—more like 210 miles—in fifteen hours and twenty minutes. Naiamith did the distance from Napanee to Kingsto in one hour and thirty-five minutes. After he had placed the document in th After he bad placed the document in the president's hand he flow for a bath, and soon reappeared "as fresh as a daley."

Mr. Hill, in the presence of bioyelists, ladies and a Whin reporter, opened the packet and, unrolling the billets, read this:

"Hamilton, Nov. 12.—Dear Hill: The bearer of this is the last of a long line of cranks.' Don't let him escape -- Yours originator of the race, sent a message of congratulation to Mr. Hill upon his being "the awaken in the non-riding public an interest in a sport that ultimately will be second to none in popularity and a knowledge that

At time of starting first relay of Hamilton riders will post press copy of this in nearest city letter box, so you can ompare time made by Her Majesty's mails and C. W. A. couriers." President Hill caused happy remarks, one saying "A feather in your hat, Mr. Presismith, of Toronto, just outside of Napanee and as that rider had had a fall a few rods away, the message was handed to him and he started off on the final relay. The roads were fairly good, though much mud existed Scounse of the illness of one and disabilities of others the Kingston pagers selected could not start, but President Hill sent others, Mr. McMahon going to Odessa. McMahon saw Naismith's light and started off for Kingston. He saked the hotel men to shout if it was Naismith. They did so. Then McMahon pumped and led Naismith to Odessa by running upon sharp gravel. He remarked that the race had been a great success and that in view of the condition of the roads excellent time had been made.
