CHURCH LOTTERIES.

The clergymen of Watertown are determined to put an end to the scandals arising from church lotteries, and to that end have passed, in conference assembled, the following resolutions:

- Resolved, 1. That in our judgment such practices are in their nature subversive alike to business prosperity and to the moral integrity and Christian character of those who resort to them. 2. That the church of God, as the teacher of Christian morals, cannot consistently favor or tolerate such practices, as by the law of the land are made a public nuisance and misdemeanor, punished by fine or imprisonment or both. 3. That, by our public and private teaching, we will faithfully endeavor to dissuade all with whom we have influence from practicing or tolerating any form of lottery or gambling. 4. That these resolutions be published in the current papers. The people may be influenced or they may not by these resolutions, but the gentlemen of the cloth are bound to show that they have the courage of their convictions.

INFLUENCE OF CLERGYMEN.

The Boston Herald takes a peculiar view in regard to the influence of the clergy. Because the political leaders of a dominant party have not acquiesced in the expressed wish of certain clergymen, and abandoned the display incidental to the inauguration of a president, the Herald holds that the pulpit is losing its influence. They now occupy, it says, "an exceedingly delicate and critical position," and their congregations "are gradually dropping away from them." Our contemporary goes further and declares that the wearers of the cloth have not departed far enough from the ancient landmarks (i.e., the old gospel) and "that they must conform to the world more or the world will utterly forsake them and leave their churches vacant."

A greater plea for time-serving was never put in print. A greater misunderstanding of the place and functions and work of the ministry could not be conceived. Has the pulpit lost its influence? That is a question which cannot be disposed of in a line. Some would disparage the power and usefulness of the clergy by magnifying their failures or attributing failure erroneously to them. It is assumed that the evangelical alliance of this city does not amount to much because the members of it made very little impression in their late onslaught upon the social evils. But they essayed nothing beyond the giving of advice, which they deemed good and worthy of consideration. That it was not taken is not so discreditable to them as to those whose estimation of moral forces and moral effects is not as high as it should be. At most the clergy but tendered opinions, whose value stands whether they accomplish the purpose for which they were advanced or not. The pulpit influence remains, and so does the opposing influence, and one outranks the other only so far as the people are above the corrupting tendencies of the age.

The Boston Herald must speak ironically when it says the clergy must become more worldly—must go with the tide whatever it be—if they are henceforth to be influential. Such a thing cannot be unless providence helps to make wreck of the church, to hasten the disruption which certain seers say must come about before christianity can rise above all impurities and become the religion of the world, and the greatest governing power in the world.

LABOUR ISSUES.

The Detroit News tells us that the hardest blow yet given the knights of labour is a proclamation just issued from Philadelphia by founders of the order. It calls attention to the fact that the order has drifted far from its original moorings, and is now autocratic in form, and invites the assemblies throughout the country to send their addresses to Philadelphia, when a sufficient number having done so—a convention will be called and the order will be brought back to the principles of "secrecy, obedience, mutual assistance, and the placing of industry on a scientific basis." This, with Barry's order, says the News, splits the knights into three parts, and completes the destruction of what once promised to be a magnificent instrument for the education of the masses in economic truths. However, the once numerous members of the order are not entirely lost to the labor cause. Many have simply changed their allegiance from the knights of labour to the American federation of labor, and in doing so it is difficult to understand what benefit they are to derive. If the knights of labor have been weakened in membership and influence it is because some of the leaders in it have not been faithful to the interests they espoused as they were exposed to be. Their political and personal ambition was greater than their ambition to serve the order. Politics, especially, is a disrupting thing. In whatever organization it is recognized it is sooner or later bound to work mischief. Powderly did his best to keep the knights of labor free of it, but he couldn't, and in seeking to repair the wrongs done by it in some directions he let drop a thought or two (favoring protection) and the agitation among his members was, if anything, increased. The general secretary then felt that he could not stand the political pressure, and at the bidding of the republican party resigned office, abandoned his post, and went on a campaigning tour. The democratic element in the order took a positive dislike to him, felt that he had been using his position unduly, and at the new election of officers would have no more of him. Barry's break is the result of disappointment. He wanted a greater swing in the general executive than Powderly would grant him, and so he entered on the plotting and conspiring which led to his expulsion from the order. The knights of labor have always been obedient to the powers that be, but want a stable and successful government of their affairs. This they are now guaranteed, and the crisis in the history of the order has been passed. The bid of a second or third party for their allegiance will amount to little.

STRONG DENUNCIATION.

Rev. M. C. Hawkes, of Detroit, has by a sermon which he preached on Sunday, created a profound sensation. He pictured the danger of giving prominence to a foreign element in municipal and state and national government. Said he:

"The entire body of the immense foreign immigration reaching our shores settles itself in our cities. New York to day contains a greater Irish population than any entire city in Ireland, and but few German cities exceed its German population.

"It is affirmed that 74 per cent. of all European ex-convicts find their way to the United States, and from all portions of the globe there are constantly pouring into our cities whole hordes of vicious and depraved men and women who carry moral corruption wherever they go. Sixty per cent. of the saloon keepers are foreign born.

"Many of these foreigners come to our shores poisoned with the virus of communism and anarchy, contempters of moral restraints, haters of religion and enemies of all government. Taking advantage of the freedom of speech allowed here, they boldly promulgate their insane delusions to the imminent peril of our government.

"The vulture's egg under the dove hatches out the canniverous vulture, which, as soon as it obtains sufficient strength, turns upon its gentle mother and rends her to pieces! So anarchism, brought to life and strength under the protection of a too lenient government, turns upon its protector with bloodthirsty instinct.

"It may be wise for this government to call a halt to this wholesale immigration, at least till such time as those foreigners of revolutionary tendencies already here shall have become assimilated to the character of our own people and institutions. He wanted it understood that he did not include all foreign born citizens in these statements, as among them are many of the purest and best of our people."

The danger to which Rev. Mr. Hawkes refers has been seen by others, and commented on, but not in the same outspoken way. For years the utmost encouragement was given to the anarchists, the communists and socialists, to preach their disturbing doctrines. They were allowed to rant as much as they pleased so long as they talked against powers and principalities not American. It was only when an attempt was made to take the civic authorities of Chicago by the throat that the aid of the national government was invoked in putting the law breakers under subjection. And even then only the more reckless of the anarchists were affixed and dealt with. They make up but a small proportion of the element which swings a ponderous power in the political world, which makes partyism successful or unsuccessful in the greater or minor elections. A change in the policy of the federal government so far as immigration is concerned may be beneficial so far as the labour market is concerned, but it cannot affect the political control exercised by the foreign element. It is now very great, it is increasing, and no party anxious for domination, for spoils, will break faith with it and attempt to ignore it. Rev. Mr. Hawkes may view the situation in a spirit of despair, but it is unalterable for the present.

HE DUPED THE LADY.

She Fell in Love with His Name and Fine Figure—He Got Her Money.

BROCKVILLE, Jan. 9.—Early in December George Algernon Jefferson Anderson arrived in Dundela to write records in family bibles. boarded in the same house in which the school mistress stayed, and she soon became enamored of him. He professed to reciprocate her affection and an engagement followed. She lent him $25 to pay his fare and purchase some clothes. He returned and they were married at Bell's Corners on Dec. 22nd. They afterwards visited Morrisburg where she drew $100 from the bank, and gave it to George Algernon to secure a house in Brockville. She had business in Ottawa, and after a couple of days of married life they separated, she going to Ottawa and he coming to Brockville. On Saturday last she arrived here and since then has been looking for her truant husband. Anderson, has left for parts unknown.

BLOUANGER IS ON TOP.

Playing Into the Hands of the Dictator—A Patriotic Appeal.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—It is rumored that M. DeFreycinet, seeing the certainty of the election of Gen. Boulanger in the Department of the Seine, is trying to arrange with Boulanger regarding the composition of the next ministry.

The Soleil, an Orleansist paper, says that that party will support General Boulanger against M. Jacques.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—Pierre Blanc, senior member of the chamber of deputies, who acted as temporary president yesterday, delivered an effective speech in which he urged that Boulangerism be suppressed with the utmost severity of the law, and appealed to the republicans to unite against all kinds of dictatorship.

NEGLECTED COLD IN THE HEAD IS DANGEROUS

JAMES SMART, Esq., Sheriff of the united counties of Leeds and Grenville, says: It would be impossible to speak too extravagantly of the wonderful curative properties of Nasal Balm. I suffered for upwards of a month from a severe cold in the head, which, despite the use of other remedies was becoming worse and developing into catarrh. I procured a bottle of Nasal Balm and was relieved from the first application, and thoroughly cured within twenty-four hours. I cheerfully add my testimony to the value of Nasal Balm.

CAPT. D. H. LOYN, Manager and Proprietor of the C.P.R. and R.W. and O.R. Car Ferry, Prescott, Ont., and Ogdensburg, N.Y., says: I used Nasal Balm for a prolonged case of cold in the head. Two applications effected a complete and thorough cure in less than twenty-four hours. I would not take $100 for my bottle of Nasal Balm if I could not replace it.

ISAAC WATTERMAN, of the Imperial Oil Co., Petrolia, Ont., says: Nasal Balm gave me the most perfect satisfaction of any medicine I ever used for cold in the head. I found it easy to use, quick in giving relief, and effected a complete cure in a few hours.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS, similar only in name and appearance: they are dangerous. Ask for Nasal Balm and take nothing else.

If you cannot obtain Nasal Balm from your dealer it will be sent post paid on receipt of price—50 cents and $1—by addressing FULFORD & CO., Brockville, Ont.

COLD IN THE HEAD is one of the most annoying, and at the same time, most insidious and dangerous diseases with which the people of this latitude have to contend during the spring and summer months. Rapid changes of temperature, and damp, sloppy weather are the fruitful sources of Cold in the Head, and there are few who have not felt its disagreeable effects. DO NOT NEGLECT A COLD IN THE HEAD, as it invariably leads to Catarrh—often to Consumption. NASAL BALM is a sure and speedy cure for Cold in the Head, and never fails to give almost instant relief. We offer the following testimony from well known people to substantiate our claims:

D. DERRYSHIRE, President of the Ontario Creamery Association says: Nasal Balm beats the world for catarrh and cold in the head. In my own case it effected relief from the first application.

MR. G. T. GORELL, Mail Clerk on the C.P.R., says: Nasal Balm is a boon to all suffering from cold in the head. It gives relief rapidly and never fails to effect a speedy cure.

T. H. MURKOE, Parry Sound, says: Nasal Balm has no equal as a remedy for catarrh and cold in the head. It is both speedy and effective in its results.

D. A. BRECKENRIDGE, General Agent Canada Life for Eastern Ontario, says:—I have used Nasal Balm for cold in the head with the most satisfactory results. It is all you claim for, and its merit cannot too widely be made known.

J. MCKEE, Chemist, Peterboro, says: Nasal Balm gives the most general satisfaction to consumers of any preparation I ever handled. My sales are large and the reports from those who use it fully substantiate your claims for the medicine as an unequalled remedy for catarrh and cold in the head.

Collegiate School Board.

The collegiate institute board yesterday passed the balance of accounts for 1888. The financial statement showed that although improvements were many the usual amount asked from the city had been ample to cover them, the increased attendance having swelled the revenue. Messrs. Dale and Borough, newly appointed masters of Modern Languages and English, had undertaken their duties. Mr. Keyner's departure created a vacancy in the musical mastership; it was resolved not to fill it, as it was difficult to sustain and is an optional subject.

A Pittsburg Tea Meeting.

One of the most successful tea-meetings ever known in Pittsburg was held last Thursday evening in the Pine Grove Methodist church. The financial object, the liquidation of a debt on the new organ was fully accomplished, the proceeds being about $75. The tea provided by the ladies was as usual all that an epicure could desire. The music furnished by the local choir and the friends from Kingston was inspiring. Mr. Williams, of Sealeys Bay, an excellent layman gave a practical and humorous address. Rev. Mr. Lamb of the Presbyterian church, delivered a thoughtful and instructive speech on "Mental Progress," and Rev. Wm. Sparling, president of the Montreal conference, delighted all who heard him by his brilliant and eloquent remarks. Arthur Chown added to the enjoyment of the evening by his talk. Mr. Raymond, of Kingston, by his readings, and Miss McCartney by her music delighted the audience. Dr. W. G. Anglin won golden opinions by his admirable discharge of the duties of chairman. At the social the following evening, Mr. Williams, Miss Williams and Miss Amy Williams formed the principal attraction on the evening by their readings, recitation and music.
