INNER DIPLOMATIC HISTORY OF THE SAMOAN QUARREL.

A Citizen of the United States Alleged to Have Led the Native Forces Against the Germans in the Recent Battle.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Among the correspondence concerning affairs in Samoa, referred to in President Cleveland's message transmitted to Congress yesterday and presented to the Senate to-day, are these instructions to Admiral Kimberly from Secretary Whitney, contained in a cablegram dated June 11:

Commander Mullan of the Nepsic telegraphs by way of Auckland that a force was landed at Samoa from the German fleet, which resulted in an engagement between the troops of Mataafa and the German forces and the defeat of the latter. He reports that the Germans in retaliation bombarded towns, disregarding protests and neutral rights, and that the property and lives of American citizens are in danger.

The German warships have undertaken to disarm Mataafa.

The German warships have undertaken to disarm Mataafa. Landed at night force to prevent retreat. Mataafa's men fired on and forced to flight. Germans routed, 20 killed, 20 wounded.

In a communication under the same date, to Secretary Bayard, Mr. Coleman reports from Berlin that a prominent German Liberal newspaper, commenting on proceedings in the British House of Commons, construes them as indicating that England would offer no opposition to the establishment of a predominant German political influence in Samoa.

On Jan. 12, Secretary Bayard addressed a communication to Count Arco Valley, the German minister to the United States, in reply to a statement giving the German version of the Samoan difficulty.

The German forces were landed in Samoa after the German Commander had given notice of his intention to the commanders of the American and British navies.

The German forces were landed in Samoa after the German Commander had given notice of his intention to the commanders of the American and British navies. The reason for landing being that some German plantations were in danger.

In response, Secretary Bayard says, he at once communicated to the Count, on becoming aware of the allegation that the Samoan forces were led by an American named Klein, that he had no knowledge whatever nor reason to believe that Klein was a citizen of the United States.
