Great fields of asphaltum have been discovered in Utah and Wyoming territories. One field near Vernial, Utah, contains 700,000 tons of asphalt. This asphalt was formerly crude petroleum, which, escaping from natural openings in the ground, flowed into the plains where it now lies, and there dried.

Humanitiy's Averages.

The average weight of male adults is 130 pounds; of women, about 110 pounds. The average height of American recruits is about 5 feet 9 inches. The average height of well built men is 5 feet 9 inches; of women, 5 feet 4 inches. One inch of height should add two pounds to weight. The specific gravity of the body ranges from 0.950 to 1.030. The heart weights 260 grammes in women and 330 grammes (101, ounces) in men; the average weight is 292 grammes. The period of its maximum weight is between 50 and 80. The amount of blood in the body is onethirteenth the weight of the body, or five or six quarts, or eleven or twelve pounds. A man dies when he has lost a fifth of his blood. The heart with each contraction ejects six ounces of blood from each ventricle, at a pressure in the left ventricle of onefourth of an atmosphere. The heart sends all the blood round the body twice every minute, or in about thirty-five contractions. A deadly poison injected into a vein kills in fifteen seconds, on the average; injected under the skin, in four minutes. A cubic millimetre of blood contains 5,000,000 blood cells in men, 4,500,000 in women. There are 300 red cells to every one white blood cell. The red cells have an average diameter of 1-3200 inch, the white cells of 1-25000 inch. The specific gravity of the blood is 1.055. The frequency of the pulse in the new born is 150; in infants of one year, 110; at two year, 95; at seven to fourteen years, 85; in the adult man, 72; woman, 80. The respirations are one-fourth as rapid as the pulse. -Medical

Martin Luther. Martin Luther died on the 17th of February, 1546. The name of this inaugurator of the great religious revolution of the Sixteenth century was rendered even more familiar to the public by the national celebration with which the 400th anniversary of his birth was signalized throughout Germany. Aside from the ecclesiastical results of his career, Luther's translation of the Bible, through its universal currency among his countrymen, has had a powerful influence in preserving the German language from the undue effects of the tendency to change to which all languages are subject. In this respect the Lutheran Bible has exerted as potent an influence as the English version of King James has exerted in the preservation of the vernacular speech of England and the cago Tribune. Like Service, Like Pay.

Here is a new story of Paganini. One time in Paris he jumped into a cab and ordered the driver to make quick time to the theatre, where an impatient audience was waiting to hear him perform the famous prayer of Moise on one string of his violin.

"What's the fare?" he inquired. "For you, sir," said the driver, "ten francs." "You jest," laughed the great violinist. "Not so-you charge as much for a place at your concert." Paganini was silent for a minute and then, with a complacent glance at the overreaching cabman, said, handing him a decent fare, "I'll pay you ten francs when you drive me upon one wheel."-Detroit Free Press.

The wise people who tell you how to improve your memory! Here is one whe says you must think of "Washington. Then think of the first word which that naturally suggests, which may be "capitol" or "president." Then forget Washington and think of a word suggested by the second, and so on and so or until you have thought of a hundred words. Grand scheme, isn't it? Has & taking sound to it, although how that sort of a nightmare is going to help & fellow to remember "two spools of silk twist, contrasting shades of pale green and rich maroon, a sponge for the bath room, half a dozen buttons like this, & piece of dress braid, Robbie's shoes, shade for the parlor lamp, box of laundry soap, man says he wants some harness oil, and don't forget to call on the-there's your trainrunrun"-is more than a man with a short memory can just exactly understand. However, we suppose a man who could remember Washington and a hundred other things by simply forgetting one as soon as he thought of another could remember anything. -Burdette in Brook lyn Eagle.
