AFFAIRS IN SERVICIA.

Poor Milan Had More Worry Than He Could Stand—He Wanted Rest.

BELGRADE, March 8.—Milan's manifesto attributes the Serbian success to the virtues of the people. He takes upon himself the blame for the disasters, and asks forgiveness of those whom he has offended. He refers to his personal unhappiness and his broken health. In a letter to Count Zichy, Milan said hard work and illness had turned his hair gray, and he had been unable to obtain more than three hours' sleep nightly for weeks. He longed for freedom as a school-boy longed for holidays.

VIENNA, March 8.—All the newspapers here, except the official organs, predict troubles and unrest, owing to the growth of Russian influence in the Balkans.

BELGRADE, March 8.—Alexander sent a telegram to his mother, announcing his accession, addressing her as Queen Natalie. He received a long reply. It is stated that the army will be reduced one half in order to restore a financial balance. Milan takes the title of Count Takova.

Railroad Closed Up.

BROOKVILLE, March 8.—A strike of the section men of the Brookville & Westport railway has assisted to practically blockade the road, though one engine has managed to reach a point between Delta and Farmersville from the Westport end. Another engine lies at Farmersville. On Tuesday Station Agent Williams, Farmersville, succeeded in engaging a number of shovellers to go to work on the road, but before they had done anything they were induced to leave by the strikers. The men have been getting the equivalent of $1 a day in scrip and ask for $1.25.

Her Corset Saved Her.

BRYN MAWR, Pa., March 8.—Donald Frazer fired two shots at his wife and then shot and killed himself. Mrs. Frazer's life was saved by the bullets striking the steel ribs in her corset and glancing off. Last April, Frazer was tried for shooting at a railroad switchman, was adjudged insane and was committed to an asylum. In October he was discharged. He and his wife quarreled previous to the shooting. Mrs. Frazer had been advised to have him returned to the asylum, but she never thought he would attempt to harm her.

SUARIM, March 8.—It is reported that the Abyssinians are besieging Kassala, and that Senoussis army is marching on Khartoum.

A WIDOW AND HER LOVER.

THEY ARE TOO MUCH FOR THE WESTERN COWBOYS.

A Scene at a Dance—The Expected Husband Concerts a Plot Which Does Not Work Well—A Drummer Who Has Nerve as Well as Good Looks—On the Trail.

DOUGLAS, Wyo., March 8.—Widow McCool, aged 18, has been station agent at Dry Cheyenne, on the stage route between there and Buffalo. She is a pretty brunette and commanded the admiration of all the cattle men for miles around. After refusing a dozen offers she accepted Martin Hutton, a wealthy ranchman, and they were to be married in May. Last week a blonde-haired young Englishman, James Kidd, travelling for an Omaha provision house, came along. His good looks and gentle ways produced an impression. He went to Buffalo, transacted his business, returned to Dry Cheyenne on Saturday, and that night took the widow to a dance twenty miles away at Sheriff Williams' rancho. Hutton was insanely jealous, and his cowboys were ordered to pick a quarrel with Kidd and shoot him. The programme was carried out, but Kidd pulled two six shooters and backed up against a closed door leading to a bedroom. E. Cook, Hutton's foreman, dropped dead from one of Kidd's bullets, and three or four others were wounded. Kidd was shot in the arm, and the gang were closing on him when the door behind suddenly opened, he was dragged into the bedroom, and the door was quickly bolted. The young widow had got into the bedroom from the rear, and Kidd owed his life to her coolness. His escape in the darkness was not discovered. Kidd secured a saddle horse, and placing the widow in front of him, galloped off. The couple were terribly fatigued when they reached here on Sunday night. After refreshments they hired a team and driver and pushed on to Chadron, Neb., where they were married. Sheriff Williams, Hutton, and a dozen cowboys got here ten hours behind them. They were terribly enraged when they found that the elopers were so far in the lead, but started for Chadron. They have not returned this way, and it is believed the elopers reached a railway station and are now safe.

THE GOLD FEVER AGAIN.

It Has Broken Out Bad in California—The Rush of People.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 8.—The gold discoveries in Lower California have created intense excitement in every town in the southern part of the state. The Santa Clara district, where the crowds are rushing, is 150 miles south of San Diego and 40 miles west of Euznada. All along the line thousands are en route to the fields. At San Diego the streets are filled with strangers, outfitting for the mines, and wagons and pack mules loaded with miners' outfits. An average of six hundred men a day have left for the mines during the last four days, and yesterday the number was much larger. Waiters at the hotels and restaurants have largely left, and two-thirds of the force on the Cuyamaca railroad are gone. The best indications regarding the value of the mines are that no grub has returned except to replenish "grub stakes." The telegraphers have also joined the prospectors. James Kerrane, of Los Angeles, returned from the camp last night. He said: "There are already over 1,000 men on the ground. The stuff brought out is placer gold, and light and flakey. The valley in which the mine was discovered has three well defined gold quartz lodes. They descend from the mountains in separate gulches. The gulch to the north is the one in which the greatest find has been made. Above are to be found croppings of slate and porphyry. A tracing has been made of one lode 1400 feet from the upper side of the valley into the mountains. At present, in the valley, four dry washers are located, only one of which is in operation. A great many rockers and ground sluices are being worked. The dirt is easily handled, and the richest of returns are had in some instances. I saw one man who had knocked out $200 in four hours. But above all things the prices of provisions are simply outrageous. I paid $5 for a fifty pound sack of flour; $3.50 for 10 lb. sack of oatmeal; and drinks are two bits a piece. San Diego has about gone in a body to the gold country. Four telegrams have been received in this city requesting that hotel waiters be sent at once to San Diego, as none could be had there at any price. The guests were left to get their own meals out of the kitchen for one entire day."

A RITUALISTIC RUMPUS.

Uncalled for Sympathy With the Bishop of Lincoln—Members Protesting.

OTTAWA, March 8.—It is learned that the request to the congregation of St. Alban's Episcopal church made by the rector, the Rev. Mr. Bogart, for prayers for the ritualistic Bishop of Lincoln, was in pursuance of a circular issued by the Church Times, of England, to rectors throughout England and the colonies. It is said Mr. Bogart's action was in direct opposition to the instructions of his bishop, who cautioned each rector in his diocese against complying with the circular, but this has not yet been confirmed, and at all events, it is in direct opposition to the wishes of many of the congregation who do not believe in the growing ritualism of the church of St. Alban's the martyr. At least one member has already resigned as a protest, and a written protest is now being circulated for signature amongst the members of the congregation. More than this, a number are pledged to support a resolution to be moved at a vestry meeting next month withholding the rector's salary until acceptable explanations as to the request for prayers for the Bishop of Lincoln are made. A large-sized storm is brewing in the church on Sandy Hill. The fact that the congregation was asked to pray for the same bishop as the Roman Catholic churches here is falling to many.

Cleveland and the Chamber of Commerce.

NEW YORK, March 8.—At a meeting of the chamber of commerce ex-President Cleveland was nominated for honorary member by Alexander E. Orr. Mr. Orr highly eulogized the nominee. Col. Fred A. Conkling opposed the nomination. He said he had supported Mr. Cleveland at the polls for many high offices, but he objected to the endorsement of the eulogistic sentiments in the nominating speech. He added that if the name was put without any speech, no one would vote against it. A rising vote was taken. Twenty voted in favour, thirteen against, and a few did not vote. Mr. Cleveland was thereupon elected an honorary member.

A RICH OLD AGE.

The Death To-day of One of the Greatest Engineers in America.

LATE JOHN ERICKSON.

NEW YORK, March 8.—John Erickson, the great engineer, died at his home, 36 Beach street, last night, of cystitis. He would have been 86 years old on July 31st. He had been ailing for only a short time. He was born in Sweden, and came to this country in 1839. His most noteworthy achievement was the building of the Monitor, whose opportune arrival at Hampton Roads saved the remainder of the United States fleet from destruction by the rebel ironclad Merrimac.

WHO IS THE LEADER?

The Democrats at Sixes and Sevens—They Need a New Captain.

NEW YORK, March 8.—The Herald this morning devotes a page to the question, "Who is the leader of the Democratic party?" The Herald has asked many people, democrats, mainly, of course. The answers are interesting; many democrats are in doubt. They have not even considered it, and they scarcely know which way to look; in fact they have not yet recovered from the shock of defeat. Many are still loyal to Cleveland, recognizing him as the embodiment of the tariff reform idea, and predict his candidacy again in 1892. There is a very strong feeling for Hill. The fact that he carried the empire state while it was lost to the national ticket, has added wonderfully to his prestige as a leader. Mr. Whitney seems to have largely increased his popularity by his good sense in Mr. Cleveland's cabinet, and he is strongly mentioned as a possible leader for his party. Samuel J. Randall, of Pennsylvania, the protectionist democrat, is naturally enough turned to at this crisis by a certain class of democrats, who say that perhaps with the great protectionist as a leader the party might have better luck next time, and so they shout for Randall as the standard bearer. In brief the result of a hasty census of representative New Yorkers yesterday, political leaders, prominent democrats, merchants, professional men, financiers, besides men in all branches, was as follows: In doubt as to choice, 52; for Hill, 72; for Cleveland, 34; for Randall, 16; for Whitney, 12. Total 186.

Attempted Suicide.

CORNWALL, March 8.—Miss Mary McDonald, nineteen years old, daughter of John Hugh McDonald, attempted to commit suicide on Tuesday by swallowing a table-spoonful of Paris green. She was observed in the act by her younger brother, and the alarm spread. Antidotes were at once administered and her life saved. The only reason for the act is that the poor girl has been for years subject to epileptic fits and has become despondent of late.

A Body Discovered.

SMITH'S FALLS, March 8.—The body of a man was discovered in the Rideau river on Tuesday. The body was in a standing position, one foot having been caught by a sunken log, and his head was only a few inches below the surface of the water. It is supposed that the body had been in the river upwards of two months. Upon his person was found $18 in money and other articles. The body has not been identified.

Menacing Spanish America.

CITY OF MEXICO, March 8.—El Tiempo (conservative) sees in Harrison's message a menace to the peace of the Spanish Americas and principally Mexico. It fears Blaine's policy.

George Cook, aged 70, an inmate of the poor house, Crawfordville, Ind., was yesterday discovered to have $6,528 hidden in a box under his bed. He is a queer character and claims to be a Russian exile.

William Gessler, a glass worker, went to his father in law's house, Fostoria, Ohio, last night, and called his wife, from whom he was separated, to the door and asking her a question, shot and killed her and then killed himself. Cause, jealousy.

The copper syndicate has spent 212,500,000 francs. It contracted with the mining companies to buy annually until Jan. 1st, 1891, 150,000 tons of copper, at a cost of 250,000,000 francs, but in February out of 10,000 tons received, the syndicate sold only 1,397 tons.

FIGHTING IN SAMOA.

An American Man-of-War Said to Have Been Blown to Pieces.

BRESLAU, March 8.—The Schlescher Zeitung prints the following telegram from Samoa: "The German frigate Oiga has bombarded Mataafa's camp. The captain of the American man-of-war protested, but seeing his protest disregarded he opened fire on the Oiga. The shell burst between decks, doing much damage. The Oiga then directed torpedoes at the American ship blowing her up with all hands."

NEW YORK, March 8.—Nothing further has been received here about the alleged blowing up of the American man-of-war. The only war ship from this country now in Samoan waters is the Nipisic, commanded by Commander Mullan. The Vandalia and Monongahela are on their way to Apia.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Secretary Blaine was interviewed to day regarding the report that a United States man-of-war has been blown up by a German cruiser in Samoan waters. The secretary stated that the state department had received no advices on the subject, and while he could not deny the story he was inclined to discredit it.

It is said at the navy department that news of an event of such importance would surely reach the United States at least as soon as a German sea coast city. It is believed at the department that the Trenton and Vandalia reached Samoa about March 1st.

RELIEF JUST IN TIME.

The Comptoir d'Escompte Helped by the Bank of France—Prompt Assistance.

PARIS, March 8.—The bank of France has advanced 100,000,000 francs to the Comptoir d'Escompte, which is sufficient to cover the amount of the deposits withdrawn from the latter bank. The English copper companies have accepted the proposal made by the copper syndicate to reduce their output during 1889 25 per cent. and to postpone deliveries two months. The troubles of the Societe des Metaux arise from an interruption of the harmony inside the syndicate. A collapse of the syndicate is not believed to be likely. The firms interested are of such high standing that they would not be willing to have their names connected with a financial disaster. The Rothschilds, if not directly interested in the syndicate, have fostered it by proxy, and would be unwilling to have any concern with which their names are connected collapse.

Calling at the White House.
