A Mural Tablet.

A mural tablet about five feet high, and two feet ten inches wide, has recently been erected in St. Andrew's church, Gananoque, in remembrance of the late Hon. John Mc Donald, by his family. The tablet is executed from a block of beautiful white marble, from the quarries in Vermont. It is brought into prominent relief, and its ap pearance entranced by the highly polished black border, which surrounds its outlines, forming a pleasing contract with the snow white marble. Elegance and simplicity have been combined in the design, which reflects credit on the skill and careful workmanship of E. R. Welch & Son, of

HOPE OF HOME RULE.

THE KENNINGTON ELECTION AND THE EXACT MEANING OF IT.

Home Rule Now More Assured Than Ever -The Late Speech of Mr. Morley and What He Claimed-The Letter to the Press of Clifford Lloyd. LONDON, March 18.—The liberals are exultant and the unionists dejected over the large liberal majority at Kennington. A targer poll was cast that ever before. The result shows a liberal gain of over a thousand in an electorate of over ten thousand, converting the previous unionist majority of four hundred into a liberal majority of six hundred. London was a tory stronghold at the last election, and Kennington shows its conversion to home rule. The victory is due to "Pigottism" and the radicals' views on the social question. The liberal candidate was pledged to favour the taxation of ground rents, shorter hours of labor, and to oppose sweating. He said after the election that in his opinion no liberal success is possible in London unless a strong line of social questions are tacked on to home rule. This significent socialistic drift is beginning to be felt. Nevertheless the socialists grumble because John Burns helped the liberal candidate. Mr. John Morley said that unless Kennington was carried the home rule cause was hopeless. Now the home rulers are jubilant, regarding victory as certain.

Messrs. O'Brien and Harrington refuse to accept the Parnell commission's terms of release, but Sir Charles Russell is anxious they should come out.

LONDON, March 18.—Clifford Lloyd writes to the Times advocating the abolition of the Irish lord lieutenancy and Dublin bureau cracy, and granting to Ireland of a large measure of county government, retaining the police as an imperial organization and readjusting taxation. He says that if home rule is desirable and possible the scheme will grow of its own accord, and this is preferable to forcing it upon the people at the risk of civil war. Both parties must work together in settling the Irish question, or the result will be a failure and perhaps national dis-

Meeting in Australia.

SIDNEY, N.S W., March 18. - Many large meetings have been held in the various cities of Australia, at which resolutions were adopted congratulating Mr. Parnell on his victory in the matter of the charges against him by the London Times. Large sums of money were raised at the meetings for the benefit of the Irish cause.

A DEATH GRAPPLE IN SING SING.

Two Prisoners Fall Thirty Feet Locked in Each Other's Arms.

Sing Sing, March 18 -A desperate fight occurred in Sing Sing prison between two prisoners, Theodore Roberts, aged 38, sen tenced to five and a half years, and John Johnson, 25 years old, sentenced to five years. Roberts occupied a cell on the eight gallery, and Johnson's cell was on the tenth gallery.

The 1,500 convicts were taken out for their usual morning's exercise. At the close of the exercise the men were marched back to the prison. The first section of about seventy five men entered the tenth gallery, and they were locked in their cells while the second section was passing up to their cells. In the second section were Johnson and Roberts. The two men were next to each other in the line. The section was in command of Officer Stephen who brought up the rear. When the line had reached the eight gallery Johnson and Roberts had some words, and soon came to blows. They then grappled and struggled furiously for a few moments. Then they lost their balance and fell over the railing locked in each other's arms to the stone floor below, a distance of thirty feet. The men on the gallery were ordered to their cells by Guard Stephen and locked up. The hall guards went to the assistance of the two men who had fallen. Johnson was found insensible, with his thigh bone broken and a fearful gash in his forehead. Roberts was not even dazed by the fall. Johnson was taken to the hospital. Roberts was reprimanded, and locked in a dark cell. Neither man as yet has given an explanation of the quarrel. The footway on the galleries are only two and a half feet wide. The railing is three

MINING IN MONTANA.

Some Wonderful Finds Are Reported-The Ores as They Are Extracted,

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 18 .- A special to the "Tribune" from Big Sandy, Montana, says: "This little town is full of excitement over the development of gold mines in the Sweet Grass hills, 55 miles north west. People who have just arrived from the hills report that the miners in Eclipse Gulch are making from $50 to $80 a day. The most of the gold is taken out in placer diggings, but blue ore has been struck by several parties in the hills, and the country is full cf prospectors from Helena and other mining districts. Beside the gold deposits the amount of silver in the rock has led to the organization of three companies which are now opening mines at East Beetle in the hills. Other parties are prospecting for this ore, which exists in well-defined leads all through this region. The Sweet Grass Hills are 55 miles by waggon road north-west of Big Sandy, and just south of the international boundary. The Hills comprise three beetles, varying in elevation from 7,900 to 8,400 feet. Water and timber are abundant in East Beetle. There is no timber, and water is scarce in Middle Bettle. Between and around the beetles are broad bottom lands and small creeks. The richest placer, digging are at Eclipse Gulch, in Middle Beetle, and Hazel lines Gulch in the East Beetle. Silver. copper, iron, and a fine quality of marble have been found, while coal is abundant on Milk River and Sage Rock to the east."

THE WELCOME TO GEORGE.

It is not Pleasing to the London Times-Accused of Spoliation.

Landon, March 18. - The Times attacks Messrs. Cramer and Clark, radical members os Parliament, for joining with the radical clubs in welcoming Henry George on Saturday. The Times says : "Mr. George's doctrines come as near spoliation as anything that has been proposed by a man with a character to lose since the French revolution. Men like Mr. Cramer wish to apply the operations of the Irish leaguers to Eng. land, Scotland and Wales."

A Very Handsome Collection.

NEW YORK, March 18 .- It is said that $15,000 was raised at the Steinway hall meeting, last night, for the Parnell fund.

A STRANGE WILL.

Its Beneficiary Must Renounce the Episcopal Sisterhood.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 18.—The will of the widow of the late Commodore De Haven, of the United States navy, giving her daughter Jessie only $300 if she does not leave the Episcopal sisterhood in two years, in which case she is to receive her full share of the estate, has excited a great deal of comment here. Mrs. DeHaven was a devout Episcopalian. She was originally Mary Norris, of Philadelphia. The commodore died leaving three daughters, one of whom is Four years ago Miss Jessie entered the sisterhood without any objection from her mother, and has given her life to the order ever since. She is now in the convent of St.

John the Baptist in New York. To a reporter who visited the DeHaven homestead at Ardmore, Miss De Haven's sister, said : "My mother and sister had the most tender affection for each other. My mother often visited her at the convent, and my sister frequently came here. My sister understands as well as I do the meaning and wisdom of the clause.

"Then the provision was not made to induce her to renounce the sisterhood ?" "Oh, no, indeed; it was for a private reason. My sister would not renounce the sisterhood for a million dollars." Miss DeHaven is known in the religious order to which she has devote I her life as sister Jessie Gertrude, and is assigned to duty at Morristown, N.J. She is, however, under the immediate and sole control of the Mother Superior of the Protestant Episcopal convent on East Seventeenth street, New

RESULT OF A FLOOD.

The Eusiness Part of a Town Swept Away -Some Men Drowned.

Los Angeles, Cala., March 18 - Great floods are reported in Southern California. A cloud burst occurred at Ventura on Saturday. The waters rushed down a canyon, flooding the town, and scores of people had narrow escapes The business part of the town was washed away, and the loss will approximate $10,000. The Southern Pacific track was destroyed for a quarter of a mile. Serious trouble is reported on all the railroads. A passenger train was wrecked near Earcanda yesterday, but none of the passengers were injured. Two trainmen were badly hurt. A big landslide is re ported on the Sante Fe railroad. Eight carloads of Boston travellers were detained in the mountains on account of washouts.

Terminated In Death,

ODESSA, March 18 .- Edward Shultz, about 45, married, was employed in Rothwell's shanty at Little Lake, two and a half miles south east of Odessa. On Friday, the 8th, himself and a man named Heath, working together, fellen an elm which lodged in ash. The ash snapped, one of the top limbs skimming Shultz's face and breaking his shoulded. He died Sunday morning from his injuries. A Valuable Austrian Present.

VIENNA, March 18. - The Political Correspondence says: "Members of the Russian imperial family have subscribed the cost of a present of several thousand American repeating rifles and a quantity of ammunition to the Prince of Montenegro. # A MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

FIVE MINERS IMPRISONED BY A LARGE FALL OF ROCK.

A Terrific Roar Followed by the Mouth of The Shaft being Closed Up-One Miner Pinned to the Earth by a Rock-He Was Killed When a Second Fall Occurred.

MT. CARMEL, Pa., March 18.-Hall, Re vels, Buggy, Leonard, and Rokust, five of the six miners imprisoned by a fall of rock and coal in the Black Diamond mine, have been rescued. Hundreds of citizens escorted them from the colliery, and a constant stream of callers have been on hand ever since. Hall and Revels, suffering extremely from nervous exhaustion, gave the first account of their experience. These two were driving new shutes in the south slope of the mine when they heard a terrific roar and the next minute they experienced a shock that caused Hall to exclaim : "My God, Nick, the slope has caved in !" Revels descended to the gangway, and twelve feet from him found their egress to the slope cut off by huge rocks. He called to the miners working near by and soon saw Rokust crawling from the debris. They both joined in the shouts, and then heard Nearsholsky calling for help. He was pinioned by a large rock and urged his companions to come to his rescue. They climbed up a distance, but danger grew so great that they had just time to run back when a second fall occured, and no more sound was heard. The poor fellow was in all probability killed. The five miners saved secured themselves by setting props in the gangway, and there awaited the result. They heard their recuers stop work outside and, growing desperate, they endeavoured to climb up an abandoned chamber and gain an exit, but mountain like boulders stood in their way. They returned to the gangway and endeavoured to console one another Later they heard sounds of outside work again and their hope grew. They betook themselves to prayer and the sounds grew nearer. They then signaled five times on the solid pillar. The rescuers returned the signal, and the wives, children, and hundreds of friends at the mouth of the colliery knew that five were safe. Later they heard a voice shouting: "Are all safe?" The imprisoned miners answered back : "Five are here; one is covered." The next moment they embraced their rescuers, shedding tears of happiness. Their deliverance had been effeeted by driving a tunnel tweaty yards. Hundreds of tons of debris must be removed before the mine can be put in working order.

ATTICA'S SLEEPING WONDER.

Mrs. Emma Althouse Still Under the Influence of Her Strange Malady. ATTICA, N. Y., March 18 .- The case of Mrs. Emma Althouse, the sleeping wonder, becomes the more puzzling as time passes, for she is still alive and hardly as feeble as she was two weeks ago. Her present condition is almost that of inanimate life. There is a feeble flow of blood, or rather the substance substituted for it has so deteriorated that it is unlike blood except that it has some of its life sustaining properties. Her lungs respond slowly and perfunctorily, except when she is taking with a coughing fit. The spells are sometimes so severe that they would be likely to rupture the blood vessels in a healthy person. Mrs. Althouse has nad no long naps since Feb. 25th when she awakened from a trance lasting nearly twelve days. This followed her 35 day sleep. After a brief interval, when the sleeper came out of this trance, her fate seemed sealed. Even the little liquid nourishment which she had previous ly absorbed when awake could not be given her naturally, and when an attempt was made to feed her artificially most of the lukewarm milk and water would be re-

Dr. Retel is astonished that the young woman has existed this long. Mrs. Alt house's mental faculties at times seem undimmed, but while awake she is frequently in what spiritualists would call a trance condition. She seems to see scenes happening elsewhere and to be oblivious of her own condition.

SHE FOUND HER HUSBAND.

Ten Years She Searched For Him-He

Was Married and Wealthy. Oswego, March 18. - Jay D. Larmouth, a former resident of Sandy Creek, has been arrested at Upper Sandusky, Ohio, on a charge of bigamy. Ten years ago Larmouth deserted his wife in Sandy Creek, and went to Ohio and settled in the village of Carey. He was then 30 years old, well educated, and good looking. He moved in the best society in the village, and nine years ago married Miss Mary Sherman, the only daughter of a wealthy farmer. He was poor when he settled in Carey, but has since, with the help of his wife's rich rela tives, managed to prosper in business. For ten years his deserted wife was unable to find any clue of her runaway husband, and she was supported by friends. Two months ago she learned that her husband was in Carey, married and well-to-do. She placed the case in the hands of a western detective agency, and Tuesday night, with the witnesses to her marriage, stood in the little court room at Carey and identified her husband. He was held for trial.

CAUGHT IN A TRAP.

Officers Who Go in Pursuit of Distillers in a Dangerous Box.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., March 18 .- De tective Baldwin and a posse, who went into the wilds of Wyoming and McDowall counties to break up a gang of one hundred distillers, have been surrounded, and their lives are threatened. The moonshiners' band is made up of noted desperadoes, and for three years they have defied the United States authorities. Thirty were gaoled, and it was while attempting to arrest forty more that the officers were entrapped.

The Independent Foresters' Bill. OTTAWA, March 18 .- The bill for the incorporation of the foresters has undergone great changes in the banking committee. The incorporation is granted. Toronto is to be the seat of the head office, and branches are to be allowed throughout the country. The society may hold $100,000 worth of property, and any branch $25,000 worth, but in cities and towns having a population of less than 6,000, the value of property held by a branch shall not exceed $5,000. The property of each branch only shall be liable for the debts and engagements of such branch. The whole business relating to insurance is to be conducted under the provision of the Insurance act.
