Police Court—Wednesday.

Several months ago Joseph Little, J. Jackson and Joseph Clark met J. Mallou and beat him in a cruel way. Little and Jackson were arrested, tried and sent to gaol. Little for six, and Jackson three months. Clark escaped. The police, however, got traces of him, and this morning Craig hunted him out of a bush near the G. T. R. depot. Officers Burnett and Small captured him. He elected to be tried by a jury, and the preliminary trial was enlarged until Saturday.

This morning Col. Collier settled with the men who were suing him for wages. He said that the workmen had not worked as faithfully as they should have done. He hoped that when he employed them again they would render satisfactory service.

More Policemen Needed.

Chief Horgan says the addition of four men to the police force is necessary to carry out the duties as efficiently as is done in other places. The city is getting too large to be looked after by the present force. There were as many policemen when the population was 13,000 as now, when the population is almost 20,000.

SHE BIT OFF HIS NOSE.

MRS. FERRY MAKES A SCENE IN A PARISIAN HOTEL.

A Fondness For French Instructors Created a Row—Mrs. Ferry Was Boss in Quarrels—The Attack Made on Her Husband, When Discovered in a Compromising Place.

NEW YORK, April 17.—A Paris despatch to the World says: A most disgraceful scandal has just come to light in the American colony which has led to the resignation of Clinton P. Ferry, the millionaire lumber merchant, of Tacoma, W.T., of his post as commissioner of his territory to the international exhibition here and to the disappearance of his wife who is related to the Adams family of Massachusetts. Mr. Ferry moreover deprecates the loss of a considerable portion of his nose which was bitten off by his infuriated wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferry accompanied by their two daughters arrived here a year ago and took up their residence on Avenue Carnot. Mr. Ferry devoted most of his time to the collection of paintings and to the putting up of rare pieces of bric-a-brac. Mrs. Ferry spent most of her time shopping, visiting friends and driving in the Bois, where the loud and showy appearance both of the equipage and of its occupant attracted attention.

In the course of her visits and shopping expeditions she made numerous friends who had not the advantage of her husband's acquaintance. Among the most welcome of her daily visitors was Monsieur Hippolyte, one of the English speaking salesmen at the grand Magasin's Dalouvre. Mrs. Ferry soon became quite infatuated with the young man and her conduct with regard to him gave rise to much comment among the American colony.

About ten days ago Mr. Ferry, returning somewhat unexpectedly, overheard his wife and Hippolyte talking in a manner which denoted more than ordinary intimacy. He proceeded to kick the salesman out of the house. A quarrel ensued between husband and wife during the course of which the former's forehead sustained a compound fracture. Friends were called in but their efforts to bring about a reconciliation were fruitless. Mrs. Ferry declared her husband was too narrow-minded and provincial; she stated she was determined to continue her French studies. Ferry might remain an ignoramus if he wanted, but she would talk French before leaving Paris or die in the attempt.

Ferry announced that he had bought a gun which he was holding in readiness for the reception of Hippolyte the next time he called. The salesman, however, did not pay any more visits to the house. This aroused the husband's suspicions, more especially since Mrs. Ferry's absence from home became frequent. Accordingly he employed detectives to watch her. Monday afternoon the wife was tracked to an hotel of villainous reputation in the Quartier del Europe, and there she was surprised half an hour later by Ferry, who was accompanied by the commissary of police and a number of constables.

Like a tigress Mrs. Ferry, who is a powerful woman, sprang at her husband the moment the door had been burst open and before the police could interfere she had bitten off a goodly portion of his nose. Hippolyte escaped. Ferry was forced to go to a doctor's, and in his absence the wife was allowed to go. She has not been heard of since. Ferry yesterday filed a petition for divorce and in view of the scandal has resigned his post of commissioner to the exhibition.

RECEIVING THE NEWS.

The Liberals Enthusiastic Over the Result of the Rochester Contest.

NEW YORK, April 17.—The Sun's London despatch says: "The result of the election at Rochester was a great liberal victory. It is remarkable because the tory candidate had a long start in the work of canvassing, because all the weapons of secret bribery and almost open intimidation were unscrupulously used to prevent liberal workingmen from recording their votes, and because the county of Kent has hitherto been solidly tory unionist. At the National liberal club over 100 members of parliament were in the smoking room when the result was announced, and the triumphant cheers with which the victory was hailed were distinctly heard in Scotland yard. Sepulchral gloom pervaded the Carlton and St. Stephen's clubs, and the nerves of some delicately built members were so strained that they requested the police to move on the news boys, who about 11 o'clock invaded the aristocratic precincts of Pall Mall, yelling special editions of the newspapers containing the result of the election."

The Finding of the Department

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The secretary of the treasury has received a letter inquiring whether the transfer, by manufacturers from any foreign country to the United States, of their plant, machinery, and workpeople with a view to permanent settlement, would conflict with the statutes relating to alien contract labour, and also if such machinery as has been used would be entitled to free entry. The secretary replied that it would be unlawful to import the workmen, and the machinery was not entitled to free entry.

An Austrian Spirit Combine.

LONDON, April 17.—An immense spirit ring, designated to control the manufacture and sale of spirituous liquors, is forming in Vienna. It is expected that the Austro-Hungarian Landesbank will make advances to the syndicate to the extent of fifteen million florins, which sum is secured. The liability of the trust will be limited.

A Salvation Army Woman Killed.

NEWBURN, April 17.—Lieutenant Towne, Lowell, Mass., in charge of the Salvation army here, while selling the War Cry today entered a grocery store on Broadway. A trap door leading to the cellar was open, and the woman stepped in it, falling to the floor below. She was picked up dead, her neck being broken.

A Soldier Gets Life.

PLATTSBURG, April 17.—Charles Harrison, an ex-soldier, who killed his wife in March, 1888, by cutting her throat while she was walking with another man, was found guilty of murder in the second degree, and sentenced to Clinton prison for life. The defence was insanity.

"Bright's disease has no symptoms of its own," says Dr. Frederick Roberts, of University college, London. First get rid of the kidney disease by using Warner's Safe Cure, then the effects of symptoms will be removed.

A BRAVE BANKER.

Failure of a Desperate Attempt to Rob a London Bank in Broad Daylight.

LONDON, Ont., April 16.—A bold and desperate attempt at bank robbery occurred here in broad daylight to-day. About 2:30 this afternoon two strange men entered the banking office of Mr. F. S. Clarke, where Mr. Frank Clarke was alone behind the counter. One of them presented a pistol at his head and called upon him to deliver his money. Mr. Clarke stood for a moment in astonishment, and the order was repeated rather imperatively:

"Hand out your money!"

The young man at once answered: "No, I won't!" and reaching quickly over the railing grasped the barrel of the pistol and turned it aside.

The other stranger was standing at the door of the counter as if ready to pounce in and secure the cash on a favorable opportunity, but on seeing the bold stand taken by Mr. Clarke, and his evident determination to fight, both men turned and ran out of the door and down Richmond-street as fast as their legs could carry them.

These Robbers Were Arrested.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 16.—At noon to-day two men went into the State Bank when only two employes were present. One covered the employes with a revolver while the other vaulted over the railing and thrust $8000 over the railing into a valise. Just then a depositor entered and this forced the uncovering of the assistant cashier, who rushed to the safe to get his revolver. The robber threw the valise to his accomplice, who dashed into the president's room by mistake. He then jumped through a window and fled. The other man also escaped. There was a wild rush to the street, in which three or four policemen joined and finally the robbers were arrested. Their names are given as James Henry and Fred Douglass.

LOST AT FREEZE OUT.

Von Reinolds Tells His Story in Court—Bail Refused for Phillips.

MONTEREAL, April 15.—The case of Harry Phillips, arrested in connection with the loss of $14,000 worth of jewelry by Von Reinolds, salesman for P. W. Ellis & Co., came up in court to-day. Von Reinolds told his story, which was in substance that he on behalf of his employers negotiated with Maloney to exchange the jewelry for some real estate in Montreal, but that Maloney finally refused to trade. Phillips, however, produced about 700 carats of diamonds, worth $20 to $30 per carat, at Maloney's house in Craig-street, and proposed to play them against the jewelry, the player who first won fourteen games of "freeze out" to take the entire stake.

They played until morning when Phillips won the fourteenth game. Von Reinolds then told Phillips the jewelry belonged to P. W. Ellis & Co. Phillips told Reinolds he would have to leave the country and proposed to assist in concocting a story of mysterious disappearance, in which plan Maloney also joined, saying he would place some of Von Reinolds' effects on the canal bank to make it appear that he had been drowned.

When he arrived in New York Von Reinolds telegraphed that the jewelry must be delivered up and that the mysterious disappearance story wouldn't work, as he had already informed his employers of the loss.

Phillips' application for bail was refused and the examination continued until to-morrow, when Von Reinolds will conclude his story.

THE DUNNVILLE TRAGEDY.

Clemons and Smith Committed for Trial on the Charge of Murder.

CAYUGA, April 16.—The hearing of the DUNNVILLE murder case was concluded to-day. Joseph Clemons and Samuel Smith, the prisoners, were committed for trial for the murder of an unknown man found in the canal at DUNNVILLE on Nov. 1 last. There were many witnesses examined and much excitement prevailed. Detective Murray has made out a strong chain of circumstantial evidence against the accused. They will not have their trial until the fall assizes.

In Doubt About the Bird Bill.

HAMILTON, April 16.—At the second annual meeting of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals yesterday a clause in the annual report regretting the defeat of Mr. Adam Brown's bird bill and expressing a hope of its ultimate passage elicited a brisk discussion and was finally left over for further consideration.

Charged With Bribery.

CHICAGO, April 16.—Edward Tilden, president of the Drove's National Bank at the Union Stock Yards, has been arrested at the instance of George Fleming, a former school trustee, who charges that in 1886 Tilden offered Fleming $5000 for his vote and influence in the school trusteeship. Mr. Tilden gave bail. He denies the charge and intimates that Fleming's action is for revenge. Tilden having exerted himself at the recent election to defeat a brother of Fleming.

Professor Cappon's Papers.

Last Saturday a set of Professor Cappon's examination papers on English language and literature were sent to John Seath, B.A., one of the high school inspectors, and an examiner also, in English in Toronto university. Acknowledging the receipt of the question papers Mr. Seath writes: "Allow me to say that in my opinion they are admirable. Queen's university is, indeed, to be congratulated on having secured a professor of Mr. Cappon's ability and culture. It is clear from these papers that he sympathizes with the modern views which are now held by our leading English scholars; and all who are in favor of furthering the study of the English language and literature on a proper basis will welcome to their ranks so powerful an ally in their struggle against antiquated ideas, and antiquated methods—a struggle, which I am sorry to say, is by no means at an end." The phrase "antiquated ideas, and antiquated methods" has all the piquancy of the "retort courtoise" to Sir Daniel Wilson, who a short time ago, spoke of the examination questions of Mr. Seath as "obscure puzzles."

Dr. R. A. Gunn, M.D., Prof. of Surgery of the United States medical college, editor of "Medical Tribune," author of "Gunn's New Improved Hand-book of Hygiene and Domestic Medicine," over his own signature said, in referring to and prescribing Warner's Safe Cure: "I was greatly surprised to observe a decided improvement within a month. Within four months no tubercles could be found and only a trace of albumen, and as the patient expressed it, he felt perfectly well."
