Many of the recognized authorities in civil as well as military circles say : "The malarial disease is most dangerous in that the kidneys are most liable to break down." Such men as Dakota, Atkinson and Pepper, professors in our leading medical schools, and Solidaton, surgeon-general in the Russian army, Woodward, surgeon-general in our American army, speak of malaria as a direct complication of chronic Bright's disease. The kidneys must be kept free from disease and the poisonous germs of malaria. They must act normally in cleansing the blood, for sixty-five gallons of it passes through them every hour. People in malarial localities recover from both the cause and effect by using Warmer's Safe Cure. Every person in the spring or fall, who has either kidney disease or malaria, should use

AT HYMEN'S ALTAR.

Dr. G. C. T. Ward-Miss Mabel Herring. An auspicious wedding was celebrated on Monday at Napanee, when Dr. G. C. T. Ward was married to Miss Mabel Louise, grand-daughter of John Herring, Esq. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a small party of invited guests. The bride was attired in travelling costume and was assisted by her sister, Miss Edith Herring, while the groom was supported by Orlin L. Herring, Miss May Ward acting as maid of honor. The guests partook of an elegant spread, after which the bridal couple took the evening train for New York. ### EDUCATIONAL MATTERS.

IMPROVEMENTS NOTED AMONG THE VARIOUS COLLEGES.

A Great Library atQueen's-Has Plenty of Room for Nev Works-The Medical College to be Inproved-the Trustees of the Women's College Anxious for a Permanent Hour.

A representative of the While visited Queen's university yesterday and ascertained a few facts concerning the improvements to the college and its surroundings. The grounds, covered with green and with the trees commencing to bud, present an attractive appearance Last year a number of trees were planted, and this summer more will be added, as the severe storm which swept over the cry last winter killed a number. The lawn on which the professors amuse themselves by playing a Scotch game called "bowls," is kept in fine condition.

The students next session intend giving up the use of the gemnasium, and will devote the money so expended to making a race course on the grounds. Besides this they will secure all he appliances necessary for holding their annual sports.

On entering the university building one is struck with the quetness thereabouts. As all the necessary repairs to the building were done last summer, nothing but the repairing of seats will be needed now. Something has to be done in the way of heating the four new class coms on the third flat. cient to heat these lepartments. The trustees have two plans under consideration. One is to obtain a larger steam boiler than the one in use. The other plan is to have a hot-water boiler a tached to the present steam boiler. Either of these plans will work well. A hot-water boiler is used in heating the hospital and court house. The cost of a new steam boiler would be more than a hot-water one, but it would burn less fuel.

From the cellar, which is used by the senior students as their sanctum, the l brary was visited. The first change in this department is in the librarian. Rev. Dr. Bell having found has duties, as registrar, to be increasing to such an extent as to require all his time, asked to be relived and his wish was granted. Prof Adam Shott, M. A., was appointed in his place. The library contains 17,000 volumes, of which 1,622 volumes have been added during the past year, ending March 1st, exclusive of pamphlets, calendars, etc. All the books are selected to meet the wants of students. Prof. Ferguson, who now devotes his time to history, sent out a circular last year asking for donations to the library. A number responded. He also communicated with the French governmen to ascertain if they would give historical works issued under its | next week. authority. He believes that his wish will should be led to independent research. In | zens was surrendered. order to do this it is necessary that the col-German and Muratou's Italian collections gainer. are needed. Each collection can be procured for about $750.

The next place visited was the museum. Upwards of 800 sheets of mounted plants greatly increases its value. A large num ber of fossils, corals, minerals, shells, etc., complainant time to get witnesses. There is abundant excitement in the hall also been added to this important part of scene, when unprincipled Frank Moreland, the college. like those in Queen's university. The part | vised to have his enemies arrested. of the Royal college, used by the students as a gymuasium, will be converted into a pathological laberatory. A large number of microscopes and other pathological apparatus will be erected in this room. The medical faculty will also provide more apparatus as soon as there will be room to accommodate it. The practical chemistry room is still held by the authorities of Queen's university. As soon as the science hall is completed it is expected that this class room will be handed over to the medical

The proposed science hall is not yet decided upon. One site proposed is between the main building and the observatory. has not been decided either when operation will be commenced. The board of crustees of the Kingston Woman's medical college intend to spare no effort to establish the college firmly. The first step requisite is a suitable building in which to permanently locate. The city building, the present site of the college, valuable at first as a help to a home, is found inconvenient as being too far from Queen's college. A strong effort will be made during the summer to raise funds to either build a college or buy some building suitable for the purpose. A fair sum has already been subscribed by a few leading citizens. The canvassing will be continued. Two ideas, besides the erection of an independent college, occupy the minds of the trustees. One is to build a new wing to the hospital with college attached. The amount required for this purpose would be about $15,000, and the proximity to the hospital would afford the nurses in training an opportunity of furthering their studies. This is done freely in United States hospitals. One drawback to having the college thus connected is that the hospital authorities would not allow a dissecting room in it. This would necessitate the building or securing of another building to be used for such a purpose. A large number of those interested in the welfare of the college are favourable to the building of the wing. The other plan, talked about by the trustees, is to offer to purchase the collegiate institute or Gordon street public school. They will both be replaced in a few years by better schools, for public sentiment is already aroused. As it is necessary for the lady students to attend certain classes in Queen's university one of these school buildings would, in this respect, be most suitable. Members of the school board were asked by the reporter if they would sell Gordon street school. He was informed that the school board intended to do so in the near future, as they want to
