Home's Heartstrings.

O'er the doomed ship on the ecean The cruel, fierce waves beat high ;

The sailor clinging to the mast
Peers out into the sky,
And fast firsh his thoughts to childhood,
When with loved friends he'd roam O'er flower decked hil sand)meadows green, Of "Home, Sweet Home,

And his eyes grow dim with longing. Close clings he to the mast : A yearning prayer soes forth to God, There, while the sain sinss fist; Not for himself the cather prays.

But to the Father's throne, Goes up theory, 'Oh Father, grant, One glimpse of Home Sweet Home," In a flash his prayer is granted. For as the lightning gleams

He sees the loved home fireside glow As oft if has in dreams : The dear old fo k sit by the hearth,
Hand holding fast to hand.
Hearts, oh so lonely for their boy
Far from his native land.

The children by the table play (Youth's heart is ever light). Their noisy prattle he can hear There in the stormy night; And as the vision fades away. He sinks amid the foam,

So soothed, so comforted, by just That glimpse of "Home, Sweet Home." Along the crowded city street A slender form speeds fast. It does not feel the jostling throng.

No heed the storm flend's blast; Sweet mother-love impels the feet, Heart, soul, more swift to roam, Pulse onward, and with angels guard Her "Home, Sweet Home,

The night express comes thundering in, A little child springs straight Into the erger, outstretched arms, That loving!y await : She clings close and cries. Dear father, You've missed your own zelome.
Ob, hasten for dear mother waits,

In "Home, Sweet Home, The lover walks along the street, His head erect and high; He's thinking of the golden hair

And of the sweet, blue eye ; He's building 'castles in the air,"

No gilded tower or dome,
But for the dear bride of his heart, A "Home, Sweet Home," And so, where e'er we are or go,

On mount, in town, on sea; Whether in India's burning clime. Or Arctic's frozen sea : Even thou h chastened by Death's hand, Or crazed by cares unknown, The dear God's greatest gift to man very many handsome presents. Charleston Lake furnishes a celebrity to to compared with Blind Tom. This man is a deaf mute, who some years ago lost his left arm at the shoulder. He is highly educated, having spent ten years in the instiworking and carving is simply marvellous. A few years ago he built the finest sailing yacht on Charleston lake. Recently he completed an elegant sideboard for Willard Weeks. The sideboard is surmounted by a large bird carved in wood.
Is "Home, Sweet Home,"—

On May 1st the residence of Mr. Edward McDonald, Bathurst, was the scene of a very pleasing and happy event, the marriage of his fifth daughter, Kate, to Patrick J. Kane, Westport. The bride, attired in cream cashmere, handsomely trimmed with | When baby was sick, we gave her Castoria, cream satin and ribbon, looked very pretty. Her sister Aggie, in a similar attire, acted as bridesmaid, while John Mavelle, Westport, supported the groom. In the evening one hundred young people assembled and were right royally entertained.

The fact cannot be too forcibly impressed upon the minds of all users of paint, that good results can be produced only by the use of good materials. The main expense in painting is not in the cost of the paint, but in the cost of LABOR and on, and it requires more labor and more oil to apply inferior paint than to apply the best that can be obtained.

A Young Child's Terrible Treatment a Her Parents' Hands.

YOUNGSTOWN, U., May 13.-A horrible case of brutality was unearthed in the arrest of George Lynn and wife on a charge of inhumanly treating their daughter Lizzie, aged 11. When found by the officers the girl was working with her father in a trench with barely enough clothing to cover her person. Her flesh was raw, the outside skin having disappeared because of the repeated castigations. The child said : "I wanted to go to schoel and learn something, and whenever I talked about it they beat me. They kept sending me for whiskey, and when I refused to go they whipped me. Mother held my hands in boiling water until I fainted, and then beat me with a poker until I wanted to die. They were afraid of Whitecaps coming, and kept two loaded revolveis in the house intending to kill any body that came to the house. Once mother took an egg sheil, and, filling it with cay enne pepper and mustard, forced it down my throat. I would rather die than be sent back to them, as I know they would kill man-Wealthy Man Now. LONDON, May 13 - For some days notices have appeared in United States pers, asking for the whereabouts of one Hubert Skinner, who was born in Hereford some 25 years ago. It caught the eye of an officer in the marine artillery. One of the men under him was named Skinner, and the officer thought the advertisement might be for him. Such proved to be the case. Skinner applied to the address given, and learned that he had come into a fortune of over $2,500,000 in money, and a large amount of landed property in Herefordshire. Skinner had no idea that he was heir to the enormous fortune, When he left home seven years ago there were thirteen lives between him and the property, and he did not even know the owner, a very distant relative, by sight. Skinner is an uneducated man and not married.

AN HEIR TO MILLIONS.

Great Luck For an Uneducated Artillery-

Dyspepsia. Much will necessarily depend upon the care exercised in the selection of food, which is all important to the dyspeptic. Hamilton's Pills may be used with the greatest benefit in cases where liver and bowels complications are produced by or are a result of dyspepsia. Commence with one pill every second day immediately after dinner, and reduce the dose gradually until onequarter of a pill only is taken, which will be found sufficient to stimulate the liver and assist in the more perfect assimilation of food in the stomach. Dyspeptics, try Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut.

Have You Neuralgia?

If you are suffering the agonies of neural gia, and have failed to get a remedy that will afford relief, we want you to try Polson's Nerviline. No remedy in the market has given any thing like the same degree of satisfaction. Its action or nerve pain is simply marvellous, and as it is put up in 10 cent sample bottles no great expense is involved in giving it a trial. Polson's Nerviline is the most pleasant, powerful, and certain pain remedy in the world. Sold by druggists and all dealers in medicine, 10 and 25 cents a bottle.
