HIGHBINDERS AT WORK.

A Chinaman Murdered For Going Back on the Union Workmen.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—For several months Chen Ah Yon, a cigar maker, acted as interpreter of the Chinese cigarmakers' union, which vigorously boycotts non-union men. Recently Chen Ah Yon went back on his old associates and furnished fifty scab workmen to a non-union cigar factory. This so incensed the union cigar makers that they held a meeting and resolved that Chen Ah Yon should die. The decision was communicated to a highbinder society which picked out one of the members to do the deed. The Chinese cigar makers met at No. 613 1/2 Dupont street, and yesterday afternoon they were in session. It is presumed Chen Ah Yon was invited to attend and when he was passing through the hallway the assassin, who had been lying in wait, assaulted him with a hatchet, inflicting a dozen fearful wounds. The murderer escaped. Fifty Chinamen witnessed the murder but none of them give any information. The detectives have no hope of capturing the assassin.

WILL SAVE THE COUNTRY.

Bishop Starkey Endorses the Utterances of Bishop Potter in New York.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The annual convention of the Episcopal diocese of Newark, N. J., was opened yesterday. Bishop Starkey opened the convention and referred to the Washington centennial celebration. His remarks were regarded as an endorsement of Bishop Potter's sermon. He said the Episcopal church had spoken on the centennial, and he was glad it had done so in these times in no uncertain language. It did not speak harsh and evil words, but rather the words of loving counsel. There was danger, Bishop Starkey said, for this land from the uneducated and the irresponsible, from the accumulation of wealth and the crushing power of corporation, from the encroachments of associated wealth, the increasing greed, the inordinate love of luxury, and the insidious and relentless growth of anti-religious ideas and hypocrisy. But the brave and courageous should not be disheartened, God would make the people true yet and save the country.

Opera House—Thursday Night.

The Cleveland-Haverly minstrels have a novel feature in ten Japanese performers, freshly imported from Japan. They made their first appearance at the opening of the season at Buffalo, New York, and the imitative orientals, to the delight of the minstrel boys, followed suit and "blackened up" in orthodox style. Cleveland was in the front of the house, anxiously awaiting their debut to take their measure before a crowded house. The scene opened, discovering the Japs—the corked Japs, the blackest Japs that ever were seen. At the first glance William S. was wrothy; but it was too ridiculous for the managerial martinet to retain his anger. He went out into the lobby so that he could laugh without disturbing the audience. The Japs have not blackened up since.

WICHITA, Kansas, May 22.—A peculiar case of poisoning on the farm of Mr. Hayden, near here, is reported. The father, mother, child, and hired man are deathly sick, and two cows and a horse lie dead in the barnyard. It would seem from the death of the animals that the poison came from the well.

OFF FOR HAVRE.

The "Neversink" Begins Her Journey Across the Bounding Ocean.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Sailing an exhibit to the Paris exposition is what Capt. Josiah W. Lawlor, Hans Hansen and Edward S. McKinney began to do yesterday. Capt. Francis L. Norton's patent water ballasted, non-capizable, non-sinkable, yawl-rigged, keel, 36-foot yacht Neversink is the exhibit, and those men are the crew that got her under way. She is bound across the Atlantic to Havre. It would have pleased old sailor to go on board the Neversink before she sailed to see how she had been fitted out for her ocean voyage. She measures 36 feet over all, 30 feet on the water line, 12 feet beam, and her draught of water amidships is 30 inches.

Down in her trunk cabin, which extends from the mast to the cockpit, about fifteen feet, there is a large table with drop leaves, plenty of cushioned lockers, in which are stowed canned goods and other food, a barrel of fresh water, lashed athwartships on the starboard side forward, seventy-five gallons more in air-tight cans, and one hundred gallons in a tank under the cockpit. The Neversink's lower mast and topmast are both in one piece, a stout Oregon pine stick, about 30 feet long. She has a spare suit of sails, and when running before the wind she will carry a squaresail.

Capt. Lawlor has commanded a number of vessels; the last was the bark Agatha. He has every confidence in the little yacht. E. S. McKinney, a son of the treasurer of the Norton company, who goes as "chief cook and bottle washer," passenger, supercargo, etc., is an expert yachtsman and a popular member of the Seavoyage yacht club. Hans Hansen is a Dane, who has crossed the Atlantic many a time. Capt. Norton believes his yacht will reach Havre in less than thirty days.

Live Stock Market.

MONTREAL, May 22.—An active business has been transacted during the week in export stock both on spot and through the country and some large lines have been bought. The prospects for trade at present do not look very bright on account of the large shipments from the states and Canada, which, if continued, will, no doubt result in lower prices. The receipts for the week were the largest so far this season, and were mostly all on through shipments. Export cattle were bought at 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 c. live weight. Choice beefs sold at 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 c. good at 3 3/4 to 4 c. fair at 3 to 3 3/4 c. and common at 2 1/2 to 3 c. live weight. Sheep sold at 4 to 4 1/4 c. live weight, and lambs at $3 to $4.50 each as to size and quality. The demand for calves was slow, prices ranged from $1 to $3 each as to size and quality.

Features of the Protocol.

LONDON, May 22.—The Pow's Berlin correspondent says that the Samoan protocol in its final form will contain two chief points. The first of these relates to the government of Samoa, which will be arranged on a tripartite basis, England being accorded a position corresponding in a certain sense to that of arbitrator. The second deals with the appointment of a land commission. England is to have a large influence in the selection of the supreme judicial functionary.

A Great Ship Canal.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 22.—The Chicago drainage bill has passed the senate. It provides for dredging a channel 160 feet wide and 18 feet deep from Chicago through the Chicago, Des Moines and Illinois rivers to the Mississippi. It is designed to carry off the sewage of Chicago and other cities, and also for use as a ship canal to connect the great lakes and the Mississippi; $16,000,000 are appropriated. The house, which has passed the bill, will doubtless concur in the senate amendments.

Wrestling With a Woman.

CLEVELAND, O., May 22.—Arthur Frazier, captain of an Ohio canal boat, with his wife called on Edward Howe and wife, near Hawkins, Ohio, yesterday. In the course of a conversation Mrs. Howe said, "The never has been a man here that I could throw." Frazier told her she couldn't throw him. They clinched, and after a few moments tug Mrs. Howe threw Mr. Frazier on his back on a lounge, and in a few minutes he was a corpse.

Most Cordially Greeted.

LONDON, May 22.—The Berlin correspondent of the Times contrasts the reception accorded to King Humbert yesterday with the hurried and unpopular of the czar. He says Humbert outdid himself, and the cordiality of her welcome to King Humbert was intended to show the importance of cherishing the alliance between Italy and Germany.

THEY OFFER A REWARD.

We Aid in the Search By Producing the Doctor's Profile.

PATRICK H. CRONIN.

CHICAGO, May 24.—The friends of missing Dr. Cronin offer a reward of $5,000 for the detection of anybody who may have murdered him or $2,000 for satisfactory evidence that he is still living.

The mystery of the disappearance of Dr. Cronin, of Chicago deepens rather than lessens. No dependence is placed in the stories of his having been seen in Buffalo and Toronto, and the presumption is that these and other stories are manufactured with the purpose of covering up a crime. He was actively interested in the Irish question, and was a member of a number of Irish societies. Cronin went to Chicago from St. Louis, taken with him letters of recommendation from Bishop Ryan and Gen. Sherman. He disappeared on Saturday evening, May 4, when he was called away from a patient by a man who impertinently him to assist a person that he, he said, had been severely injured. Cronin yielded and rode off in the caller's carriage. No certain trace of him has been disclosed since.

COLLISION NEAR MONTREAL.

The Polynesian Smashes Into the Cynthia—A Loss of Life.

MONTREAL, May 22.—The str. Polynesian, bound for Liverpool collided opposite Longue Point, with Donaldson's freighter Cynthia inward from Glasgow. The Cynthia sunk immediately. Her topmasts alone are visible. Eight of her crew were drowned. The survivors swam ashore. The Polynesian proceeded to Quebec in a damaged condition.

The collision occurred in daylight. The Polynesian steering gear was undoubtedly disarranged. They tried to beach the Cynthia, but she went down. The first boat was got into the river and had taken 15 men, and was just leaving the side of the ship when the gear of the main mast struck the boat and she went over. The men jumped into the water and some of them reached shore, while others, not being good swimmers, were drowned.

The captain and two engineers climbed the main mast and it was only when the water reached Capt. Taylor's feet that he jumped into the river. He was the last to leave. His conduct was most courageous.

One man named James Low, Glasgow, getting his coffee, got killed.

The concussion when the ships collided was terrible.

The Polynesian had a big hole stove in her bow and was passing Three Rivers shortly after one o'clock going slowly.

The following were drowned: Hugh Irving, chief cook; Alex. Nichol, sailor; Andrew Vance and Charles McCracken, trimmers; James Low, fireman; James Ferron, boatswain; David Young, stowaway; Chas. Blackstock, mess room boy. All were from Glasgow.

They Should be Strong Up.

CULPEPPER COURT HOUSE, Va., May 22.—Seven negroes near Richardsonville went to the residence of a highly respectable and educated coloured man, Saturday, bound him hand and foot and then criminally assaulted his wife and ten year old daughter. An attempt was made on Saturday night to lynch them, but the guards frightened the crowd off. The militia has been asked for as it is hourly expected that another attempt will be made to lynch the prisoners.
