The Editor, British Why.

Dear Sir,-In your issue of the 8th nst. there appeared a paragraph headed "Discharged from Hospital," "A Sensation," etc., with reference to which I would like to mention a few solid facts. You say that on Saturday last Governor Duff visited the hospital and ordered the attending medical officer to expel eight old and decrepid persons, who had no alternative in the case of discharge but starvation or the gaol.

Now, sir, this is not so. Mr. Duff simply said to Dr. Dupuis, in reference to an old woman aged 84 years, admitted to the institution by him, disease, old age, that she was not a fit subject for hospital treatment, and ought not to have been admitted, she having been sent down by the priest at Brewer's Mills for admission to the House of Providence. Dr. Dupuis then said that there were several inmates at present in the hospital who were incurable and ought not to be there, and Governor Duff then added that if such were the case why did he not carry out the rule, which reads as follows: "Section 85. No patient laboring onder insanity, except for a few days, or under any disease which is incurable or incapable of palliation, shall be admited mie vie irespital, nor Buall any one be admitted whose case and circumstances do not positively require it; nor shall any patient be retained in the hospital when his disease shall be cured or the first and third Mondays in every month at alleviated so far as from the nature thereof may be practicable."

Dr. Dupuis certainly did ask what was to become of them, but Mr. Duff did not give the answer attributed to The second part was much enjoyed, es- "In my conversation with Riel him in your paragraph, nor did I hear him use any words that implied anything of the kind. t is "Jhinny" in Disguise- Queen's Student Defeat the Cadets at a Mate" Yesterday afternoon a bockey match was played on the Royal skating rink, between teams selected from the Royal Military College and Queen's Univer-The attendance of spectators was large, the ladies predominating. At intervals, before the game, people were heard to ask, What is bockey? Few essayed an answer. Several of the players were tackled, but they said little, and certainly did not dispel the prevailing doubts. Finally a cadet, who carried the rules upon a sheet of paper, said the game was very interesting. It was particularly popular in Lower Canada. Shortly after 8 o'clock the players were called together and told that the match would last an hour, and at the end of the first half hour a rest
