Cheese Market.

The cheese market in New York is not as good as the Northern New York dairymen could wish for It is slow and tame, and closed yesterday at 71c for the top. The arrivals last week were not excessive and were n good condition, a fact which is worthy of note, but there was no general demand. Were it not for a few active importers a fur ther weakness would have been felt. Receivers have sold freely good full cream stock at 6c to 7c, while night skims have not commanded above 5c. The home trade represented to be poor. Messrs. W. Heapy & Sons, of Liverpool, write under date of June 16th "With higher cable quotations holders have shown increased firmness for all strictly choice new stock, but secondary and off grade lots are still irregular and forced off at auction and other sources. Upwards of 7,800 were disposed of in this manner, prices ranging from 58 to 378.
