THE RATHBUN COMPANY

Claims that MILL WOOD is the families in Great Britain, and cheapest fuel either for summer or winter that can be purchased.

1st. It is ionger than Cordwood. 2nd. It has three straight sides, thus piling 3rd, It is easily cut and don't need much

The best way according to the experience those who use it most is to keep a quantity or hand and mix with hard wood in extremely cold weather, then as the weather moderates use only enough hardwood to seep the fire from going out. You can always let your fire down
