For the benefit of consumers we strongly recommend any person wishing to buy a silk garment of any kind to purchase the silk of the olden time. We are prepared to give a written guarantee that it will wear, never cut, and keep its color for 40 years. A lady of this city, to whom we showed our silks of the olden time, stated to us that she had been wearing a silk of the same make for 37 years and that it was still in wear and retained its color. We are also informed on good authority that there had been no silks of the same make and brand brought to the city, since the late William Wilson's time. We are told that he kept the same goods 40 years ago. We have them in three prices. Call were quite large for people so poor as
