More Efficiently and to save time, we have had Erected in our store Lamson's Cash Railway System. No recent invention has reached so Great a Popularity in so short a time.

It is the invention of a Retail Merchant in Lowell, Mass. In detail of construction it may be described briefly as a series of elevated rantways suspended from the ceiling in lines tadrating from the Cashier's Stand to the different parts of the store, and passing over the various counters so as to reach and serve every part of Our Large Store There are two tracks in each line, one of which is inclined towards the Cashter's desk, so as to convey the hollow balls containing the cash and checks from the Salesmen to the Cushter, and the other, which is inclined in the opposite direction, Leturus the balls to the Salesmen. Elevators are attached to the "down tracks" by means of which the balls are placed with ease and certainty on the track. and at convenient intervals on the "return tracks" are switches or gates which remove the balls, the latter being graduated in size to match the switches, at the stations where each belong.
