Daily British Whig

Night after night the editorial space of the News is occupied with something which is supposed to concern the Whig. But we can't comprehend its meaning. We doubt very much if the editor can himself tell what he means. He is evidently striving to speak in parables.

The Tories endeavour to make the young men believe that they have to thank Mr. Mowat for nothing, that he has not yet given them the franchise. Time enough for that. It was announced at the great Liberal convention held in Toronto prior to the last election—that if one of Mr. Mowat's election planks—that of the Government were sustained there would be an extension of the franchise. The return of the Liberals to power was to be accepted as a declaration of the people in favour of such a thing. Mr. Mowat is a man of his word. Before the next election the young men will have the votes they covet.

A remarkable circumstance is pointed out by the Winnipeg Sun, (independent.) In his speech the other night Sir Richard Cartwright urged the Dominion Government to encourage the construction of branch roads by granting free land subsidies; and, "strangely enough, right on the heels of this, came the semi-official announcement in the Toronto Mail that the Government had determined to adopt that policy. Sir John will doubtless claim that he adopted this course of his own motion, just as it has been contended in his behalf that the farmers' agitation had nothing to do with his partial surrender to their demands. "However, that may be," adds our vivacious Winnipeg contemporary, "the people of the North-West have to thank Sir Richard for his advocacy of the change, and probably they would not be far astray in believing that it was his speech, telegraphed to Ottawa, that actually brought it about."

FLIGHT ABOUT MONEY. Some light has been cast upon the manner in which Roswell P. Flower was boomed for the presidency, and further revelations are expected when the suit of Crittenden vs. Manning comes before the Buffalo courts. It seems that some time before the meeting of the convention to send delegates to Saratoga, Crittenden went to New York and had an interview with Mr. Flower. Soon after his return he received $600. Manning held Crittenden that the money had arrived and told Crittenden that he must surrender it, to be used in Flower's behalf; and Crittenden gave up $400. A few days later he called on Manning and demanded $200, saying that he had placed the first $300 where it would do the most good. Manning emphatically refused, and went so far as to accuse Crittenden of appropriating the money to his own use. A scene ensued and Crittenden went to a lawyer to see what could be done to recover the $400 in Manning's hands. Proceedings were begun, and a compromise was effected by which Crittenden received another $100. The Saratoga and Chicago conventions followed, and the Flower campaign came to an end. Now comes the suit in question. Dr. Crittenden says that Manning imposed on him by claiming to have a telegram from New York ordering him to take charge of the Flower fund in Buffalo, and that he (Crittenden) acted the fool in surrendering the $400. He will prove it when he is called to the witness stand.

When money is involved in connection with any political business there is no telling when there will be an explosion with more or less serious consequences. This wrangle between leading American politicians indicates the kind of principle by which some men are actuated, and the reason why they worry and sweat and exhaust themselves in every occurring campaign. Flower has been very highly esteemed in the circle in which he moved, and in Congress he performed his duties with credit and ability, but he was not in the fore front of party battle lines, he was not really known outside of New York, and he committed a dreadfully indiscreet act in consenting to the use of money as a popularizing and fame-pursuing agency. He will never hear the end of the scandal to which the Buffalo partisans have given rise.

DUPERRIN TO INDIA. The best prize in the gift of the Imperial Government, that which is most coveted by the public men of the British Empire, has been awarded, on merit, to Lord Dufferin. It is the place which all who have been cognizant of his brilliant career believed he would fill sooner or later, and it is the only elevation in the foreign service he could now receive, having filled all the important appointments leading up to it. In the capacity of a diplomat his first mission was to Syria in 1860, being instructed by Lord Palmerston to prosecute inquiries into the massacre of the Christians. In this capacity he acted with great firmness. Then he was Under Secretary of State for India from 1864 to 1868, and for a brief season Under Secretary of War. He was Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster from 1868 to 1872, and then by Gladstone sent to Canada as its Governor General. In this capacity he especially distinguished himself, displaying rare ability as a speaker and a judgment and tact of which his earlier course had not given promise. Such was the satisfaction of his rule that his term was extended a year, and his loss was only reconciled with his replacement by one who stood very near to the throne, and who, in the person of his royal wife, represented Her Majesty as she had not been represented in Canada before. After leaving Canada Lord Dufferin was the favorite ambassador of the British Government. He spent about a year in St. Petersburg, then went to Turkey, "and," as the biographer remarks, "displayed rare skill in his conduct of the negotiations for a military convention in reference to the Egyptian expedition, negotiations which came to an end in consequence of the success of our arms at Tel-el-Kebir." In 1882 he went to Cairo, there to assume the control of British relations with Egypt and the settlement of all questions growing out of Arabi's rebellion. This work engaged him until April, 1883.

Lord Dufferin's salary as Governor-General of India will be $125,000 per annum, exclusive of allowances amounting to $60,000. He, however, will have many responsibilities which he had not in Canada. The Government of India is exercised by the council of the Governor-General, which consists of six members. Five of these are appointed by the Crown, and the sixth is the Commander-in-Chief. Local matters are directed by a system of self-government, which has prevailed in India for many ages and has survived for local purposes, for erecting public buildings, keeping them in repair, etc., but with this exception all the power is in the hands of the Resident Magistrates, while in the Governor-General is vested the general government. Lord Dufferin is admirably fitted for his new appointment, and reform and improvement may be expected from him.

SPIRIT OF THE PRESS. Warning to the "News." No. 3. New York Sun. The wages of sin is death. Example for Little Puffers. Boston Courier. Boys do not smoke. The average life of a locomotive is only thirty years. Is There an Exception? London Spectator. The cold wave is like the policeman. It is never away when it is wanted. A Very Run-Up. London Advertiser. Sir John Macdonald claims to be a "run-up to go." Is that the reason he is going for old Jamaica? Good News for Theatre Goers. New York Evening Post. Theatre bouquets are made of black lace trimmed with deep red roses. These bouquets have no strings and are small. He Gives an Opinion. Dr. Grant in the West. Tried by literary canons, all the papers read at the meeting of the British Association cannot be praised. Some were intolerable. And they Got a Surprise. Toronto Telegram. It is a fact that members of the British Association were so certain that Canada was a cold country that they brought all their winter clothing with them. A Senesclus Denunciation. Ottawa Star. A Toronto independent paper observes that "the organ of Sir John Macdonald has kindly lent its assistance in making the Mowat demonstration a success by arousing the enthusiasm of the young men, which it does by denouncing them as rascals and loafers."

A BIGAMIST SKIPS. An Enoch Arden Case Excerpted St. Thomas. A Postscript. A sensational meeting of an erring husband and his wife took place on Saturday at St. Thomas. Samuel Heath left Owen Sound for Toronto sixteen years ago and after transacting his business wrote home saying he was going on a visit to Montreal. That was the last heard of him. Mrs. Heath devoted herself to the care of her child, removing to Hamilton. Heath reappeared in Owen Sound in the person of a burglar committed in Cobourg. After he was released, he went to Cayuga, thence to Hagersville, Simcoe and subsequently to Waterloo. As Samuel Stewart, he soon found employment as a clerk in the Post office. Miss Cora Villa Nova, two months ago when they were to St. Thomas. Heath's son also went to St. Thomas, to work on the C. & N. R., and while on a visit to him on Saturday the deserted wife recognized her husband, who was living in the house adjoining that in which her son boarded. The story was revealed to the second wife who immediately left the man and returned to her father. His two children accompanied her, while Heath was allowed to depart for St. Louis.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS

Reading, Pa., Sept. 12.—The moiders employed in the Manhattan Hardware Works in New York, because of a man living at $1.50 a day and only two or three days work per week.

That Man's Fate is Sealed. Toronto, Sept. 10.—Capt. Carriage and John Lambier, son of Peter Lambier, of Peter Lambier, of Gravenhurst, and another named Benyon, of St. Catharines, ranging from 17 to 20 years of age, attending the collegiate institute, hired a row boat to take a row on the canal towards Port Dalhousie, where they were returning to the city about 8 o'clock, and when about 400 yards below Lock No. 2 the steam yacht Lively, owned by the Duke of Devonshire, ran into and cut down their boat. All five were thrown into the water, and with the exception of Benyon, who clung to the bottom of the boat, were drowned. Efforts were at once made to recover the bodies, but up to 8 o'clock this morning only two, Lambier and McIntyre, had been recovered. Benyon, the young man who was saved, exonerates Capt. Chestnut of the Lively, from all blame. Benyon would then be careful and keep to the right, but before the yacht came up to them they pulled straight across their bows, and she struck them down to the centre, cutting the Lively's stern rowing, and in the excitement Lambier seems to have lost control of himself and stopped. It is thought Lambier was killed or stunned by the yacht striking him, as he was sitting directly on the line where the boat was struck. The bodies of McIntyre and Benyon were recovered between 10 and 11 this morning.

A HORRIBLE MURDER. A Railway Navy's Skull Crushed by His Companion—Victim Robbed. A horrible murder occurred on the 26th of July, at Jackfish Bay, Lake Superior. The victim was a navy's clerk, named Ryan, who was travelling on the Canadian Pacific Railway, and the murderer is believed to be another navy, who only worked a day or two a week to pay his board. John Collins, the victim, in 1881, was a clerk on the Canadian Pacific Railway, and the murderer is believed to be another navy, who only worked a day or two a week to pay his board. John Collins, the victim, in 1881, was a clerk on the Canadian Pacific Railway, and the murderer is believed to be another navy, who only worked a day or two a week to pay his board.

ROSEBERRY ON EMIGRATION. Denouncing the Government Emigration Schemes. The Hon. to America. London, Sept. 11.—The Earl of Rosebery, now in session at Aberdeen, denounced the government emigration scheme, which has for its object the sending of emigrants to the colonies, and diverting the tide of emigration from the United States. He said the government's scheme was fraught with the greatest danger, as he feared that as soon as the colonies became thickly settled they would become more independent of the Home Government, and establish a government of their own; besides, the speaker said the government will gain nothing from attempting to divert the attention of emigrants from the United States to the colonies, and that the greatest blessing mankind ever had bestowed upon them and England had more interests in the United States than in Canada, because more of her people emigrated thither.

LOSS BY THE FLOOD. Damage to the Chippewa Valley. Communication With Some Places Cut Off. Eau Claire, Wis., Sept. 12.—The Chicago, Milwaukee, and St. Paul railway will lose, in the Chippewa valley, half a million dollars' worth of property by the flood. The lumber companies, the mill owners, and the farmers are all suffering. The poor people, whose homes are swept away, the newspaper offices are all flooded, and no paper is issued. A man named Ehler was drowned while trying to rescue his sick wife. The cause and final cause of the disaster has been off from communication with each other except by way of Omaha bridge, five miles up the river.

AN ESCAPED PRISONER. Murphy Makes Himself Scarcely After He is Released for a Time by a Constable. Trenton, Sept. 11.—While constable Rottan, was taking Murphy from the prison to Cobourg jail yesterday the prisoner escaped and has not been seen since. He is believed to be in the neighborhood of Cobourg, and is thought to be in the hands of some of the poor people, whose homes are swept away. The newspaper offices are all flooded, and no paper is issued. A man named Ehler was drowned while trying to rescue his sick wife. The cause and final cause of the disaster has been off from communication with each other except by way of Omaha bridge, five miles up the river.

CHOLERA IN EUROPE. Each Day Brings Its Own Sufferings—New Cases Still Reported. Naples, Sept. 11.—The situation here continues most distressing. The epidemic increases hourly. The misery and suffering are appalling. The King was yesterday prevented from visiting the poorer quarters.

STRANGE STATEMENT. The Head of Washington Said to be Taken and Sold to France. Richmond, Sept. 12.—Henry Lamb, aged 97, died at Fairfax county recently. To his dying day he asserted that the vault containing the remains of Washington was violated and the skull carried to France, where it was sold to a firm of phenologists. He said French sailors committed the desecration.

A WEDDING RENAISSANCE. Canned Fruit Again Does the Honorable—Some People Will Die. Hursaid, Ill., September 12.—At the wedding of S. D. Stoner and Mrs. M. J. Scott last night, canned fruit poisoned seventeen persons, including the bride and minister. John Wilson, Justice of the Peace, and Mrs. Brodson will die.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS

Montreal races occur on Oct. 7th, 8th and 9th. There were 192 failures in the Lighted States in the past week. His Excellency will attend the Toronto Exhibition on Monday next. Lord Lansdowne has consented to open the Dominion and provincial exhibitions.

An American visitor to Montreal had his pocket picked of $30 at the Exhibition. The president of the trade assembly reports that there are 2,000 to 25,000 workmen idle in Cincinnati. Capt. Dunn, of the British steamer Harbinger, killed himself yesterday. His mind was deranged by illness. The cattle interests in Galveston are suffering severely in south western Texas in consequence of drought. The body of Private Henry, one of the Arctic explorers, has been stolen from the cemetery in which it was buried.

M. Annie Lewis, of Cleveland, has sent a challenge to the P. O. Gazette to fight any woman living for $1,000. The girl Katsenky, who attempted to murder a government official at Odessa, has been sentenced to twenty years' penal servitude. The Collector of Customs, Toronto, has received $200 consequence money, with a request that an acknowledgment be made through the press. Wm. Hooper, head miller for E. G. Sills, M.P.P., at Frankfort, while fooling with a pair of pistols, accidentally shot himself last night. He will recover. The Philadelphia telegraph, telephone and electric light companies have notified to place all their wires underground before the 1st of January next. Wm. Brown, jr., Boston, for 30 years bookkeeper of the Bay State Iron Co., has been arrested on a charge of embezzling $15,000. Opium, wine and women the cause. J. I. Squier, formerly private banker at Washington, committed suicide this morning by cutting his throat. He was heavily involved and was obliged to make an assignment a few months ago. There will be practically no autumn recess this year, as far as English politics are concerned. The Liberals continue to hold large meetings in all parts of the country and against the action of the House of Lords. The arrest of Capt. Dudley and two others of the wreck of the Miguonette is looked upon as a formality. No British jury can be brought to convict them of murder for saving their own lives by swimming the death of a doomed comrade. The first contingent of 300 stalwart boatmen, from the North-West for service in the Nile expedition, have arrived at Montreal, and gone into quarters on board the steamer King, which will be ordered to sail on Saturday for Egypt. The grain fleet of San Francisco amounts to 478,000 tons. At one time recently forty-nine ships were ready for sea in that port. California does not propose being caught with her arms in foreign countries. Dr. Horsey, of Chicago, is attending Mr. Gamble, an extensive real estate dealer, who was surprised when he found himself where he ought not to be. He was badly mutilated and injured, but will survive. A complete rupture between the Dominion Government and the Mail is believed to be imminent. This is partly owing to the stand Mr. Bunting has taken on the wages question, and his emphatic refusal to be bullied by the political leaders. A political philanthropist proposes to patent an oratorical gas meter for use during the present campaign. It is to be hoped that he will adopt a filter attachment in order to destroy a little of the noxious quality which seems to pervade the various grades of their gas. An agreement has been entered into by Charles Mitchell and Jack Burke, quantum antagonists on the turf in England, when one proved as good as the other, to box four rounds, Marquis of Queensberry's rules, in private at the York City Club, probably Madison Square Garden, within three weeks.
