The Agent at which Premium will come in creases during the year.

EXAMPLES.—1. A Policyholder entering life at age 25, being now 1888, 10 years of age, and having made all regular premiums, would stand to gain $1000 by the time he reached 35, if he had no further ordinary payments of premiums.

2. A Policyholder entering at the same time, and who had paid his first premium, would stand to gain $1000 by the time he reached 35, if he had no further ordinary payments of premiums.

3. A Policyholder entering at the same time, and who had paid his first premium, would stand to gain $1000 by the time he reached 35, if he had no further ordinary payments of premiums.

The "1000" was paid in 10 years and upwards according to age at policy, and thereafter.

The 100th year of the Canada Life Company will shortly come, and those having policies will have in those years profits at the interest in 1000.
