THE COURAGE OF DEATH.

Courage to leave tasks unfulfilled,
Purposes to work unbegun, unskilled,
In the life before thee lying.

Courage to go from all thou'st learned
To that Unknown, for which thou'st yearn'd
To shoulder not to think of trying

Courage to go from love thou'st known
Into the dark grave alone;
Unchangeable lot of living.

Oh! age to leave the goodly earth
For that new land of second birth
Revamped to regulate dying

Courage to leave the little past
For those vast years which shall last
Through Time's swift flight undying.

SUMMER HYMN.

The year draws near its golden-hearted prime,
Fulfilled of grandeur even but into grace
We seem to keep sweet terms of purpose climes
From ether halls through many a green-wood pass

The sovereign summer, robed and garlanded,
Looks, steeped in rainbow, up the unclouded skies
A crown, she wears, round her royal head
And lovely waves languor in her dreamy eyes

We quaff our fill of beauty, quaint, delight
But mid the entrancing tone a still voice saith,
If earth, heaven's shadow shows a face so bright,
What of God's summer past the straits of death?

BASE BALL MATCH.

Maple Leafs and Stars Have a Game—The Latters, Though the Highest Win the Honors.

Yesterday afternoon the first genuine base ball match of the season occurred on the cricket field between the Stars and Maple Leaf Clubs. The former club is composed largely of young men employed in city stores, while the latter is made up of mechanics. The Maple Leafs were the heaviest but what they lacked in muscle they made up in agility and skill. There were nine men on each side.

The game began about 4 o'clock. Chas. Wilkinson, umpire. The ground was not in good condition. The game opened with the Stars at the bat, but they returned with only one run. Two men gave "flies" that were easily taken by the Maple Leafs. Two of the Stars were out on first base. The rest of the team retired before they had got so far. The episode in the second innings of the Stars was a foul between the pitcher and first baseman. They both essayed to take a fly, struck each other below the belt and went to grass. Thus the game proceeded, each club retiring speedily. Not more than four men were in any of the innings up to the fifth.

In the Stars' third innings the left fielder for the Leafs made a handsome muff and when John Fisher, first baseman, attempted to gather in a ball from the pitcher's hand he was struck on the finger and had his nail split. He stepped out. In the Stars' fourth innings Little sent the ball into the park. He not only made a home run himself but brought in the two who were on bases.

The nine innings were played, but after the fifth the Maple Leafs seemed to have little style about them. There was no brilliant batting but some very good throwing. The pitching was very fair. The Stars spherical artist was certainly the best. Fouls were numerous, but they did not get within the range of the catcher or batsman. Young McLeod, for the Maple Leafs, was a good 'un behind the bat. He received many a chip from the ball, yet he winced not a bit. The result of the match was: 18 runs for the Stars and 6 for the Leafs. A second match will probably take place.

Baseball is again a favorite game with the younger portion of the community and various clubs are in active practice. The very little fellows have also clubs and challenge each other with considerable importance. One nine-year-old boy shouted to an opponent yesterday, "Are you ready to play us to-night? Our team are ready." The result was a match.

VISIT TO KINGSTON SPECIALISTS.

From the International Throat and Lung Institute, 173 Church street, Toronto, will be at the City Hotel, Kingston, two days, July 27 and 28. The surgeons will have with them a supply of Spirometers, the invention of M. Sauvilla, of Paris, ex-Aide Surgeon of the army, for the cure of Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption. Consultation and a trial of the Spirometer free. Don't fail to see the surgeons while here, as they make a specialty of diseases of the head, throat and lungs, and are curing thousands of cases every year that have been given up to die by the doctors in general practice. Crowds are visiting them in every town and city. As proof of our wonderful cures, we would refer you to Mr. Spike, Harrowsmith, P.O., near here, Consumption; H. Miles, Kingston, Asthma; Mr. Dalbenbaville, Ottawa, Catarrh; Eli Caverly, Aylmer, Ont., Consumption; J. D. Armstrong, Toronto, Catarrhal Deafness; Geo. Agar, New Edinburgh, Bronchitis and Lung Disease, and thousands of just as wonderful cures that we could refer to. For particulars write to 127 Church Street, Toronto, or 13 Philips' Square, Montreal.

DAVY JONES' LOCKER.

Every one has heard of "Davy Jones' locker," yet few know just who Davy Jones is and what his locker consists of. Old sailors are of the opinion that the locker is at the bottom of the sea, of course. Its mouth is between two gigantic mountains, whose sides gradually recede like those of a funnel, for hundreds of miles. All currents tend thitherward at a certain phase of the moon, and then every lost ship and every drowned sailor eventually drifts into the great submarine mouth. When angered by offences his unwritten laws, such as getting sail on Friday, carrying dead bodies, killing cats, dropping water butts, and the like, sailors believe that Davy will personally appear and demand satisfaction—sometimes being satisfied with the sacrifice of one man and sometimes pulling a ship and the crew down into his locker. Many sailors aver that they have seen Davy Jones.—New York Sun.

Burdett's Acid Phosphate is the unsurpassed therapeutical aid.

SCENE IN EDINBURGH.

Disturbance by Students in the Theatre Royal—Marched out by the City Police.

During the performance in the Theatre Royal, Edinburgh, of "My Sweetheart," by Miss Minnie Palmer and her Company, a serious disturbance occurred, which more than once threatened to create a panic among the audience. In one corner of the gallery, which was uncomfortably crowded, a band of about 30 students had secured seats, and from the very first their conduct showed that, to put it in the mildest possible form, they were bent on having a little fun on their own account. This they at first manifested by frequent jocular and good humored enough interruptions and mock kissing in imitation of the kissing of the heroine by "Tony," but as these interruptions evoked signs of disapprobation from the quieter portion of the audience, the students became more demonstrative. As the calls for "order" were disregarded by them, some equally mischievous spirits in the gallery left the theatre, and returned soon afterwards, armed with hard peas, which they began to throw at the students. An egg was also thrown among them, which did some damage to the hat of one of the University men. This naturally led to increased disorder, and the noise became so great that the curtain was rung down and the performance stopped. Cries were now raised for the ejectment of two of the ringleaders of the students, and on an attempt being made to carry this suggestion into effect a general fight took place, the students using their sticks freely during the scrimmage. Mr. Hastop, the manager, and several of the theatre employees, along with some policemen, now appeared in the gallery. The presence of the constables seemed only to increase the disturbance, and by unanimous consent it was resolved to endeavor to remove all the students who were in the gallery. They rounded the police, and a scene of the greatest confusion ensued which threatened to result in a general rush to the door by the larger portion of the audience. The pandemonium was very alarming, but as it was seen that the disturbance was really confined to one corner the people resumed their seats, and what might have proved a repetition of the recent disaster at Sunderland was happily averted. The officers now managed to seize several of the leading rioters, and removed them from the building, and as the students were passed along towards the door they had to run the gauntlet of two rows of enraged spectators, who cuffed and buffeted them unmercifully, although the police did all that was possible to protect them from this violence. The remainder of the students were then removed and comparative quiet was restored. A brief expression of regret for the disturbance was made from the stage, and after an interruption of nearly an hour's duration the performance was resumed. Nine of the students are now in custody.

LAND LEAGUE FUNDS.

Statement of Patrick Egan the Treasurer—It is Called in Question by O'Donovan Rossa.

Mr. Sullivan, President of the Irish National League of America, has been furnished a statement by Patrick Egan, Treasurer of the Irish Land League, of the total amount of money sent to Ireland during the last three years. It amounted to $337,000, or about $750,000, while in Ireland during the same period there was contributed for the same purpose $250,000, or nearly $1,140,000. This will doubtless surprise most people in this country, because it has been the common belief that Irish Americans had given most of the money used in the land reform agitation. But it seems to be the fact that Ireland has contributed nearly 50 per cent. more money for political agitation than has come from America.

The Chicago Tribune received the following telegram from New York: You say Patrick Egan denies my statement. I say my statements are more worthy of belief than Patrick Egan's. I stated in Chicago that money sent from America to support the no-rent movement in Ireland was followed over by some one who got $300,000 that was not used for any work in Ireland, and that Patrick knows all about it. I repeat my assertion. Will Patrick Egan meet me in presence of Congressman John F. Finerty and Dennis O'Connor, of Chicago, or in presence of Patrick Ford and Major Hogan, of New York, both of us answering all questions under oath?

O'DONOVAN ROSSA.

PRESS OPINIONS.

London, Ont., supports lotteries and suppresses the Salvation Army? While the Army's method of praying and pleading may be rather out of the way, it is scarcely so morally debasing as a lottery, no matter to what good use the unknown gains from the latter may be put.

AMENDING THE CROOKS ACT.

Hamilton Spectator: The latest proposition is so to amend the Crooks Act that the illegal buyer as well as the illegal seller of liquor shall be fined. It seems at first sight to be just, but the man who breaks the law simply and solely for the purpose of making a little more money than his competitors is innocent, in worse than he who breaks it to procure the means of satisfying a personal want.

NOT GIVEN FAIR PLAY.

The Salvation Army is evidently not getting fair play in London. The man who beat the big drum in the procession was fined for creating a disturbance by making an unusual noise, and in default of paying his fine was sent to prison. There is no justice in this. The Salvation Army has as good a right to walk in procession on the street and beat the big drum as has any other organization. Volunteers, Young Britons, Odd Fellows and other societies, are all permitted to have their brass bands, and there is no reason in the world for withholding from the Salvationists a like privilege, even on the Sabbath.—Toronto Telegram.

With Satisfaction.

Polson's Nervoline, the sure and certain pain cure, is used with satisfaction in every instance. There is abundant reason for this, for it performs all that is claimed for it. Nervoline is a never-failing cure for cramps, pains in the side or back, headaches, sore throat, chilblains, toothache. Nervoline is in fact a sure remedy for all pains, both internal and external. Try a 25 cent sample bottle at Polson and King's drug stores. Only 25c per bottle.

ALMOST A DISASTER.

A Montreal Excursion Steamer with Three Hundred Passengers Almost Wrecked—Wild Scene.

Three hundred passengers on a pleasure trip between Point Claire and Beauharnois, on the St. Lawrence, had a narrow escape on the 20th from being lost. They crossed over from Beauharnois in the morning to the fashionable Point Claire, and on returning in the evening the pilot of their steamer Beauharnois missed the channel, and ran her bow well upon a reef, creating great excitement and terror among the excursionists, chiefly women and children. After getting the excitement somewhat calmed down and utilizing the all inadequate life preservers on board, the vessel was backed into deep water, which began to flow into the front hold with fearful velocity. The captain retained his coolness and ran the steamer ashore, but as she was gradually sinking on the way and the fires going out from the flood of the water, a regular panic prevailed, while the vessel rolled violently from side to side. She at last sank in eight feet of water, her regular draught being three feet and a half only. Fortunately the condition of the vessel coming in was noticed on shore, when the inhabitants of the village turned out in their canoes, and with the aid of boats belonging to the steamer every soul was saved, the Captain being the last man to depart from his post of duty, where he acted with consummate coolness and judgment. There is no doubt a catastrophe like that at London a year ago would have happened in this case also but for the influence the Captain had over those on board. Their escape is miraculous. The boat was tremendously rebuilt last winter or she would have foundered instantly, as she was a very old craft, formerly employed for towing rafts on the river.

DAMIETTA.

Damietta, the Egyptian town where the cholera is doing deadly work, is a place of about 30,000 inhabitants, not far from Alexandria, near the mouth of the Nile. It is a dirty, squalid town, but contains some magnificent mosques and marble baths. The continental press declares that the British authorities have brutally mismanaged affairs at Damietta. They say that for months the stench from there has been offensive at a distance of ten miles. The water supply has for the same period been poured with carcasses of diseased cattle and when the cholera broke out, the remedy applied by English experience and humanity was to draw a cordon around town and imprison its inhabitants. There are three or four native doctors among them, and they are absolutely without sanitary resources or means of any kind to cope with the plague. The rich have bribed their way out through the cordon, and the rest are dying at the rate of seventy-five to a hundred a day. In the dispatches we learn that provisions have now run out and starvation is threatened. Under the circumstances it is not surprising to learn that recently a number of Europeans made a desperate attempt to get out of the pest hole by breaking through the cordon of troops. The British authorities ought at least to have seen to it that the town had good physicians and a sufficient supply of food before shutting it up from the world.

THE ENTERPRISE DISPLAY.

The Orangemen of Addington celebrated the 12th at the village of Enterprise, in the Township of Camden. There were eight lodges present, besides the Trenton Boys and O. Y. Britons. The Tucker band was present and gave satisfaction. There was a sermon by Rev. Mr. Smith, Presbyterian minister, and addresses by Rev. Sanderson, J. W. Bell, M.P. and others. The addresses, except J. W. Bell's, were very entertaining. He laboured hard to show how the noble Premier came forward and voted for the Orange Bill and did not secure its passage. Everything passed off quietly and all got home before the rain storm occurred.

A Certain Remedy for Corns.

This is the universal testimony and expressed by everyone who has used Putnam's Corn Extractor. Thousands in Canada have used it with gratifying results and if you will take the trouble to ask any druggist he will give you the names of many persons of your acquaintance who have been radically cured of the worst kind of corns. Sold everywhere. Safe, sure, painless, and reliable in composition. Try it. It never fails. Take no substitutes. Many of them are positively dangerous. Use Putnam's Corn Extractor.

Why Be Downcast?

True, you may be in a miserable condition—you may be weak, pallid, and nervous. You cannot sleep at night, nor enjoy your waking hours; yet, why lose heart? Get a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters. It will restore you to health and peace of mind.

Fine Rule Evidence.

"Often unable to attend business, being subject to serious disorder of the kidneys. After a long siege of sickness, tried Burdock Blood Bitters and was relieved by half a bottle." Mr. R. Turner, of Rochester, N.Y., takes the pain to write.

Pure, Squire's Acid Phosphates as a popular beverage and is useful at the same time for the stomach and nervous systems. It braces and invigorates the nerves, tones the stomach and is very good to any that are troubled with kidney troubles. Sold by W. J. Wilson "at the Pharmacy."

Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters tone the system of the poisonous humours that develops into Kidney and Urinary diseases, giving tone and vigor to the Stomach and purify the blood.

If you are tired taking the large old fashioned griping pills try Carter's Little Pills and take some comfort. A man can't stand everything.

Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters removes constipation, relieves dizziness, dispels sick headaches, abolish biliousness, and regulates the stomach, liver and bowels.

Consumption.—A cure well known in connection with the Hair Restorer, which restores grey hair to its natural color by a few weeks use. Sold at 50 cents a bottle by all druggists.

Impaired vigor of mind and body, in both male or female, old or young, cured by the timely use of Dr. R. C. West's Nerve and Brain Treatment. Sold by W. J. Wilson.

FAILING!

That is what a great many people are doing. They don't just know what is the matter, but they have a combination of aches and pains, and each month they grow worse.

The only sure remedy yet found is SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS, and this by rapid and thorough assimilation with the blood purifies and enriches it, and rich, strong blood flowing to every part of the system repairs the wasted tissues, drives out disease and gives health and strength.

This is why SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS will cure kidney and liver diseases, consumption, rheumatism, neuralgia, dyspepsia, biliousness, intermittent fevers &c.

Other of Edward Elliott, Wholesale and Retail Grocer, Cor. Queen and Bleurdonne Sts. Montreal, Nov. 9th, 1882.

I was a great sufferer from dyspepsia, and for several weeks could eat nothing and was growing weaker every day. I tried SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS, and am happy to say I now have a good appetite and am much better in every way.

EDWARD ELLIOTT.

SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS is not a drink and does not contain whisky. It is the only preparation of Iron that causes no injurious effects. See the genuine. Sold by all dealers. Price 50c.
