CITY AND VICINITY.

CAMP DATA.—The brigade camp will be held this year at Cobourg, commencing Sept. 1st, for 12 days.

PROBS.—Lakes light to moderate variable winds, fine warm weather, fine warm weather to-morrow.

POLICE COURT—TUESDAY.—The complaint against Wm. McCammon was withdrawn, he having promised to remove a puppy. Thomas Rowley, a Liverpool vagrant, who has been idling about the city for a week, was sent to the Central Prison for six months.

HEALTH OFFICERS.—The city having appointed a number of health officers it is to be hoped they will not lie in well doing, but distinguish themselves in making the city somewhat purer and sweeter. The cause at present is freighted with most disgusting odors.

EXCURSION RAILWAYS.—Late this afternoon the steamer Armstrong came into port with a large party of Brockvillians. They were a quiet and contented body of people, the young men being good lumpers and members of the church. They marched to leave, homeward bound, at 4.30 o'clock.

A NEW COMMITTEE.—One of the Special Committees appointed to secure a pastor for St. Andrew's Church, remarked last evening that a choice was not probable as things now went. "I am," said he, "bound to stick to my man if he don't carry for the summer." Perhaps a new Committee could surmount the difficulty.

TELEPHONIC TIDINGS.—Mr. R. Freeman has received orders to remove, with his gang, beyond Belleville. The poles have been put up from Kingston to within a few miles of Napanee. It is probable that Mr. Freeman will continue the work from Belleville Westward. The line between here and Toronto should be in operation next Fall.

THE WHITE SLAVE.—This is the title of a new and extremely interesting drama to be played in the Opera House to-morrow evening by the Fifth Avenue Company, under Mr. Lyttell's management. The eastern papers speak highly of the performance. The scenery is new and brought by the Company from New York.

KILLING THE FISH.—Complaints have been made of the way in which the fish in the lakes of this county are being destroyed. All manner of illegal nets have been committed. The only mode of fishing now permitted in Canadian waters, without special license, is by trolling upon rod and line. All nets found to be destroyed and the parties setting them punished.

AN ALLEGED SHOPLIFTER.

To-day there is great excitement in an uptown residence in consequence of a mysterious disappearance. Some time ago a GAY and festive agent sought a boarding house in which he would have the peace and comfort of home. He found such a spot and in due time appeared to enjoy it. He lingered about it to a most remarkable extent. It contained a magnet in the shape of a blooming maiden, shy and modest but with a most bewitching manner, and an eye which, in lover's phraseology, "penetrated to the inmost soul" of the aforesaid agent. An attachment sprang up between them; it was both strong and unborn, and the plans for a union of hearts and hands were speedily formed. At least we suppose so. They disappeared yesterday and left nothing to indicate in what direction they travelled. Some say they have drifted towards Gananoque, which has charmed more than one set of Kingston elopers. Some say they have located in Belleville, where there is no Salvation Army, where the churches are closed, the parsons out of town, and things in a bad shape for tieing the marriage knot if such has not already been done.

A HAT HAS A SUITOR.

A correspondent writes us: A passenger upon an excursion boat recently sat down at supper, placing his hat upon a chair beside him. He was later on asked for his fee, and handed a $1 bill. As the collector turned he spied the hat and asked who owned it. "I do," said the young man, a disciple of St. Crispin. "That'll be 35c. more," said the boatman. "All right, take it out of the bill," said the eater. By-and-bye the excursionist decided that the hat should have its supper. He filled the crown of it, deliberately walked to the side of the boat and threw the food into the water. He was remonstrated with and remarked that the next time he had to pay for what his hat ate he would have Clark Wright's Jumbo. The joke all round is so good that I thought you would appreciate it. Give it a place in your paper.

Through using a new sponge Dr. Corbett, of Ottawa, has had a serious affection of the eye, and is not expected to recover his sight. He left this morning for treatment by a Boston oculist.

AN IMPIOUS DISCUSSION.

How the Council Treated the Resolution of the Sabbath Reformation Society—The Army.

In contrast with the action of other Canadian Councils was that of Kingston last evening in relation to the Salvation Army. When the communication of the Sabbath Reformation Association came up there was considerable discussion relative to Sabbath desecration. It was generally felt that the communication had been sent to the wrong body. The Reformation Association should look after their complaints themselves. They were formed for that purpose and should lay informations and bring offenders to justice. The resolution referred to band music as a species of Sabbath breaking, and several thought this was a drive at the Salvation Army.

WAS THE ARMY MEANT?

Ald. Gildersleeve said that if the reference was intended for the Salvationists he had no sympathy with the Association. He had never attended any of the Army's services, but he was prepared to say that good had been accomplished by Capt. Abbie and her corps. If by the playing of the band poor sinners had been drawn to the meetings and made better all he could say was God speed it. (Hear, hear.) He objected to the Sabbath Reformation Association shirking their work and calling upon another body to do it. Every man should do his duty.

ALD. ALLEN AND THE CLERGY.

Ald. Allen said he was an outside pillar in the church, but he could see no harm in driving out on Sunday to see friends. He thought the gentleman who were crying so much about Sabbath desecration should take tambourines and go out and help along the work they were "called" to perform.

Ald. Creggan said the Salvation Army deserved encouragement. He believed it had done more good than all the churches in the city. Any person who could not listen to the air of "My Grandfather's Clock," sung to a hymn, must be awfully religious! The Council should not in any way interfere with the Armys good work.

WHO ARE THE HYPOCRITS?

Ald. McGuire was not a rigid Sabbatarian. He did not hold that a Sabbath should be one of misery, but one for the worship of God. It should not be made so that people would loath to see it come around. He thought there was a good deal of hypocrisy about many who proclaimed in favour of a rigid observance on the Holy Sabbath. In many cases the outside of the platter was kept cleaner than the inside. All should worship God as they pleased. If some wanted a band of music let them have it. He did not think that military bands played for religious objects on Sunday. He did approve of the endeavour to close livery stables. Many young men who never get out from Monday morning until Saturday night went for a drive on Sunday, for the purpose of health, and enjoyed themselves in a rational, reasonable, way. He would be sorry to see their liberty interrupted.

WORD FOR THE ASSOCIATION.

Ald. McIntyre did not think a thrust was made at the Salvation Army. He testified to the great good done by the Army.

Ald. Allen said he had recently read of a clergyman who drove 40 miles and preached several times on the Sabbath. He thought such a thing was brag. In his opinion the person who drove the horse should be taken up for cruelty to animals.

A CALM, PEACEFUL END.

Ald. Crothers protested against the suggestion that a thrust was intended at the Salvation Army. After Ald. Reden had made a similar remark the resolution of the Sabbath Reformationists was sent to the Police Commissioners.

CRICKET MATCH.

This morning the Napanee Cricket Club arrived here and put up at the Burnett House. Shortly after 10:30 o'clock they reached the cricket field where they were received by the local team and the wickets pitched. The day was favorable and the crease in good condition. The Kingstonians went to the bat first and did some favorable work. Only two reached doubles. The bowling of Gilbert took six wickets, three were caught and one run out. The scores made were:

KINGSTON.

Jones	2
Ireland	1
Worsley	15
Galloway	22
Lavis	3
Grout	2
Smith	4
Ainsworth	8
Eilbeck	0
Betts	0
Carson	1
Wales	2
Total	60

The umpires were J. Greenwood and C. Fields; scorers Col. Campbell and E. Holmes, Napanee.

The Napanee team went to the bat about 1 o'clock and did good execution. The bowlers were Galloway, Ireland and Smith. The score when we left the field was:

NAPANEE.

Briggs	28
Stewart	2
Richardson	18
Grant	18
Gilbert	2
Herring	2
Maybee	4
Preyn	1

Leonard and Macdonald were at the bat and had made 1 each; Boyes had yet to go in. Nine wides and byes were registered, making Napanee's score 76.

LATER—Napanee made 93 runs in their first innings.

The Picton people gave the Kingston excursionists a great reception yesterday. They turned out en masse to wave the visitors an adieu.

The bridge, according to law and the charter of the Cataraqui Company, must open at the draw to every boat which whistles for it. The bridgeman will please bear this in mind if he does not want a law suit on hand.

COUNCIL WHISPERINGS.

Some of the Thoughts That Flashed Through the Minds of our Learned Aldermen.

The publication of the Consolidated By-laws will soon be complete. There are only two instalments to be read by the City Council and then the work is done.

Mayor Livingston last night gave an account of how those who visited Sackets Harbor on July 4th were treated. He made special mention of the graceful way in which Ald. Shaw replied to the toast of the ladies. While the Mayor was addressing the Council Ald. Allen had a seat beside that of Ald. McIntyre. When he concluded Stonewall arose, bowed low and said he intended to pass between His Worship and the Council. He hoped he would not offend. Some people, he said, became very much annoyed when any one passed between them and the public. There was a laugh at this reference to dignity as practiced elsewhere.

It was pointed out that one of the old buildings to be removed by the extension of Bagot street had been insured. Ald. Allen wanted to know if it was insured for enough, as he hoped it would disappear in smoke some of these days.

Ald. Gildersleeve asked Ald. Allen if he meant the papers to notice his remark, to which he replied:

"Yes, if it'll have a good effect."

The old weigh-house, long an eyesore on the Market Square, will be razed at once. The new arrangements for weighing have not been decided. Ald. Allen protests against weighing being done in the shambles, because this place is already too small for the purposes to which it is devoted.

The Council has purchased three city directories.

"The city papas" were in excellent humor last evening and rushed the business through. They cleared up everything, and the probability is that they will not have another session for a month.

The Mayor's day is anxiously awaited by the Aldermen. This display will follow that given by Water Works Wilson.

The wretched condition of the Street Railway was discussed by the Council. The roadway between the tracks is in a dangerous state. It must be levelled at once. The Company should put down block pavement at the crossings.

Ald. Allen has been a member of the City Council for 31 years. Last evening he seemed to have a presentiment that he would not be long with the "boys." He gave them good advice and repeatedly urged them to retain as much power as they could, for if delegated to other bodies it would be taken from them.

BOUND FOR OTTAWA.

To-day the Uniformed Encampment left for Ottawa by the noon express. They paraded at their rooms. The following were the departing members:

Acting Chief—Capt. Geo. Lasher.
Sub Capt.—A. C. McMahon.
Junior Capt.—B. H. Carmovsky.
Comrades—E. Chatterton, Geo. Lee, S. Marshall, L. Milks, Geo. Young, P. Carmovsky, H. Sharp, W. Healy, J. E. Jones, Chester Woods, Jno. Anderson, A. G. Talbot, D. J. Funnell, Edwin Adams, J. Dalton, W. Dunn, R. Elliott, G. W. Robinson, Jas. Callaghan, Jno. Saunders, W. A. Coon, Geo. Becker, Christie Robinson, Jas. Jamieson.

The Oddfellows Grand Lodge is now in session in Ottawa. The following are the delegates from the city: Kingston Lodge, No. 57, Messrs. C. Robinson and E. Chatterton; Cataraqui Lodge, No. 10, R. Gage; Kingston Uniformed Encampment, J. B. Melver. The Uniformed Encampment will be met at Ottawa by a band.

The following is the programme for the annual communication of the Grand Encampment and Grand Lodge: Tuesday, meeting Grand Lodge; Wednesday, grand public demonstration; Thursday, Grand Lodge session continued; Friday, closing session of Grand Lodge.

W. J. Burns, the Chief of the Encampment, was unavoidably prevented from attending. His absence will be regretted.

MARINE NEWS.

The big side wheel tug Conqueror, after undergoing repairs, was launched off Power's Marine Railway this morning.

The barge Eagle, of the Montreal Transportation Company, which has been entirely renewed from keel to covering board, will be launched at once. She has a capacity of 23,000 bushels of grain.

Early yesterday morning a barge belonging to Hall & Co., Ogdensburg, completely carried away the pair of locks No. 5 on the Cornwall Canal. Local Superintendent McDonald immediately proceeded to investigate the extent of the damages and direct preliminaries for repairs. According to the telegrams received it will require from two to three days to repair the break; in other words, navigation through the canal will be stopped during that time.

One of the divers at the sunken schr. Sam Cooke relates that in raising a pile of lumber he disturbed some of the boards and immediately was surrounded by myriads of eels. He says they swam around and against him and did not exhibit the slightest fear. He has a good idea now of what is meant by the saying, "as slippery as an eel." He would catch them in his hands, but they slipped out as though he was trying to grasp a lot of quicksilver. There will be a lively time when the vessel is raised, as the diver says thousands of the snaky fish will come up with her.

A TRUTH ADMITTED.

On Saturday we said: "Some one across the way (in the News office) has snakes in his boots, and of course his brain is affected." Our contemporary, in noticing the item last night, said: "The truth of such an authority cannot be disputed." The admission is very kind though humiliating on the part of our custom. We must forgive his little weaknesses in future.

A LADIES' COLLEGE.

Use of the City Buildings for Tuition and Discussing Purposes—A Lively Discussion.

When the question of allowing the use of Ontario Hall for medical college purposes came up in the Council last night there was little opposition. A "round robin" had been signed by a majority granting the request of the Trustees. Ald. McIntyre, however, strongly dissented. He held that a most improper use was to be made of the building. No such structure on the continent had been a receptacle of corpses. He bowed to the judgment of many estimable citizens who had interested themselves in the scheme, but to his mind such an institution as a Woman's College was not an urgent demand of the age. The women themselves were not in favor of the college. Personally he would not consent to an outrage such as the College Trustees proposed. He referred to the way in which the Aldermen had been wheedled into signing the round robin and declared that if the rooms in the building were granted for such indecent purpose he would be one to have an injunction issued by the Court of Chancery. Ald. Downing offered the idea that if some ladies knew there were corpses in the building they would not attend any tea meetings or other entertainments there. They would be scared out of their lives. Ald. Allen spoiled this statement when he remarked that there were few women who seemed to be afraid of a live body, and they would certainly not be afraid of a dead one. The venerable Stonewall, who just stepped out but returned said: "I am glad I have come back. If I never had an other vote to give I would cast it in favor of the Ladies College. I am positive that my coronet of bright jewels will shine with greater lustre when I raise my voice to help this movement along. I believe the Ladies College is a great boon, the greatest that can be conferred on humanity. It is the great event of the age, and all I can do to help it along, to make the great and glorious scheme a success, shall be done. Ald. Allen thought the taxes paid by the poor would be much decreased by the presence of lady physicians. The hall was granted to the College by a vote of 11 to 8.

HIGH SCHOOL BOARD.

At 3 o'clock yesterday there was a meeting of the High School Board. All the members were present, we believe, but Mr. Pense, who, as Vice President of the Ontario Press Association, was obliged to leave by the noon train for Montreal. The Secretary presented a neat bundle of applications for the two vacancies in the teaching staff of the Institute. The relevance was that there was either a lawful or ex production in the manufactory of teachers, or that postables in connection with the King-ston School were greatly reduced. The consideration of the documents proceeded. Finally three nominations were made for the chair resigned by Mr. D. A. Gerrow and five for that late-ly held by Mr. T. Morton. These the Board will more fully consider, and from them make two selections at a subsequent meeting. The unsuccessful candidates will at once be notified of the action of the Board.

A GOSSIP RACKET.

There was a lukewarm case at a Gananoque's Court. David Keasy, aged 70 years, charged his nephew, a lad of 14, with killing six goslings. The parties lived in the rear of Leeds and two brothers were at loggerheads. The goslings were found in a stream on one of Keasey's farms. The evidence was not conclusive enough to convict the defendant and the trial cost the old fellow $2 65. One of the Keaseys had previously offered to pay for the goslings for the sake of peace, and for this the Magistrate complimented him. He thought it would have been better had the old goslings not aired their grievances over such a little matter.
